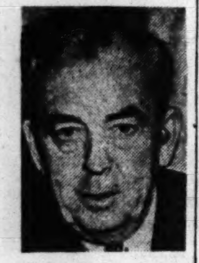
NAVY ORDERED TO TAKE PLANT

IMMEDIATE PAY TO SOLDIER KIN VOTED BY HOUSE

Senate to Consider Speedup Monday.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—The house today passed and sent to the senate a resolution to make it possible for the war and navy departments to begin payment immediately of allowances and allotments to dependents of men in the armed forces. The senate will consider the measure Monday. Approval is expected.



Rep. John E. Rankin.

The resolution was introduced by Rep. John E. Rankin [D., Miss.] as a result of a storm of protests against a provision of the dependents act, under which payments could not be made until after Nov. 1. In many quarters it was charged that political considerations were responsible for delaying payment until the eve of election, altho deductions are now being made from the pay of soldiers and sailors.

Only 28 Members Present.

Only 28 members of the house were on the floor when the resolution was passed by unanimous consent. Such consent was necessary because the house is operating under an informal agreement to take up only noncontroversial matters while most members are at home building political fences for the congressional election.

On the passage of his resolution, Rankin issued a statement in which he expressed the hope the senate will concur in the resolution. He hailed the passage as a great victory and "a measure of simple justice that will relieve untold suffering without costing this government a single dollar."

Rep. Andrew May [D., Ky.], chairman of the house military affairs committee, expressed the fear that the war department will not be ready to make the payments before Nov. 1.

Insists Navy Is Ready.

Rankin insisted that the navy is ready to make payments now and that the war department can speed up payments. If payments cannot be made before Nov. 1, said Rep. Herman P. Eberharter [D., Pa.], they should be put off until after the election.

"I hope the war department will be able to make the payments three or four weeks before Nov. 1," Eberharter told the house, "so congress will not be accused of playing politics. If I find out that the war department cannot make these payments I'll press for an amendment providing that the payments shall not be made until Nov. 4, after the election."

No Checks Before Nov. 1.

War department officials said that no large number of checks can be sent to dependents before Nov. 1.

The allotment and allowance bill became a law by Presidential signature June 23. For class A dependents—wives and children—$22 a month is deducted from the pay of each soldier. The government adds to this sum $28 for the wife plus $12 for the first child and $10 for each additional child. In the case of class B dependents—parents, sisters, brothers, and others—varying amounts are paid by the soldier and matched by the government.

Hears U-Boats Sank Atlantic Convoy Ships

LONDON, Aug. 14 [Friday]—(AP).—American and British survivors of ships sunk "in an intense attack by a large pack of submarines on an Atlantic convoy" were landed yesterday at a British port, the News Chronicle said today.

"Losses were suffered," the survivors were quoted as saying, "but the Germans are known to have lost some U-boats."

One survivor was reported to be Capt. T. H. Sunningham of Reno, Nev.

"Our convoy suffered heavily but the action was by no means one-sided," Sunningham was quoted by the newspaper as saying.

Big Convoy Arrives Safely.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug 14 [Friday].—Another American troop convoy, again described as one of the largest contingents ever to cross the Atlantic, has arrived in Britain without loss, it was reported today.

The new forces brought their own transport, artillery, and anti-aircraft guns and were said to have carried a formidable array of personal arms and equipment. They were escorted by American and British warships.

PRESIDENT ACTS WHEN STRIKERS REJECT PEACE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—President Roosevelt tonight ordered the secretary of the navy to take over operation of the General Cable corporation plant at Bayonne, N. J., after workers at the plant voted to continue their three day wildcat strike.

William H. Davis.

The President signed an executive order at 6 p. m., directing the navy to assume control of the plant.

The navy announced later that it will take over the plant tomorrow morning.

This action had been threatened earlier by William H. Davis, chairman of the War Labor board, in order to put the plant, which produces cable for the nation's armed forces, back into war production.

1,000 Out on Strike.

Approximately 1,000 employés of the plant have been on strike since Monday, altho the strike was not authorized by the AFL International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers with which the strikers are affiliated.

The strikers merely greeted Davis' threat of seizure by federal troops by shouting "let the government take over" and voted to continue the walkout, according to dispatches from Bayonne.

Employés of the plant struck in protest against a decision of the WLB which refused to sanction their demands for a 10 cent an hour wage increase and double pay for vacation periods.

Likened to Plane Strike.

Davis made his comments about the plant after leaving the White House. He described the work stoppage as the same situation the government faced last year at the North American Aviation corporation plant at Inglewood, Cal., where troops were used to break a strike.

There were reports also that the government may seize another General Cable plant at Perth Amboy, N. J., where employés threatened to strike in seeking a wage increase of 10 cents an hour.

The text of the President's order, as released later, said that the navy shall take possession of and operate the Bayonne plant until the President "determines that the plant of the General Cable company will be privately operated in a manner consistent with the war effort."

A "Serious Situation."

The White House also released the text of a report from the War Labor board in which the board declared "a very serious strike situation" had developed at the Bayonne plant, described unsuccessful efforts to have the strikers return to work, and advised Mr. Roosevelt to take appropriate action.

The WLB report recalled that by a vote of 7 to 2 on Aug. 5 it had recommended against demands of the union for a general wage increase at the plant. At midnight Aug. 10 the employés struck and the plant has remained closed, the report continued.

Strikers to "Work for Navy."

Bayonne, N. J., Aug. 13 (AP).—Informed that President Roosevelt had ordered the navy to take over the plant, 1,000 strikers at the General Cable corporation plant here promised to end the walkout that had tied

2 CHICAGO MARINES LOST ON LEXINGTON COMMENDED BY NAVY

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13 [Special].—Two marines from Chicago, two from other Illinois communities, and one from Wisconsin were among 18 posthumously commended by the navy today for setting "an example of courage and devotion to duty of the highest order" in the Coral sea battle, in which they were killed.

The Chicagoans were Henry Zemola, 1081 North Marshfield avenue, and Arthur W. Carson. The latter's street address was not given, his nearest kin being listed as a sister, Miss Emily M. Carson of Highland Park, Upper Darby, Pa.

The others were John M. Steele, Morris, Ill.; John R. Harshbarger, Hartford, Ill., whose parent live at Wood River, Ill., and Marvin B. Schluessel, Elkhorn, Wis.

The marines were aboard the aircraft carrier Lexington during the battle, which resulted in the loss of their ship. Their citations said they "remained at their posts efficiently performing their duties during the strafing, explosions, and torpedoes in the near vicinity" and that they "efficiently assisted in the defense of the Lexington by fast, accurate fire under extremely difficult circumstances."

DAUGHTER BORN TO LINDBERGHS; THEIR 5TH CHILD

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 13 [Special].—A 9 pound daughter was born today to Anne Morrow Lindbergh, wife of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, at the Henry Ford hospital.

The child was the Lindberghs' fifth and their second daughter. Col. Lindbergh has been in Detroit since early this year, as a technical engineer on airplane construction for the Ford Motor company.

The Lindberghs' eldest child, Charles Jr., was kidnaped and slain in 1932. Jon Morrow Lindbergh, their second child, was born Aug. 2, 1932, and Land Morrow on May 12, 1937. Their daughter, Anne Spencer, was born in New York, Oct. 2, 1940.

Call 7 Officers in Jury Quiz on Tribune Story

Seven naval officers were summoned to the federal building yesterday to discuss circumstances involved in the grand jury investigation, ordered by Attorney General Francis Biddle, into a Chicago Tribune story published June 7.

Whether the officers were taken before the summer federal grand jury now in session was not divulged. They disappeared into United States Attorney J. Albert Woll's office where the inquiry is centering under the direction of William De Witt Mitchell, the New York lawyer who was retained as special prosecutor in the case by the justice department.

Report Five Testify.

It was reported, however, that five of the officers had testified before the grand jury. Mitchell said at the end of the day he expected to finish up with the navy men at today's session. The jury will not sit tomorrow, and so, according to the prosecutor, no important Chicagoans will be called before Monday.

Woll's office is on the fourth floor of the courthouse. It has access to the grand jury room and witnesses may be taken before that body without persons in the outside corridor seeing them.

Estimate of Jap Fleet.

The inquiry was ordered, according to Biddle's announcement several days ago, to determine whether espionage laws had been violated. The story in question gave a probable estimate of the makeup of the Jap fleet which attempted with disastrous results to attack Midway Island.

Stanley Johnston, Tribune war correspondent and naval expert who wrote the famous series on the battle of the Coral sea, furnished the information for the article which the navy contends revealed "confidential information." The charge was pressed after the bureau of censorship determined there was no violation of the censor's code.

Johnston was aboard the aircraft carrier Lexington during the Coral sea engagement and helped rescue several of his mates when the big ship, which sank later, caught fire.

Two Aboard Lexington.

Two of the officers who were on the Lexington during that last voyage and fight were among those who appeared at the federal building yesterday. They were Rear Adm. Frederick C. Sherman, the captain in command of the carrier, who has since been promoted because of his valor, and Commander M. T. Seligman, chief executive officer.

Neither officer would discuss the case nor say whether he had been before the grand jury. Seligman, who was injured in the battle, walked with a limp, and said he expected to return to the United States naval hospital at San Diego, Cal.

The other officers who appeared declined to give out their names. They were two lieutenant commanders, two lieutenants senior grade E, and one lieutenant junior grade.

Members of Grand Jury.

John O. Holmes, colored, 110 York avenue, Joliet, foreman; Mrs. Florence H. Baum, 1225 Lafayette avenue, La Salle, secretary; Arthur L. Anderson, 710 Haish avenue, De Kalb; Mrs. Caroline O. Bouchard, 12 East 138th street, Riverside Station; Mrs. Elsie Doe, 1611 North Meade avenue; Mrs. Gertrude L. Frisbie, 228 Union street, Joliet; Mrs. Ella Henry, Cary, McHenry county; J. Iacopetti, 2711 North Marshfield avenue; Mrs. Marie Kiehn, 426 South Kenilworth avenue, Elmhurst; Albert E. Kinson, 706 Plainfield street, Joliet.

Ernest H. Koerner, Frankfort, Will county; Mrs. Esther Larson, 135 Martha street, Lombard; Nels Nelson, 443 West Judd street, Woodstock; Arthur Papke, New Lenox, Will county; Roscoe R. Rau, 493 Cottage avenue, Glen Ellyn; Miss Fay Robinson, 742 North Lake street, Aurora; Mrs. Florence Rudiger, 714 Lee street, Des Plaines; Arthur Sippel, Monee, Will county; Mrs. Marie H. Suthers, 11111 South Hoyne avenue; Clyde Reynolds, Three Oaks road, Cary, McHenry county.

STOP PLAYING WITH YOUR BREAD, BRITONS TOLD BY FOOD CHIEF

LONDON, Aug. 13.—Lord Woolton, food minister, today denounced thoughtless Britons who "toy with bread and rolls" served in homes and restaurants. "If you saw, as I see every day, the sinking of ships and had the imagination to think of the men and their families involved in these sinkings, you would not toy with bread," he said.

As a precaution against dislocation of transport services in an invasion or renewed heavy bombings, the food ministry has ordered grocers to hold at least two weeks' emergency stocks of sugar, tea, preserves, margarine, and cooking fats. Retailers who do not keep a fortnight's stock on hand are liable to prosecution.

BLAST FOE IN 3 ATTACKS; NAZIS GAIN 50 MI. IN RUSSIA

FOUR WAR FRONTS

On the back page of today's issue appears a color map of Asia, Europe, and contiguous land and sea areas, showing the locations of major war fronts—in Russia, in North Africa, in the southwest Pacific, and in the Aleutian Islands.

(Map on page 10.)

MOSCOW, Aug. 14 [Friday]—(AP).—German troops in a swift 50 mile advance into the Caucasus have reached Mineralnye Vody, only 140 air line miles from the rich Russian oil wells of Grozny, the soviets acknowledged officially early today. It was also announced that heavy fighting has broken out on the long dormant front northwest of Moscow.

A Nazi column swinging southeastward along the Rostov-Baku railway rolled thru Russian positions in the Cherkessk area to reach Mineralnye Vody. By road Grozny lies approximately 180 miles farther.

Mineralnye Vody is almost 150 miles east of the Maikop oil fields, which the Germans reached some days ago. [The Nazis recently announced the capture of Pyatigorsk, 25 miles east of Mineralnye Vody.]

Battle Near Kotelnikovo.

The midnight communique otherwise indicated little change in Russia's situation. The Red army still was battling the Nazis northeast of Kotelnikovo, 95 miles southwest of Stalingrad, and in the Kletskaya area, 75 miles northwest of Stalingrad, inside the Don river bend. Both areas are bulwarks to the approaches to Stalingrad on the Volga and Astrakhan on the Caspian sea.

In the western Caucasus the soviets said their troops still were fighting in the Maikop-Krasnodar sectors in an effort to prevent a German break-thru to the Black sea.

[The Vichy radio was reported broadcasting German reports that the first defenses of Stalingrad had been pierced and that Nazi troops also had made contact with the outer defenses of Novorossisk, Russian naval base on the Black sea.]

Aim for Caspian Sea.

Fighting on the banks of a river [perhaps the Kuban] in the Krasnodar area, 60 miles from the Black sea, the Russians said their troops killed 3,000 Germans, destroyed 70 tanks and 84 trucks, and knocked out two enemy bridges across the stream.

The Russians again referred to the "numerically superior enemy forces" in both the Don river loop and the Mineralnye Vody fighting. The latter appeared still to be the most dangerous German drive of all, for the Nazis were half way across the Caucasus in the drive to the Caspian sea.

Rout Nazis at Voronezh.

At Voronezh, 300 miles northwest of Stalingrad, Russians said the 222d German infantry regiment of the 75th Nazi division was routed and that the Red army had occupied another populated point. Supporting soviet airmen were said to have wiped out an entire German battalion.

Aside from the reported fighting northwest of Moscow, the Russians also were engaged on the Bryansk front, 220 miles southwest of the soviet capital.

150 Miles from Caspian: Nazis.

BERLIN, Aug. 13 [from German broadcasts]—(AP).—Motorized German infantry has swept across the northeast Caucasian steppe below the Don to capture Elista, within 150 miles of the Caspian sea, the German high command announced today.

The same communique announced that German forces were engaged in "a heavy defensive struggle" against attacking forces on the upper Moscow front, both southeast and north of Rzhev.

GEN. MacARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Australia, Aug. 14 [Friday]—(AP).—Japanese warships and transports, apparently intended to reënforce the Solomon Islands garrisons under attack by American marines, were attacked three times yesterday by allied bombers "in the New Guinea area," it was announced today.

The communique issued here indicated that the Solomons battle was spreading rapidly in scope now that the American marines had gained secure footholds on three of the islands 600 miles east of New Guinea, and that what began merely as an important task problem had now widened into a battle of major proportions likely to influence heavily the turn of war on the whole Pacific war scene.

[A New York Times dispatch from Auckland, New Zealand, said air fields and most important Japanese establishments in the Tulagi area of the Solomons are believed to be in American control.]

3 Jap Planes Downed.

Three Japanese fighter planes were shot down and three were damaged in unsuccessful efforts to fend off the Flying Fortress and other bombers that pounced on the Japanese ships. Results of the allied daylight attacks in the New Guinea area [west of the Solomons] could not be determined immediately because of bad weather, the communique said, but all the allied planes returned, altho some were damaged.

[Imperial headquarters in Tokio said in a communique today that Japanese naval forces in the battle of the Solomon Islands had sunk 13 British and American cruisers, 9 destroyers, 3 submarines, and 10 transports. (These figures were without confirmation from any source.)]

In an attack Wednesday on Rabaul, the big Japanese New Britain base northwest of the Solomons, allied planes had knocked out four Japanese ships in continuing their support of Vice Admiral Ghormley's air-naval-land forces attacking in the Solomons.

Six Zero [fighter] planes escorting Japanese ships yesterday tried to intercept the Flying Fortress and medium allied bombers in their first sweep. Two of them were shot down and three were damaged.

Seven more Japanese fighters engaged the allied craft during the second bombing run, one of them being destroyed. No aerial interference was met in the third attack.

The destination of the Japanese warships and transports appeared to be the Solomons. They were sighted at sea between New Guinea and the Solomons, the communique indicated, because this latest raid admittedly was not on stationary targets in a New Guinea or New Britain port, as previous attacks have been.

Eighth Day of Attacks.

It was the eighth successive day that Gen. MacArthur's supporting flyers have carried out long range attacks, but until today those attacks had been confined to Japanese land bases above and west of the Solomons. The attacks began the same day as the main allied thrust at the Solomons last Friday.

Latest reports indicated that the leathernecks were making steady progress against fierce resistance.

Observers here surmised that allied warships were bringing up fresh reenforcements and landing them under cover of heavy barrages.

While only meager details were filtering back from the fighting zone, reports indicated that the American "devil dogs" were slowly closing in on the key Tulagi harbor.

It was believed here that the marines were attacking the enemy on Florida, Guadalcanal, and Malaita Islands in the southeast Solomons.

"Battle Proceeds in Solomons."

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13 (AP).—The navy announced today that "operations are continuing in the Solomon Islands area."

This was the only information given out here as the battle between American air, sea, and land forces, and Japanese defenders of the Solomons raged thru its seventh day.

CALLS FOR FIGHT ON 'THIRD FRONT' TO PRESERVE U. S.

Rep. Harness Warns of New Smear Attacks.

Oliver Lake, Ind., Aug. 13 [Special].—While strategists of the united nations plan a second front, Americans here at home are engaged in a serious "third front" battle to preserve constitutional government and the American way of life, Rep. Forest A. Harness [R., Ind.], said here tonight.

Rep. Harness, a member of the house committee on military affairs, was the principal speaker at a picnic and rally of Northern Indiana Republicans. Judge Dan C. Flanagan of the Indiana Appellate court presided at the rally and guests of honor included United States Sen. Raymond E. Willis [R., Ind.], Republican State Chairman Ralph F. Gates, Mayor Harry W. Baals of Fort Wayne and candidates for state, county, and city offices thruout the state.

Predicts New Deal Drive.

From the manner in which the pattern of the coming political campaign is taking shape it is possible to predict an intensive drive to try to sell the American people "the preposterous idea that there must be no criticism of the administration," and that the President must have an overwhelming majority in both houses of congress if the war is to be prosecuted successfully, Rep. Harness said.

An equally strong effort will be made, the speaker predicted, to stamp the blame for our entry into the war and for our grave unpreparedness and failures to date upon those who have opposed the President in any way.

Calls Strategy Unsound.

"As Americans and Republicans we must make every possible effort to expose and destroy this obviously illogical, unsound, and unfair strategy at the very outset of the campaign," Rep. Harness declared. "These aren't rational issues. They are the worst kind of emotionalism that will arouse strife, bitterness, confusion, and disunity at the time when our very national existence depends upon our ability to keep cool, think straight, and pull together."

ANNOUNCE SHIFTS IN COMMAND OF ARMY FIELD UNITS

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13 (AP).—The assignment of Col. Elbridge G. Chapman Jr. of Arcadia, Cal., to command the air borne command at Fort Bragg, N. C., in succession to Brig. Gen. William C. Lee, was announced by the war department today.

Gen. Lee was assigned last week to command the 101st air borne division, one of two streamlined and completely air borne divisions now being organized.

Maj. Gen. C. L. Scott of Uriah, Ala., who returned recently from a tour of duty in Egypt as an observer, has been assigned to command the armored force replacement training center at Fort Knox, Ky., it was announced. He succeeds Brig. Gen. Thompson Lawrence of New York City, who will remain at Fort Knox as a member of the headquarters staff of the armored force.

Secretary of War Henry Stimson also announced that on a single day recently the war department contracted for 880,000 trucks and trailers of various types, estimated to cost more than 1 billion 500 million dollars, with 41 manufacturers receiving awards. Most of the new vehicles will have wood bodies, effecting an estimated saving of 75,000 tons of steel this year and 350,000 tons next year.

TWO BOYS DROWN IN RIVER.

Rockford, Ill., Aug. 13 [Special].—Frank Sigretti, 10 years old, and Donald Alberty, 14, were drowned in Rock river today, while John Koplos, 11, and Orley Pearce, 14, managed to reach shore, when a log on which the four were riding rolled over.

NAVAL FIREMAN CITED FOR FIRING ON JAP PLANES

Robert Wesley Stoner, 23 years old, commended Wednesday by Secretary of the Navy Knox for heroism, was a fireman first class on the U. S. S. Pecos, naval tanker which was sunk last March near Java while carrying survivors of the aircraft tender Langley, his father said yesterday.

The father, Wilbur M. Stoner, 2859 Madison street, a real estate broker, said the youth came up from his post below decks while the Pecos was under fire, grabbed a machine gun, and apparently hit two Japanese planes before a regular gunner arrived to replace him.

Young Stoner, a graduate of Maine Township High school, joined the navy Jan. 12, 1938. The father, a veteran of 10 years' service in the navy, said when last heard from his son was on the west coast awaiting an assignment. He was in Chicago April 20 to May 10 on furlough.

ASKS QUIZ TO SEE IF KNOX USES JOB TO AID HIS PAPER

House Inquiry by 5 Man Panel Is Urged.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13 (AP).—Rep. Clare Hoffman [R., Mich.] urged the house today to order an investigation of charges made by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE that Navy Secretary Frank Knox "has used his official position for the advantage of his own newspaper published in Chicago."

Rep. Clare Hoffman.

Knox is president of the Chicago Daily News, Inc.

Hoffman introduced a resolution asking the speaker to appoint a "nonpartisan" committee of five representatives to inquire into the charges, which he said THE TRIBUNE made after a grand jury investigation had been ordered of a story published by THE TRIBUNE and two other papers containing allegedly confidential naval information.

Urged by Knox.

Hoffman said in the house that the grand jury investigation was ordered by Attorney General Francis Biddle on the recommendation of Knox.

THE TRIBUNE charge against Knox, Hoffman said, "tends to affect unfavorably the morale of the armed forces of the United States" and "if true demonstrates that secretary of the navy, Frank Knox, is unfit for his office."

The committee would be required to report its findings within 60 days.

In a statement accompanying the resolution, Hoffman also suggested that the attorney general investigate The Tribune charge.

Praises The Tribune.

"Instead of calling to account publications like the New Republic, PM, and others which are falsely and viciously making attacks upon congress and individual congressmen, and flooding some districts with propaganda which must bring joy to the heart of Hitler," Hoffman asserted, "the attorney general threatens to investigate THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE."

"THE TRIBUNE," he added, "has long enjoyed a reputation for factual statement, patriotic utterances."

"It is time," he said, "that we get together, cease fighting among ourselves and devote our whole attention to our common enemy. But that day will never arrive until those who are using the war to establish their own political theories; until those who are using the war to overthrow our government; until those who are using the war to purge all who believe in the United States of America quit the course which they have been following."

Asks About Johnston Citation.

Hoffman recalled that Stanley Johnston, author of The Tribune series, was commended "for his patriotic service" and recommended for a citation for his bravery while on the aircraft carrier Lexington.

"But to date the citation has not come thru," and he added:

"Is Secretary of the Navy Knox holding it up?

"If the attorney general thinks the publication of the truth, long after it would be of any value to the enemy, gives aid and comfort to that enemy, what does he think of the charge that the secretary of the navy is using his office not only for political but for commercial purposes?" he asked. "We heard not a little in days gone by about driving the money changers from the temple. What about getting them out of the administration?

"It is time," he declared, "that those who are hurling the charge of disloyalty at loyal, patriotic citizens cease their shouting, bend their backs to the task which confronts us, and contribute something to the war effort. It is time that the administration call off those who are persecuting individuals and publications who are telling the truth about the incompetency of those in charge."

ICKES SAYS TRIBUNE 'WAS' AND 'IS' GIVING COMFORT TO ENEMY

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13. (AP).—Secretary Harold Ickes told his press conference today in response to questions that "in my view, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE was giving aid and comfort to the enemy."

The interior secretary had been asked by a reporter whether he 'believed that at this point, it has been established that THE TRIBUNE has given aid and comfort to the enemy," he replied:

"In my view, it has. I am only asked for my own opinion—not only has but is continuing to do it."

When a reporter inquierd "How do you feel about the prosecution of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE?" Ickes said:

"Well, I think that any one that gives aid and comfort to the enemy, regardless of wealth and standing, or business, or profession, ought to be prosecuted to the full extent of the law, and I think that particularly we don't want any impression to grow in this country that the little fellow can get soaked and the big fellow can go scot free."

AEF to Get Instruction in Foreign Languages

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13 (AP).—American soldiers leaving for service where foreign languages are spoken will be taught—with talking machine records—at least enough to say, "Good day," and ask, "How much does this cost?" The war department said today.

PLACE FIGHTERS AHEAD OF PARTY, BROOKS URGES

There must be no politics in backing up America's fighting men and women, Sen. Wayland Brooks said last night at the eighth annual outing in honor of William N. Erickson, a Republican member of the Cook county board. The outing was held at the Techny Fields Golf club in Northbrook. More than 2,000 friends of Erickson attended.

"Altho we meet as Republicans," said Sen. Brooks, "we must remember that there are more than 250,000 sons and daughters of Illinois already in service. Everything we do, regardless of political consequences, must be to back them up and to preserve the American liberties for which they are fighting."

DENIES WRECKING PISTON MOLDS IN MUSKEGON PLANT

Cox had said that he damaged the parts "in a fit of rage" over what he described as a union ordered slowdown.

Germans 'Exaggerate'

LONDON, Aug. 13 (AP).—Blatant axis claims of continuing, damaging attacks on a major allied convoy in the western Mediterranean were branded "inaccurate" by the admiralty tonight and United States naval headquarters declined to comment on a German assertion that the United States carrier Wasp had been set afire by six bomb hits and was trying to reach Malta.

German and Italian claims that two cruisers, a destroyer, and nine steamers had been sunk brought this statement from the admiralty:

"Tonight's official announcements [on losses] are inaccurate and no reliance should be placed in them."

Expect Official Report.

An official British report is expected tomorrow. None of the axis claims was confirmed from any other source.

[The 14,700 ton carrier Wasp, completed April 25, 1940, carried a normal complement of 72 planes, maximum 84, and 1,800 men, including flying personnel.]

Yanks Blast 3 Cruisers.

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 13 (AP).—United States bombers severely damaged three Italian cruisers found at Pylos, Greek harbor on the Ionian sea, at a cautious distance from the convoy battle raging in the Mediterranean.

The results of the attack were announced today as:

Two direct hits on one cruiser, followed by a terrific explosion; a second cruiser set fire with columns of black smoke pouring from her; a third cruiser damaged by an explosion. A fourth Italian cruiser apparently escaped undamaged.

The four motored bombers flew a 1,300 mile round trip, returning in darkness to bases either in Egypt or Cyprus, which are about equal distance from the west coast of Greece.

Berlin Version

BERLIN, Aug. 13 [from German broadcasts]—(AP).—The German high command announced today that the United States aircraft carrier Wasp had been set afire by six direct bomb hits and now "is trying to reach Malta" as a result of a running attack by German and Italian air and naval units on a big allied Mediterranean convoy.

Carrier Damaged: Nazis.

The Germans said that in addition to the destruction of the British aircraft carrier Eagle, nine freighters totaling 90,000 tons, had been sunk. Damaged along with the Wasp, they said, were the 22,450 ton British aircraft carrier Furious, three cruisers, and six large freighters and tankers.

"The convoy was dispersed," said the special high command communique. "The greatest part of the protective forces is sailing back westward."

The announcement said that the convoy consisted of 46 ships in all, counting an escort of three battleships, four aircraft carriers, and numerous cruisers and destroyers.

Claim 2 Cruisers Sunk.

ROME, Aug. 13 [from Italian broadcasts]—(AP).—A special Italian communique today declared the Italian navy had sunk one cruiser and three ships and that axis air forces had sunk another cruiser, a destroyer, and three other ships in the Mediterranean convoy battle.

Charge Air Liner Strafed.

ALGIERS, Algeria, Aug. 13 (AP).—French authorities charged tonight that a British fighter plane strafed the regular Marseilles-Algiers Air France seaplane today in the vicinity of the western Mediterranean convoy battle, killing one passenger and seriously wounding seven other persons.

AUSSIE FLYERS SINK 2 OF ROMMEL'S SUPPLY SHIPS IN AFRICA WAR

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 13 (AP).—Light bombers of the Australian air force today attacked enemy motor lighters used to supply German Marshal Erwin Rommel's army and sank two in an action several hours after medium RAF bombers carried out a series of attacks on the axis Island of Rhodes.

The two lighters brought to 13 sunk and two probably sunk the total bag of this squadron against the enemy lighters, which have been used increasingly in the last month.

The main feature of last night's air war was the thrust at Rhodes. Bombs straddled 30 axis planes at Calato air field and four fires were started. The RAF also attacked Tobruk and Sollum harbors.

Meanwhile, the ground situation was ominously quiet in the desert.

TELLS U. S. PLAN: '2D FRONT AS SOON AS WE'RE READY'

LONDON, Aug. 14 [Friday]—(AP).—Maj. Gen. Mark W. Clark, chief of United States infantry forces in Britain, said today that "Russia's armies must forever be in a position to hammer at Germany from one side while we hammer at the other."

"We have but one plan over here and that is to take the offensive as soon as feasible," he said in a broadcast timed to be heard in the United States last night. He added, however, that the question of shipping and supply was the major problem for a second front.

"An army must have a steady flow of men and material to be successful in action," he emphasized.

2 CUBAN SHIPS SUNK BY SUBS IN GULF OF MEXICO

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13 (AP).—Destruction of two small Cuban merchantmen by submarines in the Gulf of Mexico was announced today by the Cuban navy general staff.

The Cuban navy staff reported the ships sunk in the gulf were the 1,685 ton Santiago de Cuba and the 1,025 ton Manzanillo, and that five crewmen were known dead and 26 others missing. All but three of 27 seamen who were rescued were landed at Key West, Fla., the navy said.

The latest U-boat victims boosted to 422 the Associated Press count of announced sinkings in the western Atlantic since America's entry into the war. In these sinkings 2,374 are known dead, 1,656 missing, and 12,938 rescued.

SHIP BATTLES 3 DAY AIR ATTACK BY NAZIS TO REACH MURMANSK

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 13 (AP).—During her recent trip to Murmansk to be turned over to Russian authorities, the Canadian icebreaker Montcalm was under Nazi bombing attacks for three successive days but escaped damage and "assisted in downing two of the attacking aircraft," the transport department announced today.

Two aerial torpedoes narrowly missed the craft.

The statement was based on a report from Capt. Fred S. Slocombe of Toronto, who commanded the Montcalm and reported back to the transport department only yesterday.

HOW TORPEDOED EAGLE SANK IN MEDITERRANEAN

[This first eyewitness account of the sinking of the 22,600 ton British aircraft carrier Eagle in the Mediterranean, announced by the British admiralty yesterday, was written for Reuters, British news agency, and the Associated Press by a Reuters correspondent.]

BY ARTHUR THORPE.

GIBRALTAR, Aug. 13 (AP).—I am a lucky man to be alive.

Clinging to a cork float with six sailors, one of whom had a broken leg, and with waves capped by thick oily scum washing over us, I saw the Eagle sink in the western Mediterranean with a thunderous rumbling noise after she was struck by four torpedoes.

I was in an anteroom with three officers soon after 1 p. m. when two explosions shook me out of my chair. We knew what they meant and leaped to the door. As we opened it two more violent explosions rocked the aircraft carrier.

Shells Tumble Over Deck.

We heard steam hissing viciously and saw clouds pouring up from below into the broad aft deck across which we were running. The sea, normally 10 feet below the rails, was surging ominously a bare 2 feet below them.

We reached the quarterdeck, hauling ourselves up the steeply sloping deck to the starboard side, which was highest from the water. Six inch shells weighing 100 pounds tore loose from their brackets and tumbled down the deck which by then tilted like a cliff. Sailors saw them coming and flung themselves into the water to escape injury.

Several sailors clambered toward us. They fastened a stout rope to the deck and slithered down it into the thick oil which welled out from under the ship.

Waves Wash Over Head.

I slid down, too, and went under the waves. When I rose to the surface I realized with horror that I had not put enough air in my lifebelt. My head was barely above the water. As I kicked clear of the oil patch, the sea became choppy and every wave washed over my head until I gave myself up for lost.

Then I saw a glorious sight—a cork float 20 yards off with sailors clinging around it. I fought madly to reach it.

The sailors were trying to loosen the ropes so they could open the float, tied up like a round bundle, but their oily fingers made the task impossible.

Depth Charges Explode.

The Eagle, 200 yards away by this time, was lying on her side with men still swarming like ants against her great bulk as they slid down into the sea.

I felt a sudden shock at the base of my spine. It was a depth charge. Six or seven times this curious shock from below the water shook us.

"She's going," gasped one of the men near me.

Then came a mightly rumbling as the sea poured into the Eagle, forcing out the air. Water threshed above her in a fury of white foam, then subsided. A destroyer picked us up a few minutes later.

PARENTS GET 2 MEDALS AWARDED TO SON WHO DIED IN BURNING PLANE

New York, Aug. 13 (AP).—Mr. and Mrs. Russell M. Church of Dumont, N. J., today received the distinguished service cross and soldier's medal awarded posthumously to their son, First Lieut. Russell M. Church Jr. Lieut. Church, 24 years old, was killed when he carried out a dive-bombing attack in a burning plane.

The action took place near Vigan, the Philippine Islands, on Dec. 16, when Church and a companion attacked 25 enemy planes parked on an air field. Church's plane was hit by an anti-aircraft shell. Simultaneously he was ordered by his leader to dive bomb the field. He dived a half mile, "released his bomb with marked effect, and died in his falling, burning, and crashing airplane, because there was not sufficient time to jump for safety after accomplishing his mission," the citation said. Gen. Douglas MacArthur ordered award of the distinguished service cross to Church, who was graduated from Indiana university in June, 1939.

Church was awarded the soldier's medal for rescuing an enlisted man from drowning in the surf in the Philippines on July 5, 1941. He kept the enlisted man afloat as a current swirled them out to sea until natives picked them up.

JULY SHIP LOSS DOWN, SUB TOLL UP, SAYS BRITAIN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 13.—Minister of Production Oliver Lyttelton told a London audience today that shipping losses were down considerably in July while the U-boat toll is increasing. Increased attacks in the battle of the Atlantic must be expected, however, he warned.

The Germans are behind in their U-boat production program and it is hoped unceasing bombing attacks on the yards and ports where they are being built will further disrupt production.

"Nevertheless, the greater part of the 80 critical days [of war ahead] still remains and there is every sign of the terrible symphony rising to a crescendo before winter," he said. Lyttelton admitted that the allies have received a very severe blow on the Russian front, while the situation in Egypt is tense. He expects another fierce struggle for Egypt within 60 days.

BULLETIN.

LONDON, Aug. 14 (Friday)—(AP).—German raiders dropped thousands of incendiary bombs on an East Anglian town early today.

LONDON, Aug. 13 (AP).—United States army air fighting forces have entered the European war on a large scale for the first time, having engaged in 31 operational sorties during the last 48 hours, United States European headquarters announced today.

The disclosure that the first all-American units, flying British Spitfires, had challenged the German air forces over France and the English channel came as 250 to 400 royal air force bombers returned from a second consecutive night of destructive attacks on Mainz in the Rhineland.

Unit Is American Thruout.

The United States fighter formations, operating from American managed airports, manned by American ground crews, flew with RAF squadrons on three offensive sweeps into France, conducted 20 sorties over the sea, and participated in eight interception missions off the coast of England between 9 a. m. Tuesday and 9 a. m. Thursday, Maj. Gen. Carl Spaatz announced in a communique.

Spaatz, commander in chief of the United States army air forces in the European theater, had declared, only a few hours before the first flight, that Germany would "feel the might of a thoroly coördinated British-American air force" in the immediate future.

Torrent of Bombs Hits Mainz.

RAF sources said the "strong force" of bombers which dropped a torrent of bombs on Mainz again last night found the fire fighters and air defenders of that rail-river traffic hub wearied and scattered by the terrific blasting of the night before.

London had a predawn raid today, the first since July 30. Seven persons were reported killed.

Later in the day other raiders attacked the southeast and southwest coasts of England.

Nazis Admit Heavy Damage.

BERLIN, Aug. 13 [from German broadcasts]—(AP).—Civilian casualties and large scale destruction were caused in a British bombing raid last night on Mainz, a German communique said today.

THREE SOLDIERS CONFESS RAPE; GET 35 YEARS

Olympia, Wash., Aug. 13 (AP).—Three Fort Lewis soldiers pleaded guilty today to rape and grand larceny charges and were sentenced by Superior Court Judge John M. Wilson to a maximum of 35 years in state prison.

The men are Privates James Liggett, 22, of Brookhaven, Miss.; Roy Trombley, 27, of Detroit, and Glen Staley, 27, of Waterloo, Ia.

The sentence was 20 years for rape and 15 years for the theft of the victim's car, the sentences to run consecutively. The state parole board will fix the minimum terms to be served.

The soldiers admitted they entered the car of Mrs. Geneva Schwarz, Chehalis widow and mother of five small children, took over the wheel, drove her to a prairie road, and raped her. Leaving her virtually nude, the men took her car and drove back to the fort.

Report Search for 3 Spies Believed Landed by Subs

HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 13 (AP).—City detectives said today they have photographs and descriptions of three suspected Nazi saboteurs believed to have landed from U-boats somewhere along the Atlantic coast of Canada or the United States. One suspect was said to have lived at one time in Edmonton, Alta., and is wanted by police there. The other two are believed to be former citizens of the United States. The detective office would not reveal the source of the photographs and descriptions or make any comment.

U. S., BRITAIN, CANADA SPLIT ATLANTIC INTO 3 ZONES FOR CONVOYS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 13.—The United States, Britain, and Canada have divided North Atlantic convoy responsibilities into three zones, one for each nation, Canadian Naval Minister Angus MacDonald said today. Canadian warships, he revealed, have operated as far south as the Caribbean. He revealed the Canadian navy has enjoyed good submarine hunting in recent weeks, mainly on trans-Atlantic convoy routes.

He said that some of the 100 warships being built in Canada will be turned over to the United States.

Canadians and Americans, are working in close coöperation, he stated, in discussing the Atlantic seaboard situation. He said the strength of Canadian navy personnel is about 40,000 officers and men and that enlistments are coming in at the rate of about 1,000 a month.

Canada Interns 800 Nazis, Most of Them Seamen

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 13 (AP).—Approximately 800 German war prisoners, most of them merchant seamen from axis ships immobilized in far eastern ports when war broke out in 1939, arrived in Canada recently for internment. Some of the prisoners were from ships seized by the British at Massaua, Eritrea, when that Italian territory was occupied by the British.

REVEAL GERMAN THREAT TO WIPE OUT ALL SERBIA

Nazi Warning to Holland Against Allied Aid Told.

LONDON, Aug. 13 (AP).—The Jugo-Slav government in London tonight announced the Germans have threatened to wipe out all of Serbia if continuing disorders in that Balkan land force them to increase the size of their occupation army.

At the same time, the German-controled Netherlands radio threatened the people of that country with "widespread bombing, devastation, and starvation in the event of a united nations' second front invasion," the Aneta [Dutch] news agency said.

The Jugo-Slav' report was released while talk of an allied second front was rife in all Europe and executions, disorders, and arrests continued unabated in virtually all occupied countries, despite orders from the refugee governments to their people to hold off until the proper moment.

Several hundred Serb boys have been sent to concentration camps or deported to prevent them from joining guerrilla bands, the Jugo-Slavs said.

Germany's Dire Threat.

Early in August, the exile government added, German Gen. Turned, military commander of occupied Serbia, told several hundred civic representatives in Belgrade that "if the German military command is compelled to use one more soldier than the present occupying force for the suppression of disorders this will mean the annihilation of Serbia."

The second front idea is ever present; the Nazi press, radio, and movies are constantly telling the Germans of preparations to resist it; France is jittery over its possibilities.

DNB, official German news agency, in a broadcast dispatch said a plot to blow up the German controled Netherlands radio station [presumably at Hilversum] had been frustrated by new arrests.

The Nazis already have set tomorrow midnight as the deadline for surrender of saboteurs who last Friday night attacked a troop train near Rotterdam. They have threatened to execute some of 1,500 prominent hostages unless the men are captured.

Norse Patriots Busy.

The British radio reported Norwegian patriots had wrecked the powerful turbine installations in the Stavanger district and set fire to two workshops in the aluminum works there.

The arrest of 50 hostages in the Belgian province of Hainault after destruction of dynamos and other electrical installations in several factories was reported by the "Free Belgian" news agency.

CONVERT SECOND LAKE BOAT INTO PLANE CARRIER

Conversion of the Greater Buffalo, large Great Lakes passenger boat, into an aircraft carrier for use in training on the lakes is under way, headquarters of the 9th naval district said yesterday. The boat, formerly owned by the Detroit and Cleveland Navigation company, is the second Great Lakes ship to be converted into a trainer aircraft carrier. The first, converted by American Shipbuilding company of Cleveland, was the Seeandbee, formerly the property of the Cleveland and Boston Transit company. The Seeandbee was given its trial run Tuesday and has been commissioned the U. S. S. Wolverine.

OLD ENGLAND CUT INTO AIR BASES BY SPEEDY YANKEES

Grid Stars, Experts Race to Get at the Nazis.

BY WES GALLAGHER.

WITH THE UNITED STATES AIR FORCE IN BRITAIN, Aug. 13 (AP).—Erstwhile American football stars are digging ditches and some of America's best civilian and army aviation experts are converting ancient English estates into great air bases in a rush to send hundreds of bombers over Germany daily.

Maj. Gen. W. H. Frank

I completed a 1,000 mile air tour of United States bases in Britain today with Maj. Gen. Walter Hale Frank, chief of the service command, to get a first hand view of the vast aerial smash the American air forces are planning. American engineering ingenuity is preparing for the offensive at dazzling speed. Plans are weeks ahead of schedule under the direction of Gen. Frank.

What the Yanks Are Doing.

In two days' flying in a troop transport with Gen. Frank at the controls part of the time, some of the things seen were these:

1. Thousands of American civilian technicians working side by side with British laborers tearing famous old estates apart and slicing long runways across the hunting grounds. Giant hangars are rising from beautifully landscaped lawns.

2. Machine shops equal in size to some of the largest in the United States rising from bogs.

3. Highly skilled American aviation machinists working from dawn to dusk as stevedores in their eagerness to speed the unloading of ships and get the shops built.

Hangars Built Underground.

4. Vast hangars and storerooms, partly underground, staffed by United States soldiers.

5. At least one wealthy, retired American business man, too old for the army, wading knee deep thru mud, digging drainage ditches as his share of the war effort.

Gen. Frank, who is concerned with servicing and repairing warplanes and those of the ferry command, as well as providing a pool of personnel and planes, has under his control the equivalent of several of the biggest airplane factories.

General Speeds Up the Work.

The general worked at top speed during the two day tour completing in minutes negotiations which in peacetime would require weeks.

A principal stop was made at a huge base under construction jointly by an aircraft company and the army. When completed the base will service every type of American plane. Less than two months ago, the base was an old English estate. Peaches and grapes still grow in its greenhouses, but a short distance away bulldozers gouge out the terraced landscape to make way for a hangar.

Altho the establishment covers hundreds of acres, it is so well hidden that we could not locate it when we flew over the base on the second leg of our trip.

WOMAN REPORTS CHUTIST LANDING IN NORTHERN N. Y.

New York, Aug. 13 [Special].—A resident of Chaumont, N. Y., informed the state police tonight a parachute had fallen near by soon after an airplane passed over. A short while later another informant told police six men, believed to be Japanese, were encamped in the same area on the Lake Ontario shore.

Both messages were received by New York City police in a nine state alarm. The parachute was observed by Miss Juliet Lucas, who said it fell in a wooded area known as Morris tract on the road between Limerick and Chaumont. Limerick is eight miles northwest of Watertown and not far from the Canadian border. A plane, she said, had flown by a few minutes before. This message was sent out by the police at 6 p. m.

The second message, received here at 9:15 p. m. told of the camping party near the Jefferson-Oswego county line. The message said "informant is quite sure subjects are Japs."

DISCLOSE 20,000 JAPS AT SEA IN TRANSPORT FLEET

CHUNGKING, China, Aug. 13 (AP).—A Japanese transport fleet carrying more than 20,000 troops was seen in the Gulf of Tonkin last Saturday—the day before United States bombers based in China blasted Haiphong, French Indo-China port on the gulf—a Chinese army spokesman disclosed tonight.

[There was no immediate indication whether the aerial attack had any relation with the troop ship movement which was across waters separating French Indo-China from Formosa, Jap troop concentration station. The Chinese spokesman said he had no information where the convoy was headed. Such a troop movement might be to reënforce the invaders' bases for a thrust toward India.]

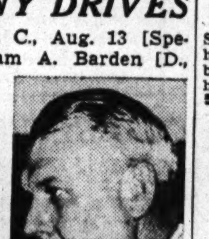
A communique from Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's headquarters said the American "Sky Dragons" had carried out a new attack Tuesday, battering the Japanese held town of Yoyang [Yochow] in the northeastern corner of Hunan province.

China's troops kept up their attacks from the northeast and southeast against the central Kiangsi stronghold of the invaders at Linchwan [Fuchow].

The Chinese high command said that a Japanese drive south in considerable strength toward the Fukien province border from Kwangfeng, in eastern Kiangsi, and Kiangshan, just across the frontier in Chekiang province, had been repulsed.

DISCOVERS A NEW U. S. WAR PERIL: TOO MANY DRIVES

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13 [Special.]—Rep. Graham A. Barden [D., N. C.] told the house today that a visit to his district had revealed confusion over "the multitude of drives" to obtain materials for the war effort. He added:



Rep. G. A. Barden.

"The aluminum drive was a flop and admittedly so. Then there was the paper drive, and warehouses were crammed full of paper, and nobody collected the paper.

"Then they started cutting a few inches off of everybody's pants and nobody seems to know where to send the other end of the pants. Then we had the collection of toothpaste tubes, and nobody seems to know where to send the tubes that the toothpaste came in. Now we are starting a drive for scrap iron and metal.

"The American people want to throw themselves and their hearts and their materials into this war effort. But they cannot understand some of the things which are being ordered out of Washington."

Portuguese Army Officers Leave to Visit in Germany

BERLIN, Aug. 13 [from German broadcasts]—(AP).—The first of a group of 12 high Portuguese army officers left Lisbon by airplane Wednesday on an invitation of the German high command to visit Germany.

NEW DELHI, BOMBAY BACK TO NORMAL AS 6 DAYS OF RIOTS END

BOMBAY, India, Aug. 13 (AP).—The Indian capital, New Delhi, and Bombay, trouble centers earlier this week, apparently were returning to normal today as the outbreaks of violence over Mohandas K. Gandhi's drive for immediate independence from Britain slacked off after six days of clashes between mobs and police.

Altho some shops in New Delhi still were closed, people moved freely thru the streets, which yesterday were the scenes of disorders. The situation in Bombay was quiet; workers were returning to the mills.

A dispatch from Madras said 4 persons were killed and 10 injured at Tenali yesterday when police fired on a crowd which set fire to the railway station.

Armed police and troops, nevertheless, were on guard here and elsewhere against new flare-ups.

WAAC Girls' Band (All 19 Pieces) Holds a Rehearsal

Fort Des Moines, Ia., Aug. 13 (AP).—The Women's Army Auxiliary corps training school band of 19 held its first rehearsal with the fort's masculine band here today. The girls did a creditable job, for most are experienced musicians, former members of circuses or other professional bands. No feminine bandmaster has yet been found, and the trumpet section needs recruits. The band will have 29 pieces at full strength.

FOUND HANGING IN BASEMENT.

Urbana, Ill., Aug. 13 [Special].—Victor L. Schilling, 39 years old, Urbana, was found hanging today from a rafter in his basement by his mother, Mrs. S. Hunt. It was said he had been expecting a call to army duty.

YANK IN BRITAIN FREED ON GIRL'S CHARGE OF RAPE

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

A NORTHWEST ENGLAND TOWN, Aug. 13.—Acquitted of a rape charge by the first United States army general court martial ever conducted in Great Britain, Travis B. Hammond, 25 year old army private from Keltys, Tex., tonight rejoined his comrades at a camp near this northwest England town where he was tried. The verdict was returned by the 11 man court after 1 hour and 45 minutes of deliberation.

Altho opinion had previously been divided among townspeople as to Hammond's guilt or innocence, the verdict seemed to be generally popular. Hammond, tall and blond, was cheered by a small group of townspeople as he and his buddies left the district council hall and filed into an army jeep.

Glad for "Folks Back Home."

"I am glad about this as much for my folks back home as for myself," Hammond told newspaper men.

If found guilty he would have been subject to the death penalty—which is carried out by shooting or hanging in the European theater of operations—or life imprisonment.

The verdict was announced by Col. Milton M. Towner, president of the court.

"It is my duty as president of the court," Towner said, "to inform you that in closed session and by secret ballot the court found you not guilty of the charge brought against you under the 92d article of war."

Buddies Bear Him Away.

Hammond stepped forward. "Thank you, sir," he said, and saluted.

The colonel returned the salute. Hammond's belt and insignia were returned to him and his jubilant buddies bore him off.

Hammond, in his testimony, admitted having relations with the girl in the shelter, but asserted that she consented to his advances. The girl's story was that he had overpowered her. She acknowledged that she had kissed Hammond and had had several drinks with him since meeting him a few hours before the alleged attack.

In summation to the court martial, the trial judge advocate, Capt. Ronald S. Reed, declared that the girl had not known Hammond's purported purpose when she went to the shelter with him. Reed also declared that Hammond had made a statement in the nature of a confession to his superior officer, Maj. Lawrence Wogan.

Hammond was defended by Capt. Lester Prichard.

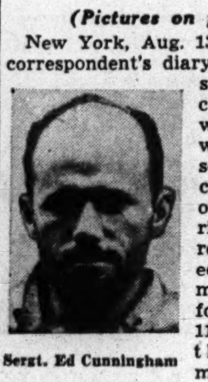
New York, Aug. 13 (AP).—A soldier correspondent's diary told today the story of how a cigaret lighter, which has not worked since, served as a beacon to signal a once a month river boat to the rescue of 10 United States army men who had fought death for 11 days after their bomber made a forced belly landing in a South American jungle.



Sergt. Ed Cunningham

The diary of their desperate trek thru the tangled, tropical jungle in an effort to get back to civilization was written by Sergt. Ed Cunningham, army newspaper man, who was with the nine crewmen when their B-24 bomber was forced down on a stormy flight.

Cunningham's story appears tomorrow in Yank, new United States army newspaper.

Back at Base.

The 10 who made the epic journey back to an army air force base July 24 after taking off from a port in the Caribbean July 13 were:

Tail gunner, Pvt. Morris Pennington, 28, Tacoma, Wash.; radio operator, Pvt. Jesse H. Lewis, 22, Anton, Tex.; assistant radio operator, Pvt. Frank Janeshek, 29, Follansbee, W. Va.; chief engineer, Pvt. Milton Hazel, 26, Saugus, Miss.; aerial engineer, Pvt. Robert Ravey, 28, Pasadena, Cal., and Cunningham, formerly of Burlington, N. J.

Cunningham snapped a picture immediately before the plane belly-landed. Lieut. Kershner managed to keep the plane sufficiently undamaged that it can be flown out of its jungle lake-bed field.

Quotes from Diary.

Excerpts from Cunningham's diary from July 14 on shows some of the obstacles the lost group surmounted.

July 14—Lewis and Ravey work over the radio equipment. They inflate a balloon with water made hydrogen, to send up an aerial. But there is no wind. Lieut. Anderson and his water hunters return in the afternoon; they have found a tiny stream after hours of hacking thru vines and underbrush and dodging snakes.

July 15—We have decided to take a chance on slashing our way thru the jungle. We haul out the rubber life rafts. Each is wrapped tightly in tarpaulin to protect it if we march thru sharp branches. We also plan to take four .45s, two .30 rifles, emergency rations, medical supplies, and ammunition.

Jungle Like Fish Net.

July 16—Our safari starts at 8 a. m. We destroy the secret radio equipment and all secret papers. Pushing thru the jungle is like untangling yourself from a steel fish net. Heavy vines wrap themselves around your arms, legs, and even your neck. The stream is just a three foot rivulet of dank and stagnant water. Thru the afternoon the stream widens gradually. The insects are fierce.

The going gets tougher, the underbrush more dense. At each stop Hazel reads from the Bible. . . . At first we joke about it a little. . . . Later on we quit kidding him. We're in a tough spot.

July 17—Down to one meal a day.

July 19—The stream widens. We pass a few scattered huts. We buy a couple of dozen oranges and take off again.

Farther downstream we meet two young native boys in canoes. We finally make them understand we are searching for a river. They lead the way three miles downstream, and there is the river. Natives bring us some food.

Too Tired to Row.

July 20—One of our native friends brings us breakfast. Orange juice and coffee. We paddle all day, taking turns at sleeping.

July 21—Paddling from dawn till dusk. Your stomach gets knots in it. Your head gets light. There is a new moon tonight. We tie our rafts together and drift. We are too tired to row farther. About midnight Ravey sings out, yelling about a steamboat 'round the bend. He's right.

We begin the most frantic few minutes of our trip. We shout, but the noise of water and the steamboat's motors drown out our voices. We search frantically for the flashlight. It's lost somewhere on the floor.

Cigaret Lighter Works.

Lewis has an inspiration. He pulls out his cigaret lighter. What a flimsy device for rescue. But it works. It responds to the first snap, and bursts into a flicker that is like a beacon in the dark jungle.

We are picked up by a boat that makes the run only once a month. And Lewis' cigaret lighter hasn't worked since.

July 24—We arrive at a United States army air force base and officials decide to build a temporary runway at our jungle landing field and fly our bomber out. On some not-too-vague tomorrow she will streak in fast toward the enemy . . . and the gunner will be gunning and the bombardier will be bombing. I hope to be there, too.

New Uniforms

Chicagoans got their first glimpse of the new dress uniforms of the navy nursing corps when Ensigns Anne Westphal of Granite City and Pearl Kaiser of St. Louis, Mo., appeared in loop streets yesterday.

The girls wore white skirts, jackets, shirts, shoes and stockings, and black tie. Black shoulder boards with one stripe and one gold bar on their collars designated their rank. A corps device also decorated the collar. The caps were white with gold braid without visors.

Ensign Westphal has been a navy nurse for five and a half years, part of that time at Pearl Harbor. Ensign Kaiser has been in the navy two and a half years.

INABILITY TO USE PLANES DELAYS BLUES' VICTORY

Air Forces in Maneuvers Grounded by Weather.

BY CAPT. M. M. CORPENING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Wadesboro, N. C., Aug. 13.—The imperative need of aircraft in successful modern combat was amply demonstrated in the second problem of the Carolina maneuvers which ended this afternoon with a victory for the air supported Blue forces.

Altho the Blue attackers, composed of air and armored units, outnumbered the Red defenders 2 to 1, it took them more than two days to force a river crossing because weather conditions grounded aircraft much of the daylight time.

Built Bridge Unmolested.

Another example of the value of the air superiority enjoyed by the Blues was their unmolested construction of a 600 foot pontoon bridge across the Pee Dee river. Large pontoons and connecting spans made a perfect target for hostile aircraft, but Blue engineers were enabled to work in daylight without interruption or damage from the air.

While the competition was seemingly unfair from the standpoint of winning a final decision, inasmuch as the Reds had no defense planes and little anti-aircraft equipment, the purpose of the problem was to train the participants in team work and communication between ground and air units.

Chicagoan Wins Praise.

The maneuvers brought favorable attention to a Chicagoan, Sergt. N. J. Saviano, 3526 East 95th street, who distinguished himself by capturing three medium tanks, three half-tracks, and 15 men. As leader of a mechanized cavalry reconnaissance unit, Sergt. Saviano penetrated far behind enemy lines.

By the use of deception and the mobility of his small unit, the Chicagoan routed numerically superior enemy units and brought back to his own lines valuable information about the disposition of enemy forces.

Probably the hardest work and most practical experience of the maneuvers came to the engineers. Altho there was much rain and the nights were cool, members of their outfits worked enthusiastically, sometimes toiling all night long in waist deep water.

CHICAGO LEADS NATION IN DRIVE FOR AIR CADETS

Chicago led all other cities in the United States during July in the number of army aviation cadets inducted in proportion to population, Maj. Floyd Showalter, president of the aviation cadet examining board for the Chicago area, announced yesterday.

"Prospects for August are even better," he said. "Almost 33 per cent more men took the physical examination during the first week of August than during the first week of July."

"Altho Chicago, as always, is doing its part in helping win the war, the army air forces will need cadets at an accelerating rate in the months to come. We need 20,000 cadets from Cook county alone by Jan. 1."

Healthy young men, 18 thru 26 years of age, are eligible for enlistment as army aviation cadets, Maj. Showalter added. Those interested are urged to apply in room 283 of the old post-office building at Clark and Adams streets for further information.

The Inquiring Camera Girl

BY FREIDA ZYLSTRA.

[THE TRIBUNE will pay $5 for each interesting question submitted by a reader and used by THE TRIBUNE. Today's question was submitted by Bob Olsen, 5336 West Diversey avenue.]

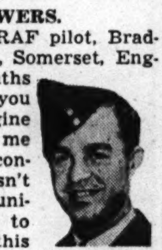
THE QUESTION.

Of what significance was the black-out to you besides being a necessary test?

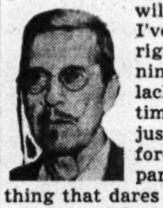
WHERE ASKED.

Michigan avenue and Washington street.

THE ANSWERS.

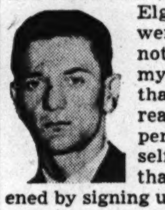


James Wilkinson, RAF pilot, Bradford Lodge, Taunton, Somerset, England—After 18 months of the real thing you can jolly well imagine this one reminded me of plenty. It also convinced me that it isn't only those of us in uniform who are out to win this war. At this rate it will be no time at all—really.



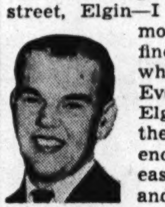
Charles A. Davis, Art Institute guard, 1030 North State street—This will be the third war I've seen where the right side was the winning one, so I'm not lacking confidence this time. The black-out was just a sample of our forethought and preparedness to meet anything that dares to come.

Robert Kahn, president advertising agency, 1250 Stone street—A group of us were discussing the war when the first alarm sounded. After that we sat in our darkened living room. That full half hour was spent in a silent meditation that seemed to spell "war" to us more clearly than any "words any one had spoken before."



Ray Stettner, railroad transportation coördinator, 639 Sherman avenue, Elgin—After the lights were turned on I could not help but compare my feelings with those that the survivors of a real black-out must experience. I found myself appreciating a life that has been threatened by signing up as an air cadet this morning.

Eleanor Martinov, office clerk, 2929 Princeton avenue—The war has always been a real and serious tihng to me, but that half hour test really brought it home. It seemed to me it lasted for hours and enabled me to clearly imagine how I'd feel if those scout planes were enemy planes.



Robert Morgan, air cadet, 157 Henry street, Elgin—I think the test was most significant of the fine coöperation of the whole city population. Even as far west as Elgin we were all in the dark. I've experienced black-outs on both east and west coasts and by the blackness of things last night I'm positive every one took it seriously.

OCD BEGINS DATA SURVEY OF FIRST BLACK-OUT TEST

The safety as well as the efficiency of Chicagoland's first great test black-out Wednesday won the praise of officials yesterday. Within the metropolitan area not a single accident was traceable to the black-out.

"It was the safest test of the kind ever held in the United States," asserted Otto K. Jelinek of the Chicago park district and chief of techniques for the Office of Civilian Defense in the area.

Jelinek had a staff of 45 yesterday tabulating and analyzing 30,000 individual reports turned in by workers, including wardens and aerial observers. The test, from 10 to 10:30 p. m., was held in 36 counties of northern Illinois; in the gasoline refining and steel making sector of northern Indiana; in the lake shore counties of Wisconsin, and in the south half of the lower peninsula of Michigan. The area involved was 50,000 square miles, with a population of 12,000,000, and is the greatest center of war production in the country.

Col. B. B. Freud, acting director of the 6th OCD region, said that he expects final reports within 10 days from all the outlying sections, which will be used in preparing for the next black-out test.

WAR AND CHARITY FUND HANDLING AGENCY FORMED

Incorporation of the Community and War Fund of Metropolitan Chicago, to begin next year as the single and united organization for raising and distributing funds for local charities and approved wartime agencies, was announced yesterday. Aubrey H. Mellinger, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, and Robert A. Gardner, who heads the Community fund, made the announcement. They, with Samuel A. Goldsmith, executive director of the Jewish charities, and Judge Roger J. Kiley, are the incorporators.

The only organization not included is the American Red Cross, which because of national policy had already set March, 1943, as the time for a separate campaign for funds.

Plan Studied for Months.

At a special meeting of the war fund committee Mellinger said:

"The decision to go ahead with the organization is the result of extensive investigation and discussion by the special committee over the last few months.

"The formation of the new organization will unite all of Chicago and the metropolitan area in one great effort to meet the needs of the Community fund, the USO, British War relief, Chinese War relief, Russian and Greek War relief, the Jewish Welfare fund, and other wartime services, excepting only the Red Cross."

Gardner stressed the fact that in addition to the economy of operation, there will be developed the strength of a united purpose in wartime charitable giving.

Some of Directors Named.

The original board of directors as named by the incorporators will be expanded later. At present the members are Thomas J. Condon, Joseph M. Cudahy, Robert A. Gardner, Samuel A. Goldsmith, Roger J. Kiley, Samuel Levin, Edward D. McDougal Jr., A. H. Mellinger, Jeffrey R. Short, and Thomas L. Slater.

TWO SUPERIOR COURT JUDGES TO BE NAMED NOV. 3

Two judges of the Superior court of Cook county will be elected at the general election on Nov. 3. Gov. Dwight H. Green yesterday called special elections on that date to fill the vacancies caused by the deaths of Judge Robert C. O'Connell, Republican, and Judge Walter T. Stanton, Democrat.

Nominations will be made by party conventions, the county central committees constituting the conventions, the dates of which will be fixed by the county chairmen.

Both Judges O'Connell and Stanton were reëlected to six year terms last November. Judge Stanton died four days after the election and Gov. Green appointed former Superior Judge Edgar A. Jonas to the vacancy. In subsequent court proceedings, Jonas contended he was entitled to the Stanton place not only for the short term, but until a successor was elected. The case is still in the state Supreme court. In the meantime, Jonas, who served out the Stanton short term, has not been assigned a courtroom. He is considered a candidate for the vacancy nomination.

Judge O'Connell died in March.

Army Curbs Broadcasts from Overseas Troops

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13 [Special].—The war department today ordered cessation of all broadcasts or recordings in which messages are transmitted by voice between troops stationed overseas and relatives or friends in the United States. This practice was termed a threat to security. Exception was made in broadcasts sponsored or approved by the war department.

ARMY SHAKES UP PRESS SECTION IN AIR MARKER HOAX

75 Officers to Lose Their Soft Jobs as Result.

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—A drastic reorganization of the public relations agencies of the army was ordered today by Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson following the disclosure that a story of the discovery of air markers to guide enemy aviators was a hoax conceived by overzealous army press agents.

Stimson said that the reorganization had been decided upon before release of the air marker story by the press staff of the 1st air ground force at Mitchel Field, N. Y., last Sunday. He acknowledged, however, that revelation of the hoax made him very happy that "we had taken this step."

75 to Lose Desk Jobs.

As a result of the shakeup, 75 officers will be taken from desk jobs and transferred to combat duty, Stimson said. He estimated that more than 100 army officers are assigned to press relations jobs outside the bureau of public relations.

Stimson condemned the air marker story. He said it had been truly represented in the press as an out and out hoax. The secretary disclosed that he had personally instructed Lieut. Gen. Hugh Drum, commander of the eastern defense command, to make a thoro investigation and expressed the belief that drastic action should be taken against those responsible.

"I expressed to Gen. Drum personally my idea of the importance of the investigation and my expectation that it will be thoro," he said.

Farm Wife Deplores Story.

In Kiptopeke, Va., Mrs. C. Russell Bull expressed her displeasure over the involvement of her family and their farm in the marker hoax. The army story said that grain sacks on the farm had been arranged on an open field to form the numeral "9," the tail of which pointed to a plane factory. Mrs. Bull said the figure had been made accidentally in tossing fertilizer sacks out of a truck to let them be washed by rain.

Stimson said that conflicting and confusing statements have arisen from the present press relations set up and that he and Maj. Gen. Alexander D. Surles, head of the army public relations bureau, agreed that corrective measures should be taken.

"The general and I are in accord with the belief that our public relations should be based on accuracy," he said. "We recognize this as a people's war and the people must be fully and accurately informed. We both feel that the people can take bad news along with the good."

PLANE CRASHES AND EXPLODES, TAKING 4 LIVES

Shreveport, La., Aug. 13 (AP).—A Barksdale field plane crashed and burned near the Shreveport city limits today, killing two officers and two enlisted men.

Several witnesses said the plane went into a dive and crashed with a great explosion.

The victims were announced by the field public relations officer as:

Corp. Harry Clay McCarty, Cross Creek, Pa.

Pvt. Charles Edward Harris, Philadelphia, Pa.

Cadet in Plane Crash.

Moultrie, Ga., Aug. 13 (AP).—Aviation Cadet Carl G. Stridsberg was killed early today when his plane crashed at Nicholls, Ga. Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Stridsberg, Wyoming, O., his parents, have been notified.

Girl Flyer Is Killed.

Danville, Ill., Aug. 13 (AP).—Miss Betty Beyer, 19 years old, civilian student pilot, was killed and Gilbert Frankeberger, 19, also a student pilot, was injured today when their training planes collided at an altitude of about 500 feet over the Municipal airport and crashed in a corn field. Miss Beyer graduated last year from the civilian pilot training course. Frankeberger is in the hospital suffering from back and leg injuries. Attendants said he was expected to recover.

Find 4 Plane Crash Victim's Bodies.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 13 (AP).—Four bodies were recovered today at the scene of an army airplane crash last February on Wolf mountain, deep in the Ochoco National forest of central Oregon. The second air force reported the plane, a two motored bomber, disappeared while en route to Spokane from Sacramento, Cal. The identity of the crew was not known here.

BILL TO PROMOTE GEODETIC SURVEY OFFICERS VETOED

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13 (AP).—President Roosevelt today vetoed a bill to authorize temporary appointment or advancement of commissioned officers of the coast and geodetic survey in time of war or national emergency.

Mr. Roosevelt noted, in a message to the house, that the measure provided that commissioned officers on the survey's active list "shall be deemed to be in active military service." He said he was informed that under this provision all active commissioned service men in the survey, whether in time of war or peace, would be eligible for benefits to which military personnel and dependents are entitled.

RUTH CHATTERTON.

New York, Aug. 13 (AP).—Judgment for $2,243 against Ruth Chatterton, actress, for dress and fur bills allegedly due Mme. Frances, Inc., a New York gown shop, was filed in the county clerk's office today. The judgment was obtained last year for purchases made in April and May of 1936.

JAIL ALIEN WHOSE LIQUOR BOTTLE INJURED SOLDIER

A German alien, charged with dropping a liquor bottle eight floors into a group of marching soldiers, and injuring one of them seriously, was fined $200 and costs on a disorderly conduct charge yesterday by Judge Oscar S. Caplan in South State Street court. He is William C. Nebe, 54 years old, of the YMCA hotel at 826 South Wabash avenue, who came to this country in 1914.

Sergt. Joseph Willis, stationed here with an air corps detachment, was the soldier injured. He was marching with his men from the aeronautics college at 13th street and Wabash avenue Aug. 7 when the bottle struck him as the column passed the hotel. He suffered brain concussion and severe cuts and was hospitalized until Wednesday.

Central police said a shade was lowered in Nebe's room shortly after the bottle fell. Nebe told the court he did not throw the bottle but admitted he had been drinking. Police said Nebe admitted the bottle was his. Unable to pay the fine, Nebe was taken to the Bridewell to work it out at $2 a day.

Servicemen Made Eligible for New Cars by OPA

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13 [Special].—The Office of Price administration today ruled that members of the armed forces of the United States are eligible to purchase new passenger automobiles if they can prove the cars are necessary for transportation between residence and post of duty or for official military business where no military vehicle is available. The action was taken upon recommendation of the war and navy departments.

CROSS-EXAMINE PASTOR ON TRIAL AS NAZI SPY LINK

Accused of Withholding Facts from Jury.

Hartford, Conn., Aug. 13 (AP).—The government today began its cross-examination of the Rev. Kurt E. B. Molzahn on trial on a charge of conspiring to hand American military secrets over to the axis, and almost immediately accused him of responsibility for withholding of important testimony.

Molzahn told the federal court jury yesterday that there were no male employés at Old Zion's Lutheran church in Philadelphia—his pastorate—last summer while he was on vacation, altho the Rev. Aleksi Pelypenko, a government witness, testified previously he visited the church twice during that time and left photographs of Gerhard Wilhelm Kunze, guilty-pleading conspirator and former German-American bund leader, with an unidentified man he found there. Molzahn denied he ever received the photographs.

Attacks Character Deposition.

Assistant Prosecutor Joseph C. Cooney recalled the character deposition filed this week in Molzahn's behalf by Dr. Carl L. Hausman, prominent member of the pastor's parish, who came here to testify for the defense, but returned to Philadelphia, defense lawyers told the court, because his wife was ill.

Saying there was nothing in Dr. Hausman's deposition concerning Father Pelypenko, a Ukrainian Catholic priest who worked as a Federal Bureau of Investigation agent last year, Cooney pointed his finger at Molzahn and declared:

"You knew that if Dr. Hausman took the stand, he would talk about Father Pelypenko's visit last summer."

"You are wrong," replied the defendant.

Pastor Doesn't Remember.

The clergyman testified that "as a rule" Hausman was not in the church office during the summer; that it was not his suggestion that Hausman be brought here as a character witness; and repeatedly answered "I don't remember" when asked if he had discussed Father Pelypenko with Hausman.

At one point in his cross-examination, Cooney showed the clergyman a poem presented by a group of Lutheran sisters at the time he celebrated the 10th anniversary of his pastorate in Old Zion's church in 1939.

The prosecutor said a translation of one stanza read: "Every one, be it here or at home in the fatherland, feels that here is a man who stands up for his homeland."

Molzahn objected that the government's translation failed to convey the accurate meaning of the stanza.

PELLEY AND TWO AIDS FILE APPEALS FROM SEDITION CONVICTIONS

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 13 [Special].—Attorneys for William Dudley Pelley today filed notice of an appeal to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals at Chicago in behalf of the former Silver Shirts leader and two associates convicted here on sedition charges. Pelley signed a waiver whereby he would not seek liberty on bond pending outcome of the appeal.

The possibility that Pelley may not begin serving his 15 year sentence for at least two or three years was foreseen here today.

Oscar R. Ewing, special assistant to Francis Biddle, United States attorney general, said Pelley may be sentenced to serve a two to three year sentence for violation of the blue sky laws of that state first.

S.B.Pettingill Named Head of G. O. P. Finance Group

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13 (AP).—Samuel B. Pettingill, former Democratic member of the house from Indiana, who later became a Republican today was appointed chairman of the Republican national finance committee. The announcement by Rep. Joseph W. Martin, chairman of the Republican national committee, said Pettingill would go to New York within the next few days to open offices for the committee and make plans for the collection of funds 'n connection with the congressional campaigns.

DIES REVEALS KAPPE'S SECRET LETTER TO NAZIS

17,000 U. S. Symathizers Listed in Probe.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13 (AP).—The Dies committee, it was learned authoritatively today, will send to President Roosevelt this week a copy of a confidential letter sent from Germany to trusted Nazi sympathizers in the United States advising them that Walter Kappe had been appointed to head a fifth column front in this country and paving the way for his work.

The FBI is seeking Kappe in connection with its investigation of a Nazi sabotage ring and has charged he was associated with the six saboteurs executed here last Saturday after a military commission trial.

Signed by Kappe, whom the FBI described as head of "a contemplated German sabotage organization," the letter, bearing the salutation "Heil Hitler," said:

"I have accepted the leadership of the Comradeship USA . . . on the grounds that a central office of the Comradeship USA must also exist in time of war. . . . I depend upon the coöperation of every one."

17,000 Names on List.

In view of the fact Kappe has had more than a year and a half to operate in this country, since the letter was written, the committee was reported to have taken the position that all persons identified with Nazi movements in America should be under constant surveillance.

Along with the letter, it was learned, the committee will send to the White House a list of names of approximately 17,000 persons whose past activities indicated Nazi sympathies.

Close to 3,000 of the names are of persons the committee claims contributed to the "Kyffhauserbund," and several thousand others were identified as being associated with the "American-German volksbund," which Kappe's letter described as "by far the most active and most indoctrinated combat group in American-Germanism."

Letter Written in German.

How the letter came into the committee's possession was not disclosed. It was written in German, dated at Stuttgart, Germany, January, 1941, and bore an admonition that those who received it were to keep it confidential. It was numbered, one of what presumably was a series of instructions sent out by Kappe from the House of Germanism, Stuttgart.

"It is meant exclusively for the members of the Comradeship USA," said a prefacing note.

After describing the obstacles confronted in the United States by German groups, particularly from investigations by the Dies committee, Kappe's letter said:

"It would be a mistake, however, to conclude from what has been said in this report that American Germanism has in this fateful hour entirely failed. However, it lacks the organizational structure, it lacks, in many cases, the national strength and discipline, but in their hearts the Germans of America experience very deeply the powerful revolution in Europe. They follow breathlessly on their shortwave receivers every phase of the German struggle and they always feel themselves strengthened in their pride in their Germanism thru the heroism of the German soldiers."

The Utica, N. Y. plant of the Savage Arms Corporation has received the Army-Navy Production Award for high achievement in production.

"A High Standard of Practical Patriotism"

THE NOTICE granting Utica, N.Y. plant of the Savage Arms Corporation the new Army-Navy Production Award says,

"The accomplishment of the men and women of your organization during the past year has set a high standard of practical patriotism."

The past production records of war equipment by "Savage"—in quality and quantity—are gratifying. This Army-Navy tribute to that fact is deeply appreciated by the company and all of its employees.

However, the main result of this grant of the Army-Navy Production Award to "Savage" is to stimulate, with still greater vigor, the determination to produce more and more and better and better of the munitions of war needed by our armed forces.

AFL HEAD URGES END OF STRIKES, SPEEDIER OUTPUT

Green Reminds Labor of War Pledge.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, said yesterday that the AFL is concentrating on an effort to prevent strikes and other work stoppages hurtful to war production.

He said he plans to deliver an address calling the attention of organized labor to its pledge to relinquish the right to strike during the war, on the understanding that collective bargaining would continue. Green made these statements during a press conference in the Drake hotel, where the executive council of the AFL has been meeting.

Urges Outdoing British.

"We have made a good record in production and in continuous operation," Green said, "but we must do better. A comparison with a report I just received from London shows our people are doing better than the workers of Britain, but that is not enough. I plan an address to all our units calling attention to the no-strike pledge, and emphasizing that strikes might endanger the success of our military operations and the lives of their relatives in service."

Resumption of peace negotiations between the AFL and the Congress of Industrial Organizations moved a bit forward yesterday. Green said that Philip Murray, CIO president, and Harry C. Bates, head of the AFL peace committee, are to meet in Washington next week to fix the time and place of the initial meeting.

Names Committee Members.

Federation members on the proposed Anglo-American trade union committee to promote the war effort, were announced by Green. They are: President Green, and AFL Vice Presidents William L. Hutcheson, George M. Harrison, Matthew Woll, and Harvey Brown. The first meeting is to be held in Washington Sept. 13.

The AFL president also said that the executive council had prepared an appeal to the workers of India to support the united nations. The appeal will be radioed by short wave to India thru the Office of War Information, Green said. The council's message urged the people of India "to resist the threatened invasion of their country by Japan with all their strength, to forget past wrongs for the time being, and to show their loyalty to the highest aspirations of the human race."

The council wound up its 10 day session with a 200 page report on federation activities during the last year. It will be presented to the Toronto convention Oct. 5.

KILLED IN TRUCK-TRAIN CRASH.

MEAD, BENNETT BACKERS FIGHT FOR DELEGATES

Seek Individual Votes Rather than Units.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 13 (AP).—The fight for delegates to the state Democratic convention was on in full force today with their identity known thru results of Tuesday's primaries.

Claims from the opposing forces of Attorney General John J. Bennett, backed by State Chairman James A. Farley, and Sen. James M. Mead, who claims the support of President Roosevelt, indicated the struggle for majority power has developed mainly into a quest for the individual delegate, regardless of how his county's votes are pledged.

1,014 Delegates Uninstructed.

The 1,014 delegates will go to the Aug. 19 convention in Brooklyn uninstructed. A majority nominates.

Typical of the rifts which are expected thruout the state in counties supposedly pledged to one candidate or the other was one which appeared last night in New York City's powerful Tammany Hall, holding 155 votes.

Altho Tammany Leader Michael J. Kennedy is supporting Mead, two of his district leaders came out for Bennett. Bennett supporters immediately claimed at least 30 Tammany votes, but Mead's manager, Terence J. McManus, refused to revise downward his claim of 575 Mead delegates.

Farley Still Confident.

Farley, who claims 670 votes for Bennett, repeated a previous assertion that "Mead's name will never be presented to the convention."

There were indications also that Mead forces are finding it possible to chip votes from the opposition. In Rensselaer county, whose 14 votes had been Bennett pledged, Mayor Charles G. Maloy of Rensselaer declared he would vote for Mead.

Canada to Britain and Back Again—All in 52 Hours

LONDON, Aug. 13.—Some idea of how closely war has knitted the continents together was disclosed here today by Maj. C. G. Power, Canadian minister for air. He said the American pilot who flew him to England recently and had returned to Canada, made the round trip flight in 52 hours.

"We'll go to town for the navy," said one picket.

"Anything for the navy," chimed in a second.

"In my opinion," said A. Alfred Fink, counsel for the strikers, "the men will be only too glad to get back to work for Uncle Sam."

Company spokesmen were not available immediately for comment.

LABOR LEADERS ASSAILED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—More than a million man days have been lost in war production by strikes since labor leaders made a solemn covenant with the President and the American people that there would be no more stoppages of labor, Rep. Eugene E. Cox [D., Ga.] declared in a radio address tonight.

Rep. Eugene E. Cox.

In a moving and eloquent plea for an end to such strikes, Cox struck at the excuse of labor leaders that these walk-outs are "outlaw" strikes over which they have no control.

"If there are any groups, unions or others in this nation," he said, "who can by striking impede the production and delivery of war supplies, and if those groups are beyond the control of the leaders, then it is high time, for the sake of the men who are dying on the far flung battle fronts, and for the sake of the broken hearts of fathers, mothers, sisters, brothers, wives, and children here at home, that such groups immediately be stopped in their tracks. If the executive department of the government cannot or does not do this, the congress must.

Can't Keep Pledges.

"After the Pearl Harbor attack the leaders of organized labor made a solemn covenant with the President and the American people that there would be no more strikes.

"The deadly peril of this nation had been too much used by labor leaders intent upon taking advantage of the situation to bring about the closed shop and the extortionate work fees, and to increase their personal power. But in the strikes which have taken place since that solemn covenant more than a million man days have been lost in war production.

"Faced with these strikes, these union leaders have protested that they could not control these striking unions. Thus, on their own statements, the leaders have convicted themselves of being either unwilling or unable to keep their solemn covenant with the American people and the President.

Cost Hundreds of Lives.

"Every hour lost in the production and delivery of machines and munitions of war is costing the lives of hundreds of men and breaking the bodies and shattering the minds of hundreds of others.

"It seems inconceivable that there should recently have been a strike in the Fisher Body works at Flint, Mich., a plant exclusively engaged in war production, which lasted a week or better, and which involved no question of wages, or working conditions, closed shop, or any other questions related to workers or unionism."

Cox declared there are no labor unions in Nazi Germany, Fascist Italy, or in military Japan.

"It is for us in the United States of America," he declared, "to say whether or not the cause of liberty shall be betrayed by selfishness and greed, indolence and indifference, or whether we shall prove ourselves worthy of the great heritage of freedom and culture which our forefathers sacrificed and bled to give us.

"It rests with us in America to say whether or not ours shall be an elective despotism, which was not the government our fathers fought for, or a government founded on true, free principles; a government in which the powers shall be so divided and balanced that none can transcend their legal limits without being effectually checked and restrained by the others."

Walgreen DRUG STORES

Friend of the Yanks' Kin

BY SALLY JOY BROWN

[This department will answer questions covering problems related to the social welfare of relatives of service men, both in the column and by mail, if stamped, addressed envelopes are sent with inquiries.]

Mrs. S. J. writes: "My son has been in the army for three months. In the last letters I received from him he warned me that he might be sent overseas soon. There has been no mail for over two weeks, and I suspect that perhaps he has left the country. I know that if that is true it will take some time before I hear from him or will be able to write and I am worried about his insurance policy. He told me that he had taken out some insurance and that the policy, of which I am beneficiary, would be mailed to me. I have never received it and wonder if I should do anything about it."

ANSWER: Thousands of boys in our armed forces are now taking out insurance policies such as your son mentioned, and because of the great amount of clerical work involved in caring for all of them, I understand that policies are not generally delivered until at least three or four months after they are taken out. However, the service man receives a receipt when his payments start, and after the policy is cleared it will be mailed to you.

Mrs. L. writes: "I just read in your paper that deductions are already being made from the pay of the men in the armed forces under the terms of the bill for dependents. However, the dependents of these same men are not receiving a cent now and will not until Nov. 1, 1942. What I want to know is where is this money going now?"

ANSWER: The money now deducted from the salaries of service men will accumulate until Nov. 1, when it will be paid in full.

From Mrs. M. L.: "I am writing to ask you if you could help me locate my son. He is overseas and I have not heard from him since he left. Of course, I do not expect to know what country he is in, but I hope to find out why I do not receive any letters from him. He never neglected writing me when he was at a camp in the United States. I hope you can give me some information as to where I should write to find out the cause of all this."

ANSWER: You do not state how long a period you believe has elapsed since your son left the country. Depending upon where he has been sent, you cannot expect mail within from six weeks to two months after his probable departure, at the earliest. If he has been sent to any one of a number of countries which are a great distance, it may be many months before he arrives, has an opportunity to write, and the mail can return to the United States. I know waiting is difficult, but in cases such as this "no news is good news," since you would be notified if anything happened to him.

'FACE LONG WAR,' SAYS KNUDSEN AT SOUTH BEND

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 13 [Special].—Lieut. Gen. William S. Knudsen, visiting South Bend war plants, asserted today that there was no doubt that the nation "faces a long, big war," but that the war production program, "in quantity, is half way in."

Asserting that he has found the spirit of the nation's workers good, Knudsen said that in his tour of war plants he had found there is some lag in production, but is confident that this soon will be corrected.

"We can outproduce two of the axis parties," he declared, "and the third axis partner doesn't count, but we'll throw him into the picture for good measure."

The former OPA chief said he had inspected 450 plants during his current tour.

Official Pleads for Change in Profits Levy Plan.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13 (AP).—H. E. Bowman, Seattle, Wash., told the senate finance committee today that the pending revenue bill "probably would end the existence" of the Boeing Aircraft corporation, which manufactures flying fortresses and other military aircraft.

Bowman, the Boeing treasurer, said his company's threatened plight—shared by other aircraft manufacturers—arose from the fact that it had spent most of its earnings in pre-war years to develop new types of equipment.

Because its invested capital was relatively small and its earnings in the 1936-'39 base period were low, he said, 96.6 per cent of its net income would be subject to the proposed 90 per cent excess profits levy, with the result that taxes would eat up 88.75 per cent of all its profits. He added:

"I am here to plead with you for the life of this company because in our opinion this tax bill, if passed in its present form, will probably end its existence."

Tells of 1936-'39 Losses.

Bowman testified he had been urged by members of the senate defense investigating committee to protest provisions of the measure. He said that Boeing had suffered heavy losses during the base period of 1936-'39 while it was developing the Flying Fortress and could claim only a low invested capital credit. Therefore, he said, 96.6 per cent of its net income would be subjected to the proposed 90 per cent excess profits tax.

[The bill as now designed defines as excess profits those exceeding 95 per cent of average earnings during 1936-'39. Thus firms making low profits or suffering losses because of developing new products are penalized more heavily than firms enjoying adequate profits during those years.]

"Penalized" for Coöperating.

"It is curious that I should be here to plead for the life of this company at a time when in Seattle the company and its employés are being given the army-navy production efficiency award," Bowman said.

The Boeing official said his company was "the victim of the fact that its flying fortress was so highly regarded by the air corps that we were not permitted to sell it abroad."

"Thus," he declared, "this company now is being penalized for having developed outstanding airplanes and for having coöperated with the government."

The Associated State Chambers of Commerce joined the National Association of Manufacturers today in urging the senate finance committee to write a sales tax into the revenue bill.

Arnold A. Baar, Chicago, appeared on behalf of the state chamber to recommend a retail sales levy, a 35 per cent limit on normal and surtax assessments on corporations, and a post-war rebate of all excess profits taxes over 80 per cent.

NAVY YARD AID HELD IN $100,000 DORMITORY FIRE

Bremerton, Wash., Aug. 13 (AP).—A Puget Sound navy yard employé was detained today in the investigation of a $100,000 fire which destroyed five units of a new federal dormitory project last night, leaving 207 navy yard men homeless in this overcrowded city.

He was arrested, Police Chief Arthur Morken said, after an attempt had been made to start a fire in a dormitory unit across the road from those destroyed. The man detained lived in the dormitory where the attempt was made. A private residence also burned.

Four of the destroyed units were under construction. The fifth and only occupied dormitory affected housed 207 navy yard workmen. No one was injured.

Ninety trailer tires, many of them nearly new, were destroyed in the basement of the James Boe home, the residence that burned.

TAX BILL BLOCKS PAPER TUBE IDEA FOR TOOTH PASTE

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13 (AP).—Congress heard today that tax uncertainties were holding up development of a collapsible paper substitute for metal tubes for tooth paste, shaving cream, and other items.

L. J. McWain, Chicago, treasurer of the Universal Paper Products company, told the senate finance committee his firm had designed the tube but didn't feel like going ahead because corporation taxes might take 90 per cent of any profits.

This was true, he said, because his company was formed in 1936 and made no money until 1939. Hence, he said, the firm could claim only a low credit for its 1936-'39 earnings against excess profits taxes of 90 per cent in the revenue bill.

He urged establishment of a board to review such cases.

Bandit Shot in Loop Bank

BANDIT FELLED BY 11 WOUNDS IN LOOP BANK

Holdup Fails, Guards' Guns Halt Flight.

A bandit who attempted to hold up a bond teller in the First National bank, 38 South Dearborn street, while standing two feet from two armed guards, was in the Bridewell hospital late yesterday in a serious condition from 11 bullet wounds inflicted by other guards when he attempted to flee.

The bandit identified himself as Caphas Spencer, 32 years old, a Negro, of 3118 Wentworth avenue. He was shot by Elbert Shaul, a bank guard living at 6720 Wentworth avenue, and by another guard, Alex Grieg, of 1739 West 101st street.

Guards Fire 5 Shots.

Shaul and Grieg said that together they fired five times at Spencer. Bank officials, confirming their statement, said they believed bullets had grazed the bandit, ricocheted off marble walls in the bank's bond department, and then reëntered his body, thus accounting for the 11 wounds.

Shortly before 10 a.m. the bandit entered the bond department from the South Clark street entrance and demanded that Samuel Bradford, the teller, give him all the money in the cage. Bradford, who had $5,000 in cash for transactions in United States government bonds sold at his window, pressed an alarm button instead.

Two guards, Ralph Bowie, 7957 Birchdale avenue, Elmwood Park, and John Shea, 5441 May street, were standing at the next cage and attempted to grab Spencer. He punched at them and started running for the exit, taking a rusty piece of metal from his pocket.

Believes Bandit Armed.

Shaul thought Spencer was running at him and was drawing a gun, he said later, and opened fire. Grieg, who had come from behind the cage, also fired. Their bullets struck Spencer in the shoulder, arm, chin, armpit, and thigh.

At the Bridewell, Spencer told Assistant State's Attorney Leslie V. Curtis: "God sent me into that bank, I thought I'd be killed. But the voice of God kept telling me to go inside. I'm lucky to be alive."

Spencer's futile holdup attempt recalled Henry Peter Carsens, who was shot dead last spring while attempting to hold up the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company.

All reserved seats to the 13th Chicago Music Festival have been sold and no more tickets will be available until 7:30 p. m. tomorrow at Soldiers' field, when 10,000 general admission tickets will go on sale for 30 cents each at gates 15, 16, 27, and 28. Reserved seat holders should be in their places by 7 p. m., but for their protection sale of the general admissions is being delayed until half an hour after the show starts. It is advisable, however, that they make an early start to the festival, and it is important that they arrive no later than 7:30 p. m.

BY CHARLES LEAVELLE.

Mayblossom MacDonald.

In one of the most brilliant and elaborate field spectacles in the history of the Chicago Music Festival, 850 pretty little dancing girls tomorrow night will move swiftly thru a colorful and patriotic pageant under the direction of Mayblossom MacDonald, Chicago dance teacher who has been artistic director of the festival for 10 years.

For many weeks Miss MacDonald has been drilling and training her charges for their parts for the 1942 spectacle. Many of the intricate formations and field patterns were conceived by Miss MacDonald especially for this year's festival.

Schools Provide Cast.

The great dancing cast this year was recruited from the YMCA summer school, which sent 500 youngsters; Miss MacDonald's Ideal Dancing studios, 200, and the Schultz Dancing studios of Mrs. Ermie Schultz, who assisted Miss MacDonald in creating the pageant.

The opening movement will be a breath taking burst of color. Any school boy can tell you that the army and navy make their airplanes of steel, aluminum, plastics. But Miss MacDonald makes airplanes of little girls.

In ballet costumes and veils and in groups of blue, white, and red, the girls will move on the field in 41 formations of 16. Each formation will simulate the wings and fuselage of an airplane complete to a whirling propellor at the nose.

As the red, white, and blue fleet reaches the appointed place on the field, the planes suddenly will dissolve into circles and the girls will swing into an aesthetic dance to the music of "Spring, Beautiful Spring."

Veils Represent Water.

After this dance the girls will go into a tableau presenting 41 fountains, cascading veils representing jets of water.

Next, 13 girls and 13 boys will execute a maneuver that will spread an American flag 20 by 38 feet across the center of the field. Hardly will the applause have died away, when the 850 young dancers will blend themselves into a living flag, 100 by 200 feet, as the Festival Symphony orchestra plays Sousa's stirring "Stars and Stripes Forever."

Following this feature, the cast will exit in another beautiful formation. Placing their blue veils over their heads and imitation seagulls above the veils, the girls will leave the field massed together, the veils simulating the rolling ocean with the gulls afloat upon it. The music will be "Columbia, Gem of the Ocean."

Producer of "Injun Summer."

Miss MacDonald last year produced the vast cornshock and Indian teepee scene for the colorful "Injun Summer" pageant honoring John T. McCutcheon of THE TRIBUNE, dean of American cartoonists.

Additional participation in the festival by army musical units was announced yesterday. The Chanute Field Wing chorus and Air Force band will be seen and heard in the grand entry spectacle at Soldiers' field and the chorus will sing in the finale. Today the chorus will sing at the Festival luncheon concert in the Palmer House and tomorrow morning Capt. F. R. Hammond, director, will judge in the finals of the women's choral contest.

Final rehearsals were in progress among the massed bands, choruses, baton twirlers, the great plectrophonic orchestra of 1,000 players of fretted instruments, and the world's largest accordion band of 1,000 pieces. The mighty cast of 6,000 musicians and performers announced itself ready for the big show.

SAVED BY FIREMEN.

Fire department inhalator squads, in two trips yesterday, saved the life of Ben Schultz, 35 years old, who had been stricken in his home at 3334 Douglas boulevard from what appeared to be an accidental overdose of sedatives.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

BATON TWIRLING WINNERS CHOSEN AS 70 COMPETE

Batons twirled and scintillated last evening as 70 youngsters competed in the Cook county baton twirling contest in Soldiers' field in conjunction with the 13th annual Chicago Music Festival. Fred W. Miller was chairman. Names of winners in the various age classifications follow:

Juvenile girls—First, Betty Laurell, 5534 Belmont avenue; second, Louise McGuigann, 7630 Carpenter street, and third [a tie], Jeanne Chilson, 3830 North Octavia avenue; Ave Maria Hayes, 7802 May street, and Patty La Voie, 8328 Aberdeen street. Juvenile boys—First, Randall McNally, 8439 Wood street; second, Bernard Fraser, 7701 Emerald avenue, and third, Bill Schumann, 309 South Edward street, Mount Prospect.

Finds County Spends 56% for Necessary Charges

Assistant County Controler Richard J. Daley reported yesterday that a breakdown of the 1942 county budget shows $8,644,226 is being spent this year for charitable and educational purposes and an additional $3,420,956 for fixed charges required by statute. These expenditures are 56 per cent of the total budget of $21,528,323, Daley said.

2 SMOKE SCREEN THIEVES TELL OF A CRIME CAREER

Their Story Leads to Two Other Arrests.

Two youths who threw a heavy smoke screen at police, whenever their stolen automobiles were pursued, last night at the detective bureau told of a two weeks' career of crime, involving two men who purchased stolen property from them.

The youths were Richard McGinnis, 18 years old, 905 East 76th street, and William R. Mitchell, 16, 821 East 75th street. Dressed like Spanish cabelleros in flaming scarlet satin shirts and flaring trousers they habitually wore, they were arrested sleeping peacefully in a stolen car at 81st street and Eberhart avenue. For once they'd failed to pull the switch and emit the smoke from their exhaust.

Policemen Joseph Glennon, Frank Bartosh, and Joseph Jandacek of the stolen auto detail, came upon them at 5:45 a. m. last Tuesday.

Two Others Seized.

The men arrested are James Walsh, a plumber of 7548 Rhodes avenue, in whose garage were recovered nine new stolen tires and a quantity of oil and accessories he admitted purchasing from the youths, and John Bourke, 6155 South Loomis street, an insurance man. Bourke admitted buying oil and accessories.

The youths used no weapons. They said they made "a specialty" of burglarizing gasoline stations and service stations after they were closed at night. Starting on their career about Aug. 1, they confessed stealing six automobiles and tires, oil and accessories worth about $3,000 in a few days. When seized they had $121 in their pockets.

"We liked to take the girls out for a good time—and that took money," they said, explaining the launching of their careers.

Tells of Winning Probation.

Young Mitchell also remarked he'd got away with it once and thought he might get off easy again. Then he explained he had stolen five autos and committed two burglaries in July, and added: "But I was only 16, you see, and the Juvenile court put me on probation and turned me loose."

They especially relished telling about inventing their auto smoke screen. It worked with a switch, they said, which when pulled caused a heavy blue vapor to be thrown from the exhaust. They used it several times.

"Once we tossed it at the police at 75th and South Shore," McGinnis chuckled. "We tied up traffic around there for 10 minutes."

The detectives said gangsters have been known to use the smoke screen in making getaways and they would investigate the youths' method. Walsh and Bourke will appear in the Stolen Auto court this morning on charges of receiving stolen property.

Our Liberty Depends Upon the Freedom of the Press, and That Cannot Be Limited Without Being Lost.---Thomas Jefferson.

THE PLAGUE OF BLIND OBEDIENCE.

"In the World war Germany and Russia fought against one another and in the end both of them were its victims. This will not happen a second time."

So saying, Herr Hitler plunged into the war in Poland. "If anything should happen to me, my successor will be Goering. If anything should happen to Goering, Hess will be the successor. I ask that they should be given an obedience as blind as is given to me."

Blind obedience—man at the nadir of his existence—has brought the world to its present pass, a pronouncement of death upon races, lands, aspirations, and civilization. The month of August, three years ago, contained in its 31 days the transition from a familiar world to one unrecognizable to the eye, the understanding, or the imagination.

At the beginning of the month the states of Europe were dealing with one another much as they had done for centuries. The diplomatic interchanges of the month, the reports from ambassadors to foreign ministers, the communications of secretaries and heads of government, the public utterances of authorities, all seem now as pieces of a past substantively as remote as the middle ages. The actors in this prelude were themselves little conscious of the future. They appraised its possible worst by recollection of the other World war.

Munich's consequences, the perfidy of Hitler in destroying the Czech state had shocked the moral sense but it had not undermined the confidence of the powers arrayed against Hitler. Poland, in general estimation, was a strong nation. The British and French empires were, as the then finance minister of France, Reynaud, said, the wealthiest and strongest in the world. They had sea power, man power, and resources denied Hitler. The French army was supposed to be magnificent.

"As you are aware," said Hitler to M. Coulondre, the French ambassador in Berlin, when the Nazi was trying to separate France from Britain and both from Poland, "I have just concluded a pact with Moscow that is not only theoretical but, I may say, practical. I believe I shall win, and you believe you will win: what is certain is that above all French and German blood will flow."

But not even Hitler could foresee that blind obedience would run around the world like a blight of vandalism. It is probably the worst plague the human species has known. Where it has prevailed it has destroyed the mind as well as the body. Intelligent obedience puts a government under constraint, requiring the consent of the governed. Blind obedience is the death of nations.

BINOCULARS AND TAXES.

The other day THE TRIBUNE published a photograph showing some boxholders at the race track. A number of them were watching the horses thru binoculars. The navy needs binoculars to save the lives of American seamen and has appealed to civilians to lend their glasses for the duration. Perhaps the binoculars shown in the picture were not of the kind desired by the navy. We hope that was the fact, for it ought to be unnecessary to say that it is more important to win the war than to see the expression on a horse's face. When American seamen are being killed for lack of the protection binoculars might give them, it is shocking to find that there still are people who fail to do the little that is asked of them to defeat the enemy.

It is particularly shocking because the government has been more than lenient to the wealthy patrons of the races. The losses incurred by a millionaire's racing stable may be deducted from his income for purposes of taxation just as if operating a racing stable were a business like running a grocery store. The truth, of course, is that with the fewest exceptions the rich men who maintain expensive racing establishments do so either for the sake of publicity, social prestige, or excitement. The ownership of a stable is a personal indulgence like the ownership of a yacht, and should be so regarded by the government's tax collectors.

Certainly now that the war is demanding the maximum of personal and financial sacrifices from every one, millionaire tax dodging of all sorts should be eliminated. It is not necessary here to mention the devices which are being employed. Suffice it to say that deductions of numerous sorts are permitted which could be denied by a more painstaking writing or enforcement of the law. Some very rich men succeed in paying only a small portion of their incomes to the government as a result of these deductions. The present arrangement reflects discredit either upon the majority in congress or upon the treasury department.

CREDIT WITHDRAWN.

A good many charge accounts at the stores have been suspended. The reason is that the stores have been obliged to deny further credit to customers until they have arranged to pay the balance that was past due when the federal reserve board's regulation "W" affecting retail charge accounts went into effect. By its terms, accounts have to be paid by the 10th day after the second month following the purchase. Those who have not yet settled for what they wore in the Easter parade won't be able to adopt as their own what the mannequins wore on the stage of W-G-N studio last Friday and Saturday. That is, they won't be able to until the matter of the old balance has been taken care of or they have found the means to lay it on the line.

The number of customers who have been declared ineligible for further credit is not trivial, as was shown by a survey conducted by the Chicago Federal Reserve bank. Stores here and in Detroit with a total of 548,055 open accounts found it necessary to shut off 88,822 by the 10th of last month. That is about one in six. In a representative group of New York stores, the federal reserve bank there has found that one-fourth of all charge accounts were frozen on July 10. In women's apparel and accessory stores the shut-off hit one-third of the accounts; in department and jewelry stores, one-fourth, and in men's clothing and furnishing stores, one-fifth. This should settle all arguments as to which is the weaker sex when confronted with tempting objects of expenditure.

A reduction in the number of those whose credit is good has no doubt been one of the influences which account for the fact that retail business is not as brisk as it was last year at this time. But the matter of credit is not the only explanation. This year's business appears to be poor because the comparison is with a period in 1941 when buyers were in a panic to get goods. The prospect of going bare legged sent droves of women to stores after it was announced last summer that no more silk would come into the country for a while and what silk was here would be reserved for defense uses. About the same time, the OPM was placing one material after another under priority and announcement was made that time purchases made after Labor day would be subject to the federal reserve's installment regulations. Fur buyers were invited to save themselves some money by buying before congress could enact a federal tax on furs and other luxuries. This year there are no corresponding influences to make the shoppers frantic.

By September the enthusiasms of shoppers had been dampened down a bit and sales of the department stores of the country fell from 134 in August to 116 in September and 105 in October, as shown by the federal reserve index, corrected for seasonal variation. Sales comparisons in the fall are likely to be more favorable than they recently have been. It has been a year since the boom, goods are being used up right along, and factory pay rolls now are more than 25 per cent larger than they were last summer and are continuing to expand.

ALMOST PERFECT.

Mayor Kelly says the black-out was almost 100 per cent successful and everybody who saw the lights of the city fade into total darkness for the first time in history will agree with him. The credit for a fine performance belongs equally to the volunteer army of citizens' defense corps workers and all the public. There was no failure anywhere in willingness to coöperate. What few lights were left on were the result of oversight and most of them were quickly doused.

It is probable that the routine of a black-out must be walked thru before it can be danced thru, and that explains why this test was made with full notice and preparations in advance. Had the rehearsal come unheralded, it is improbable that it would have been nearly so successful. The citizens might not have responded to the sirens with the same effect if they had not definitely known that the black-out was coming and when it would come. The corps of wardens might not have been mobilized and on the job.

If real air raids ever come, Chicagoans must benefit from the knowledge gained thru the rehearsal and act instantly. The citizens' defense units are beginning to know their jobs. It is probable that, as time goes on, the routine will be made familiar thru rehearsals staged without warning. The people should be ready for them and respond as if they really were under air attack. After all, no one can say that the real thing will never come.

Those who had advantageous observation posts could not fail to have been impressed by the solemn beauty of the city under a black-out. The spectacle and the feelings associated with it were symbolic of the awesome night that war has brought upon the whole world. In many places of the world men are fighting to hold off a perpetual night. We feel that no matter how far distant the day when we shall be rewarded with victory, we have acquired a symbol that will forever stir the spirit. Each year, on the succeeding anniversaries of the unrevealed Armistice day, we propose that we again turn down the lamps and that again in black-out we recollect the trials and the sacrifices of our nation and the perils passed.

Editorial of the Day

THE TRIBUNE STORY WAS TOO TRUE.

[Alton, Ill., Evening Telegraph.]

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE is to be investigated by a federal grand jury because of the publication of some interesting war news after the naval battle at Midway. If the offense of THE TRIBUNE went no further than publication of facts which have been cited, it is difficult to see how there could be any valid complaint.

THE TRIBUNE said that United States navy chiefs knew the exact number of ships in the Japanese armada which was met and vanquished at Midway, and what was left of it sent reeling back home. If the United States navy knew how many Jap ships there were before the battle that fact could be reassuring to many people who did not believe that Pearl Harbor had proved we had a competent wartime intelligence system, or, if we did, its information was not being given proper heed.

THE TRIBUNE also published that it was the purpose of the United States to raise an army of 10,000,000 men. That was done just before Pearl Harbor, and an army of great size actually is in course of preparation.

In neither instance does it seem there could be any justification for prosecuting THE TRIBUNE, or its representatives. It may be that the federal government dislikes such accuracy of reporting since it might indicate side sources of information. It may be hoped that prosecution of THE TRIBUNE would terrify those who gave and those who received the information, and made possible its publicity.

When publicity came it actually was too late for it to give any aid to the enemy because the Japanese knew all about what had happened at Midway, to their sorrow, and in consequence since have been unable to do much in the line of naval warfare. There has been inept handling of war news. Newspapers have been told that they owe a duty to the public to keep them informed, but newspapers must rely on government sources for their news or, for too much free enterprise on their part, face threat of prosecution. If THE TRIBUNE case comes into criminal courts it will illustrate the terrific governmental wartime powers that can be exerted to end freedom of the press.

FROM A DARKENED ROOM.

One minute the Chicago night was a blaze of light, a scene known, and familiar, and cherished. Then, one by one, the lights began to flicker out and it was an alien land—mystical and far off.

"The lamps are going out all over Europe," Sir Edward Grey, the great British statesman, had said that ominous dusk of Aug. 3, 1914, as he stood at his window in the foreign office and peered with his failing eyes into the twilight. "We shall not see them lit again in our time."

A guest, his face pressed against a window in our 15th floor eyrie, spoke quietly. "Remember what Robert Louis Stevenson said in his Lodging for the Night? It was so black in Paris that night that the snow gave it its only light."

* * *

Now the lights all were out save for three mysterious pin points, and what had been a geometric city of earthbound stone was a dark shadow of the fancy—a mass of minarets, and delicate turrets, and huge giants hunchbacked under the burden of a night made luminous only by the lights in the heavens.

Some one recited George Canning's lines:

"And finds with keen, discriminating sight
Black's not so very black nor white so very white."

And we recalled that most beautiful of all descriptions of blackness, that written in Jude xiii., by those 47 good men and exquisite writers who translated the King James version of the Bible:

" . . . wandering stars, to whom is reserved the blackness of darkness forever."

The blackness of darkness forever . . . and that lovely childhood prayer beginning, "Lighten our darkness, we beseech Thee, O, Lord."

* * *

Then with quiet suddenness a mist of purple light enfolded the crest of a distant tower. "The city of the mind," a guest said softly, and repeated that haunting, hungry phrase from Tennyson, "I wist I was in Camelot." Next a point of light, a yellow star, appeared on the tip of what had been a long, black finger thrust into the sky. And another. And another. Down there, far below and for miles around, a cardboard cutout was coming to life. The lights of a little red and yellow street car burst on to suspend it a toy against the darkness; Michigan avenue burst into light; neon signs flashed brave and red, and in a burst of color and luminescence as gay as Mardi gras, as triumphant as "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," Chicago's first black-out was over.

INDIAN BUREAU MOVES TO CHICAGO.

Dust off the tomahawks, tune up the drums,
Behold, the Indian Bureau comes!
Packed, and saddled, and ready to start
Employés massed for the last review
(Twenty per cent of them Indians, too);
Bravely conquering doubts and fears,
Faces turned toward the Trail of Tears,
Wave farewell to the Great White Dome,
And the lands down east that they once called home!
Poor, and lonely, and dispossessed,
Shoved out into the savage west.
Forced to saddle and told to ride,
Victims of civilization's tide,
To pitch their tents near nature's heart
On the twenty-fourth floor of the Merchandise Mart,
The Indian Bureau, wan and pale,
Marches forth down the Sunset Trail.

Luxury at 5:30.

I went into a store to buy an alarm clock and was shown one for $1.65. "Wrap it up," I said without further dallying. On receiving the change, I found that I had been charged $1.85. "But you said $1.65," I protested. "Right," said the salesman, "but there's a 2 per cent sales tax and a 10 per cent luxury tax."

"Luxury tax?" I asked, and came away in deep reflection. Here was a new one. To be awakened in the morning by an alarm clock was a luxury, and here for all these years I had been so ill-mannered as to swear when "luxury" called. I knew opportunity knocked at the door, but I never realized luxury rang the alarm. Shandy Gaff.

A Boaty Boat.

"Sometimes I wonder about justice. Last night I was down by the harbor, and there was the loveliest little boat I had even seen. Not a frivolous, luxury boat. A boaty boat. Long and clean, and lying bravely in the water. I sat there in the twilight being so romantic and emotional because I couldn't have it, and then slowly it turned around in the breeze and the name on the transom was Pickle Puss. In big, gold letters—Pickle Puss. Wasn't that something. There is no justice. Should God give a boat to people who call it Pickle Puss while my heart breaks for a beautiful little boat? Right there is the shape of the world to come. Do you see it?" E. Z.

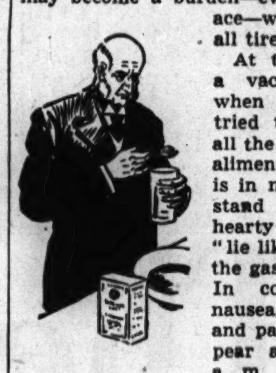
INDIGESTION WHEN OVERTIRED.

DESPITE all our good resolutions some of us will consume too much indigestible material. What would be handled with perfect ease under normal conditions may become a burden—even a menace—when we are all tired out.



At the end of a vacation day when we have tried to take in all the sights, the alimentary tube is in no mood to stand abuse. A hearty meal may "lie like lead" in the gastric pouch. In consequence, nausea, vomiting, and pain may appear at about 2 a. m. or shortly after rising.

Under such circumstances if we could look within the digestive tract we would observe instead of the normal pink appearing surface, areas of congestion with the cells of the velvetlike lining deeply engorged with blood. Slight oozing is not uncommon. Were the epidermis as highly irritated, skilled help surely would be needed.

But since the figurative "fire" is on the inside, what can be done? Without waiting for us to assume command, nature will endeavor to get rid of the offending material. Vomiting may be encouraged by drinking 2 or 3 glasses of tepid water to which a teaspoonful of baking soda has been added. This may be followed by a generous quantity of luke warm fluid—a pint or more. In fact, the alkali [soda] and the dilution of the contents will exert a soothing effect. At any rate, the patient will usually exclaim that he feels better. In this fashion we can spare the intestines a goodly amount of punishment thru emptying the "bread basket."

Attention should next be directed to the bowels. Even tho some cramping with diarrhea has been experienced, a simple laxative such as magnesium citrate may be employed. This is essential because bacteria may be multiplying in rapid profusion.

Because of the loss of water from the tissues [diarrhea], liquids will need to be supplied. This may be begun with small quantities of weak tea, sweetened with glucose or sugar. Three or four cups sipped slowly will restore water balance. After an hour's rest clear coffee, sweetened [without milk or cream], may be taken.

It is a safe rule not to allow solid nutriment on the day of the attack. Fruit juices, such as lemonade, grapefruit juice, etc. are acceptable. If all goes well soft foods may be started with breakfast on the second day. This menu may include a small portion of boiled rice, milk toast, cooked cereal, and one egg soft boiled or poached. No milk or cream is allowed until the third day.

It goes without saying that the victim should be completely at rest. This may present a problem to members of the family because these sufferers are unusually nervous and irritable, particularly if a dozen or more stools are passed each day. If no bacterial complication appears the afflicted one should be well on the road to recovery by the third day.

We need not be disturbed by the "washed out" appearance of the patient. But it is wise to make haste slowly as a "stuffing" program may usher in another bout—a renewal of hostilities. The reason it is well to be cautious about these acute episodes is that we do not choose to allow bacterial inflammation to fasten itself upon the bowel lining.

HEAD PAIN.

R. A. writes: Is there anything to ease the pain of neuralgia of the scalp?

REPLY.

The vapor of trichlorethylene may be of some assistance. Sprinkle a few drops on a handkerchief and inhale. The cause should be sought for and relieved.

THE WITCHING HOUR.

J. W. writes: Is it true that two hours sleep before midnight is better than six after?

REPLY.

An old saying but untrue. Most of us require 8 out of each 24 hours. It makes very little difference when we get it. The interval should be unbroken.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Space for letters is obviously limited. Incoming mail far exceeds it. If a letter is not printed, attribute it to lack of room. Address letters to Voice of the People, THE TRIBUNE.

"EUROPEANITIS."

Wausau, Wis., Aug. 11.—Mr. Angell, who wrote from New York castigating Rep. Fish, is suffering from a very bad case of Europeanitis and should take something for it. "Purges" originated in Russia, transferred to Germany, were adopted by our astute politicians, and will have to be eliminated from America along with all the rest of the retrogressive influences aiming for revolutionary action in an evolutionary land.

The desperation of the foreign element is now apparent, as the loyal elements have quieted down and allow the disloyal to make all the noise. THE TRIBUNE can take it as well as dish it out, when too many other publications cannot carry that balance. V. L. MORISETTE.

CHARGES WATER IN TRACTION SETUP.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—If the Illinois commerce commission does its full duty, with due regard for the interests of the taxpayers and straphangers of Chicago, it will disapprove the so-called traction reorganization plan.

The inflated capital structure of the reorganization plan constitutes not only a fraud on the public, because it establishes the basis for determining street car fares as well as the purchase price of the properties for municipal ownership, but it will also, by its own crushing weight, prevent the securing of new capital for modern transportation facilities. The combined properties of the surface and elevated lines are overcapitalized at roughly four times their actual value. What bank or banker will lend the 102 million dollars required for new equipment and modernization of the properties under the proposed financial setup?

FREDERICK J. BERTRAM.

A LARGE FAMILY, THE BROWNS.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—In Saturday's column appeared an article signed by one J. Brown, which is also my name, called "Department of Stool Pigeons." Since then, I have been criticized for sending you this article about our Chicago police force. Please do me a favor and state I am not the J. Brown who sent you this article. JACK BROWN, Illinois Vigilance Association.

OUT OF THE PAST.

Chicago, Aug. 11.—From a speech delivered by Franklin D. Roosevelt Sept. 2, 1940, at the dedication ceremonies of the Great Smoky Mountains National park: "It is our pride that in our country men are free to differ with each other and with their government, and to follow their own thoughts and express them."

W. L. N.

THE CHOICE HE MAKES.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—As a voter choosing between Candidates Brooks and McKeough, my conscience dictates this message: "Stand by your patriotism. Vote for Sen. Brooks, seven times wounded and decorated with military honors. He is a battlefield, not a swivel chair, patriot." J. H. C.

MOANING AT THE BAR.

Cherry Hill, Joliet, Ill.—Aug. 10.—From all the "moaning at the bar" recently, one could almost be led to believe that Tennyson had prophetic vision of Mayor Kelly and the present Chicago city council.

Personally I see no good reason why women who wish to patronize taverns should not be allowed all of the privileges and perquisites of the masculine habitues of such places, including the barroom floor and the erstwhile back room benches for recuperation.

May there be no more moaning at Chicago's bars! J. W. O.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—Once a week a friend and I go to a bowling alley for a little well deserved recreation. After bowling a few lines, we go into the bar to have a few drinks and watch the entertainment. We bother no one and feel we are doing no harm. Our husbands are both overseas fighting to protect our country's freedom. What freedom? After working hard all week, I'm not going to coop myself up in a dark, old tavern booth, when I happen to want a drink, just because it looks undignified and our men can't tell the difference between an amateur and a professional.

WAR WIDOW.

Chicago, Aug. 11.—Banning women from sitting at bars is certainly not going to help the morale of Chicago women. Every one should be free to choose his own way of spending time, or isn't this a free country any more? If we can't sit where we want to sit any more, we might just as well be in Germany. SIX LADIES.

Chicago, Aug. 11.—I feel ashamed of all these women making so much fuss over not being able to sit at a bar. They should turn all that carefree money and time over for some useful cause, such as bonds, Red Cross, or USO. I. H.

Chicago, Aug. 11.—"Woman Citizen," commenting on the bar ban today, says that if we women insist on drinking, we should "stay in our own territory, with own company." I infinitely prefer the company of men. BUSINESS WOMAN.

TWIN TOMFOOLERY?

Chicago, Aug. 9.—Again you print an editorial, "Silver Nonsense," and again I ask you, "What about gold nonsense?" What you say about silver is correct, but doesn't it apply with equal truth to gold? D. DAVIDSON.

PERMANENT REGISTRATION.

Highland Park, Ill., Aug. 10.—There is an inaccuracy in your editorial on permanent registration in today's TRIBUNE. May I call your attention to the provision of the act that "an otherwise qualified elector not registered under the terms of this act, may, upon compliance with this section, vote in one, but not more than one, election prior to that on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1946."

Therefore your statement that "unless a voter . . . registers between now and Oct. 6 he will be denied a ballot on election day" is not accurate.

ISABEL S. SIMONS.

DOCTORS IN BLACK-OUTS.

Chicago, Aug. 11.—In order for a doctor to answer calls during a black-out, he must travel to the board of health and sign in person something so that he will be granted insignia to attach to his car. There are 113.5 columns of doctors in the telephone book, averaging 78 names to the column. Taking a fair mileage of 20 miles, it totals 8,853 doctors and 177,060 miles of rubber to get that insignia, if they all were fools enough to do it. That is conserving rubber, O yeah.

LIABILITY FOR NOTE.

Burlington, Ia., Aug. 5.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Will I have to pay a note [1] which I did not find but for which I have a receipt signed by this party holding note? He is deceased now. It reads "received full payment," and is signed by this person in her own handwriting before she died.

2. Can any one collect this note if found? W. M. G.

1. We assume that you mean that assuming that a paid note would ordinarily be in the possession of the debtor who has made the payment, you have searched for the canceled note but without success.

2. If you paid before maturity and left the uncanceled note in the hands of the creditor, then he could sell to a "holder in due course" who could collect from you. A mere finder would not be a holder in due course and hence would be subject to your defense of payment as would be also the holder to whom you made the payment. If the latter brings suit against you, the result will depend on which testimony is believed in court.

Test Your Horse Sense

By Dr. George W. Crane

Select the answers which you consider best. The last problem counts five points. Then look for the correct answers on page 32.

1. You should associate pygmies with which of these continents?
   Asia South America Africa Europe.
2. How many 80 acre farms are contained in one section of land?
   2 4 6 8.
3. Which one of the following is most likely to be used on interior walls?
   Stucco Stubble Stipple Staccato.
4. Which one of these feminine adoptions is most distasteful to men?
   Rouge Slacks Chewing gum Lipstick.
5. Which geometric figure is considered to be the most secure brace in construction work? Square Circle Triangle Rectangle.
6. A few years ago a new viewpoint in learning was advanced under the heading of "Gestalt psychology." It held that we tend to learn new ideas in relationship to the entire pattern of their environment. Unfortunately, our grammar schooling in past years often consisted of isolated facts that were divorced from their practical context. Today I am giving you a True-False problem in the realm of geography. If you think a statement is true, encircle the letter T. If you deem it false, do the same for the letter F. If you fail to make five points on this problem, it will probably indicate that the Gestalt principle was not utilized in your geography class back in grammar school.

T F 5. Detroit is farther west than is Atlanta.

Score yourself as follows: 0-2, poor; 3-6, average; 7-8, superior; 9-10, very superior. [Note—The last question counts five points.]

ICKES CAN'T TELL ABOUT RATIONING GAS IN MIDWEST

Meanwhile OPA Studies Oil Curb for East.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13 (AP).—Petroleum Coördinator Harold Ickes said today "we can't tell now" whether gasoline rationing would be necessary in the midwest or fuel oil rationing needed in the east.

"We can't guess on the oil that will be available in the winter," Ickes said. "We won't know the effect of pulling additional tank cars out of the west until the cars are moved, and we don't know yet what rearrangements and substitute transportation can be found out there."

Asked about reports that the Office of Price Administraton was preparing an eastern rationing plan for fuel oil, Ickes said he would not comment on what OPA was doing, but emphasized that his petroleum coördination office was not now working on any fuel oil rationing system.

OPA Studies Plan.

An OPA official said yesterday that such a ration plan was being canvassed with eastern petroleum distributing and producing companies.

The OPA spokesman asserted, however, that the week long series of conferences were chiefly exploratory, as the War Production board had not determined whether to ration or curtail consumption of the fuel oil by limiting deliveries to dealers.

In the senate Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge [R., Mass.] introduced legislation to establish an Office of Petroleum Administration which would control the nation-wide shipment of petroleum products and have overall supervision of the gasoline-oil rationing program.

Lodge told the senate that the measure would set up a "unified authority replacing the present divided authority which has led so many people to complain that they are victims of 'passing the buck.'"

Expects Only Gasoline Cut.

Ickes told his press conference that if an oil shortage developed in the midwest he thought any curtailment would be applied only to gasoline and that conversion of house heating furnaces from oil to coal would be unnecessary in that area.

"But, if I lived out there," he added, "I'd order my oil in, and have my tank full."

Ickes reported that oil movements by rail to the east hit a new peak last week of 809,430 barrels daily. He said 67,400 rail tank cars were used in the movement.

Of the total number of cars employed, Ickes reported 2,500 were recently taken from the midwest service and put into the eastern states service. The coördinator said the fuel oil situation in New England was "very much improved."

FARMERS BRAND ROAD OIL BAN AS NEW CROP PERIL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—Sen. Wayland Brooks, [R., Ill.] said today that he had received numerous complaints from farm bureaus, county highway agencies, and township officers against a ruling by Petroleum Coördinator Harold Ickes which limits the use of oil for roads.

Unless supplies of oil are made available, roads will become impassable next winter and make it impossible for farmers to market their crops, Brooks was told.

The case for the farmers in 12 Illinois counties was presented by D. L. Clarke, president of the Sangamon county farm bureau, who declared that some means should be worked out whereby at least a portion of the roads in counties of high agricultural production should be able to get road oil or its equivalent to take care of what he said was an emergency situation.

NOMINATE SKUBE OF SPRINGFIELD TO HEAD EAGLES

John Skube of Springfield was nominated for president of the Illinois Fraternal Order of Eagles yesterday in conjunction with the convention of the national order in the Morrison hotel. He has been state vice president.

Other men nominated for office in the Illinois organization were Harry McQueen, Rockford, vice president; James F. Madden, Rock Island, chaplain; F. C. Baughman, Galesburg, conductor; O. G. Hanna, Chicago, treasurer, and R. A. Rohde, Peoria, secretary.

The national convention is the order's 44th. The convention has drawn 2,500 delegates. Frank E. Herring of South Bend, Ind., editor of the Eagles magazine, called upon the delegates to pledge their lives and fortunes to the war cause.

COATS WORTH $248 STOLEN.

Irving Barginski, 2332 Palmer street, reported to police that $248 worth of ladies' coats were taken from his truck while it was parked at the rear of 836 Roosevelt road last night.

DODGE HEIR DIES AFTER ARREST AND COLLAPSE

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 13 [Special].—John Duval Dodge, 43, eldest son of the late multimillionaire auto maker, John F. Dodge, died in Receiving hospital tonight of a cerebral hemorrhage incurred early yesterday in an altercation in connection with which he was arrested.

Dodge was arrested at 3:30 a. m. yesterday in the home of Howard E. Lange, real estate man, after police were summoned by a neighbor woman who reported seeing a prowler about the place. Taken to a station, where he vigorously protested his arrest, Dodge collapsed and struck his head on the floor, officers said.

Prosecutor William E. Dowling said today, after a two day investigation, he was informed that a quarrel in which Dodge struck his wife while another woman looked on in the Lange home preceded his arrest. The prosecutor said he concluded that the excitement in the Lange home probably brought on his condition of coma, from which he never regained consciousness.

GETS 5 TO 7 YEAR TERM ON 3 'CON' GAME CHARGES

Carrolyn E. Crump, 6571 Glenwood avenue, who prefers to be known as "Col. Edward C. Crump," yesterday was sentenced to a five to seven year prison term on three charges of operating a confidence game.

The three victims were Jens P. Christensen, 4503 Wrightwood avenue, William F. Krahl, a contractor of 350 North Clark street, and Miss Edna Shockley, 3415 Van Buren street. All of them said that Crump, once sentenced to one to five years in an Indiana prison for selling worthless securities, talked of grandiose schemes that involved millions of dollars.

Christensen told Judge John Lupe in Criminal court that Crump obtained $2,500 from him on a promise of letting him participate in a project to build prefabricated homes for defense workers. Krahl said Crump obtained $1,200 from him thru another construction "project," while Miss Schockley said she gave Crump $800 for a coal mine.

DIES OF HEART ATTACK AFTER HE AIDS SICK FRIEND

Cecil W. Green, 36 years old, 1314 North Claremont avenue, played the Good Samaritan yesterday when a fellow worker, Frank Wyceslow, 56, of 6222 Norwood avenue, was stricken with a heart attack at the Athletic Shoe company, 924 North Marshfield avenue. Green drove Wyceslow to St. Mary's hospital, waited until he learned that Wyceslow would recover, Green returned to work. A few minutes later he was stricken with a heart attack. Fellow workers hurried him to St. Elizabeth's hospital. But Green was pronounced dead on arrival.

Marshall Field Estate Sues City for $397,564

Trustees of the Marshall Field estate filed suit in Superior court yesterday to recover $397,564 from the city, which, it is alleged, was expended in demolishing the 16 story Great Northern hotel in connection with the Dearborn street subway.

FOUND SHOT TO DEATH.

Edward Rada, 49 years old, an unemployed truck driver, was found shot to death, presumably a suicide, in his home at 1425 South Clinton avenue, Berwyn, last night.

OBITUARIES

Thomas Moran.

Thomas Moran, retired policeman, died yesterday in his home at 5403 Van Buren street. He was 86 years old, a native of County Kerry, Ireland. Mr. Moran retired in 1922 after 38 years on the police force, and was one of the oldest members of the Policemen's Benevolent association. He served all of his 38 years at the old Harrison street police station and was detailed for 36 of those years at the La Salle street station. He leaves his son, Gerald, also a policeman, and a daughter, Margaret. Funeral services will be held from the home at 9:30 a. m. Monday to Resurrection church.

Thomas W. Golden.

Services for Thomas W. Golden Sr., 5422 Adams street, who died Wednesday in his home, will be at 11 a. m. today in the Resurrection church, 5072 Jackson boulevard. Burial will be in Mount Carmel cemetery. Golden, who was 73 years old, retired six months ago as head of the Chicago water department of the French Lick Springs Hotel company, a position he had filled 40 years. He was a past president of the Illinois Pharmaceutical association and a charter member of the Chicago Drug club. Survivors include the widow, Jennie; two daughters and a son.

Brig. Gen. Orville A. Petty.

New Haven, Conn., Aug. 13 (AP).—Brig Gen. Orville A. Petty, 68 years old, soldier and clergyman, died last night. He was formerly pastor of Plymouth Congregational church, a regimental chaplain of the Mexican border in 1916, and senior chaplain of the 102d Connecticut Infantry regiment in France, winning the Croix de Guerre and a citation from Gen John J. Pershing. He studied at the University of Chicago and other schools. He formerly was pastor of the First Congregational church, Aurora, Ill.

Mrs. Karen Anderson.

Mrs. Karen Anderson, 94 years old, widow of a Swedish sea captain killed in 1903 in a shipwreck, died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Hilma Engberg, 6620 North Maplewood avenue. She came to the United States in 1923 to live with her daughter, who had come 30 years earlier. Another daughter, Mrs. Charles Oberg, 6067 North Hermitage avenue, also survives.

Bernard Byrne.

Bernard Byrne, 75 years old, a Chicago policeman for 33 years prior to his retirement in 1932, died yesterday of a heart ailment in his home at 7226 Greenwood avenue. He had lived in the Grand Crossing area for 50 years. The funeral will be held tomorrow at 11 a. m. from St. Lawrence's church. Surviving are his widow, Margaret; five sons, and two daughters.

Bernard J. Drach.

The funeral of Bernard J. Drach, 48 years old, will be held tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock from the chapel at 639 East 47th street. Mr. Drach, a partner in the Drach and Weinfeld jewelry company, died Wednesday of a heart attack in his home at 1755 East 55th street. His widow, Sadye, survives.

Frederick Haines.

Rockford, Ill., Aug. 13 [Special].—Frederick Haines, 78 years old, former state representative from the 10th district, died last night at St. Anthony hospital. He served in the state legislature from 1902 to 1906.

Sydney Arthur Hale.

Tarrytown, N. Y., Aug. 13 (AP).—Sydney Arthur Hale, 54 years old, editor of the magazine Coal Age, died yesterday. He was born in Chicago.

PREDICTS 21,000 WILL BE HURT BY CARS THIS YEAR

A prediction that nearly 21,000 Chicagoans would be injured in traffic accidents in this year was made by the Greater Chicago Safety council in a special report issued yesterday. The forecast was based on statistics showing that an average of 56 persons had been injured every day since Jan. 1, 1942, in traffic accidents here. The rate, however, was lower than the record for 1941, when an average of 69 persons a day were hurt.

A woman was injured and her man companion bruised last night when their car overturned at a curve on Chicago road in Thornton. They were taken to Ingalls Memorial hospital, Harvey, by Arthur Sweden of Thornton. The man identified his companion as Helen Malecki, 8153 Escanaba avenue, laid $10 on the hospital desk, and disappeared. He did not give his name. Police said the license of his car was issued to William Hinton, 121 West 112th place.

Injuries suffered July 2 on state route 21 one-half mile north of Libertyville proved fatal yesterday to John Stuart Willmarth, 13 years old, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Willmarth of Gurnee. He was struck while riding a bicycle by an automobile operated by Albert Bigoness, 5627 North Meade avenue.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 441 persons had lost their lives in auto accidents in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of this number, 343 were killed in Chicago, where 12,622 were injured.

PERSONAL THINGS OF BARRYMORE TO BE AUCTIONED

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 13 (AP).—John Barrymore's personal effects and house furnishings, testifying to his many sided character, will go on the auction block Aug. 24 and 25 to satisfy tax judgments and creditors.

There is the "$5,000 doorstop," a book hand written on vellum about 1425 A. D., and credited to Jean Froissart, with which the actor propped open a creaky door in his house. Then there is a letter Abraham Lincoln wrote to Barrymore's grandmother, Mrs. Louise Drew.

Barrymore died May 29 and altho his earnings had run into millions, he had saved little.

Among things he treasured to the last were rare and antique statuary, brought from Italy; a library of valuable volumes, a crayon portrait of him by John Sargent, a marble bust of him by Paul Manship, collections of church vestments from Spain, and an armor suit of Richard the Third.

ILLINOIS INCOME TAX COLLECTIONS UP 90% IN YEAR

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13 (AP).—Total income tax collections in Illinois in the 1942 fiscal year, which ended June 30, were 90.7 per cent greater than in the preceding year, the treasury reported today.

Individual income tax collections rose 125.3 per cent and corporation income taxes 63.8 per cent. Comparative figures for fiscal 1942 and 1941 were given by the bureau of internal revenue as:

Total income tax, $550,423,348.53 and $288,648,005.02; individual, $284,336,275.81 and $126,180,039.66; corporation, $266,087,072.72 and $162,468,965.36.

Internal revenue collections of all types in Illinois were 79.9 per cent greater than in the 1941 fiscal year, with miscellaneous revenue, including excess profits taxes, up 89 per cent and employment taxes, including carrier taxes, up 23 per cent.

DEATH ENDS YOUTH'S LONG FIGHT AGAINST INFANTILE PARALYSIS

Le Roy Ponshe, 16 years old, whose fight for nearly a year against effects of infantile paralysis had won the admiration of Chicagoans, died early yesterday in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ponshe of 2024 West 67th place. He apparently was the victim of a heart attack, resulting from his long illness.

The youth, stricken with the paralysis last Sept. 24, was in an iron lung at Wesley Memorial and Contagious Disease hospitals until June 22. He was taken home Aug. 1, and Wednesday night listened to black-out broadcasts from his wheel chair.

The respirator in which Ponshe lived was purchased by funds from the President's Birthday ball last year. The Cook county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and others paid expenses involved in his treatment. On Jan. 15 he received a letter from the White House thanking him for a $1 contribution to the foundation.

Services will be at 9:30 a. m. Monday in the Church of the Assumption, 60th street and Marshfield avenue. Burial will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

MRS. E. G. METZ DIES IN ALBANY; FUNERAL TODAY

Mrs. Elizabeth Gates Metz, 63 years old, wife of Dr. Robert Metz, 2300 Lincoln Park west, died yesterday in the City hospital at Albany, N. Y.

Mrs. Metz was the daughter of Dr. Joseph King Ross, founder of the Presbyterian hospital and Rush Medical college. Her paternal grandfather, Tuthill King, was a pioneer Chicagoan. Dr. and Mrs. Metz were married in Frankfort-on-Main, Germany, on Thanksgiving day, 1914. Mrs. Metz had lived recently in her home at Lenox, Mass.

She was a member of the Chicago chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and of the Fourth Presbyterian church. She is survived by her husband, a sister, Mrs. Frederick T. Haskell of New York, and a brother, William H. Ross of Nice, France. Interment will be today in Graceland cemetery.

ARMY HOSPITAL UNIT PARADES IN OAK PARK TODAY

Oak Park will turn out this afternoon to honor more than 500 suburban area men and women who will leave tomorrow for training as evacuation hospital unit 25. The unit was recruited from West Suburban hospital.

The unit will parade, starting at 2 p. m., from Cummings square. The main line of march will be along Lake street in the business district. It is expected that more than a ton of confetti will be showered on the marchers. Veterans' units will participate.

The unit is made up of 417 enlisted men, 52 nurses, and 38 doctors. Its commanding officer is Lieut. Col. W. J. Potts, M. D. They will be given a formal sendoff in Scoville park at the end of the march by Maj. Ford Hicks, army medical corps; Lieut. Ida Donaldson of the nurses division, and Village Trustee Dorothy Kerr.

C. R. WALGREEN'S $1,901,000 ESTATE PAYS $77,843 TAX

An inheritance tax schedule and appraisal filed in the County court yesterday showed that Charles R. Walgreen, founder of the $27,000,000 drug store chain who died Dec. 11, 1939, left a gross estate of $1,901,000. This is subject to a federal estate tax of $51,382 and an Illinois inheritance tax of $26,461. Among the principal assets of the estate were 70,730 shares of Walgreen common stock. Listed with the main deductions were $595,102 in notes payable to the widow, Myrtle N. Walgreen. The bulk of the estate is left to Mrs. Walgreen, her son, Charles Jr., Mrs. John W. Stefan, a daughter, and other relatives.

KITCHEN DRUDGE REBELS AT FATE LIFE DEALS HIM

Things Will Be Different Now, It Appears.

Last Monday the spirit of rebellion took possession of Walter Holberg, 43 years old. He stripped off his apron, tossed the dish rag into a corner, and squared his shoulders. He was determined not to be a household drudge any longer. He put two toy pistols in his hip pockets and walked out of his home at 2524 North Maplewood avenue.

A few minutes later he stepped into the jewelry store of Frank Wieshuber of 2551 Fullerton avenue, the shiny popguns in his hands.

"Stick 'em up!" Holberg ordered. Wieshuber stepped out from behind the counter. "Help yourself, buddy," he said. "I don't want to get hurt!" Whereupon he ran out of the store, looking for policemen.

Offers No Resistance.

The forces of the law approached the store cautiously, peering in the window to see what the robber was doing. He was just standing there, the toy pistols hanging at his side. They rushed him. He made no resistance.

"I just wanted to get pinched," Holberg said. And yesterday before Judge William V. Daly in Felony court, a policeman told why.

"Your honor, he told us his wife had made him do all the housework for several years. He had to scrub, clean, dust, wash the dishes, do the washing every Monday, and take care of a 5 year old son. His wife made him wear an apron around the house. He just got sick and tired of it all, so he decided to do something to go to jail."

No Housework in Prison.

"Well," said Judge Daly, "I can sentence him to 1 to 14 years for this." The judge turned to the defendant. "You won't have to do any housework in prison. You won't have any child to take care of. They'll cook your meals, such as they are, for you there too. What do you say?"

"Judge, your honor," said Walter, "I've been in jail since last Monday. Locked in a cell. Judge, washing dishes doesn't seem half bad now. And I'm even willing to put the apron back on."

Judge Daly smiled upon the prisoner at the bar.

"I have known a few days in jail to change many a man's notions," he said. "Discharged."

At home again last night, conditions had changed for Holberg. Mrs. Holberg indicated she's an understanding woman.

"It was all my fault," she said. "I thought since I was making good money in a defense plant, it would be better for him to stay home than to get a woman in. I never dreamed he felt so deeply about it. It'll be different now."

PROPOSE CURFEW AT MIDNIGHT FOR RADIO STATIONS

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13 (AP).—A shutdown of midnight to dawn radio programs is one of a half-dozen suggestions submitted to Chairman James L. Fly of the Federal Communications commission in response to his request for proposals to save scarce materials in the broadcasting industry, a War Production board spokesman said tonight. Another suggestion offered was that FCC authorize the complete closure of some or all of an estimated 100 stations reportedly operating at a financial loss.

The ideas were offered by Leighton H. Peebles, chief of the WPB communications branch, but the spokesman emphasized they have no standing as a WPB proposal and have not been drafted as a proposed order. Another suggestion advanced by Peebles was that of staggering broadcasting hours or days. This was explained as an arrangement under which one station in a large city could go on the air for two hours, then close while another station broadcast for two hours, and so on. A variant of this plan was the suggestion that stations broadcast on alternate days.

PERSISTENT COP GETS HIS MAN AFTER 6 WEEKS

Nightly for the last six weeks Policeman Elmer Rathsam of the Sheffield avenue station went out looking for Alex Dome, 36 years old, who was wanted on a warrant charging him with passing a bogus check for $242. But Dome was elusive. He was a two town fellow.

The warrant was issued June 29 on complaint of Lionel Lakiff, owner of the Reliable Liquor company, 3748 West 26th street, that Dome gave him a bogus check for 10 cases of liquor. Up to then Dome had bought liquor in large quantities for cash and Lakiff assumed his check was good.

The warrant was given to Policeman Rathsam to serve. Every night since June 29 Rathsam went to 2642 North Halsted street, where Dome had rented a room. Last night he returned to his Halsted street home from his other home in Pfeiffer, Kas. Dome told police he came to Chicago to buy liquor, which he sold downstate at a profit.

ROBBER SLASHES EXECUTIVE OF REALTY COMPANY

Paul De Lacour, a former captain in the old French army, was slashed on the neck last night by a Negro knifeman in a robbery at the 33d street-Wabash avenue station of the elevated lines.

De Lacour had just left a special defense class at the Illinois Institute of Technology for his home at 7940 Green street when the thief crept up behind him and slashed him on the neck. He took De Lacour's wallet, containing $8. De Lacour was taken to Michael Reese hospital.

De Lacour is 58 years old and manager of the insurance department of the Edmund A. Martin Real Estate company, 1137 West 79th street. He came to America in 1912 after having served as a captain in the French army. In 1917 and 1918 he served as a drill officer in the American army.

LOAN
New plan takes care of most money problems

Do you sometimes run short of cash before payday?

With a Check-Credit account, after arranging for automatic credit, you have only to write a check to get the money you need. Just that quickly you can borrow $25 until next payday, anytime you need it.

You don't have to ask anyone—or tell anyone—not even us. Next payday, deposit your salary in your Check-Credit account (by mail if you wish). The amount of your loan plus $1 is deducted from your account. Simple, isn't it? And wonderfully convenient!

Pay bills by check, too. The cost is only 5¢ per check or item of deposit. No minimum balance is required—keep as little or as much on deposit as you like. Each time you write your own check you save 3¢ to 17¢ of money order cost.

HONEY OR SIRUP MAY BE USED IN PEACH CANNING

Now's the Time to Stock the Pantry Shelves.

There will be little cause for regret when the peach season has passed if jars of the home canned fruit are stored away for future use on pantry shelves. A scarcity of sugar won't excuse you for neglecting to preserve those luscious peaches, for they may be canned with honey or corn sirup, or with no sweetening at all.

If honey is used, be sure that it is light in color and mild in flavor, since honey tends to change the color and flavor of the fruit. If honey is too thick to pour easily, let the jar stand in hot water until it becomes thin and pourable. Make the canning sirup by boiling together for 2 minutes 1 cup honey for each 2 cups water.

Since corn sirup is less sweet than granulated sugar you'll need equal amounts of sirup and water if sirup is used. The flavor of peaches canned with sirup will be improved with the addition of 1 teaspoon lemon juice or a few grains of salt to each quart of fruit. As an extra precaution against fermentation, fruits canned with honey or corn sirup should be processed in a hot water bath for 15 minutes.

If sugar is preferred, prepare a thin sirup by boiling together for 2 minutes 1 cup sugar for each 3 cups of water, and can fruit according to either of these methods:

CANNING PEACHES.

[Open Kettle Method.]

Select firm, ripe peaches. Dip in boiling water for 1 minute, then dip in cold water and remove skins. The clingstone varieties are usually canned whole, the freestones cut in halves or sliced. Cook in sirup desired for 20 minutes, or until clear or tender. Pack carefully and tightly, cut side down, into hot, sterilized jars. Seal each jar immediately before filling the next.

[Cold Pack Method.]

Select firm ripe fruit. Dip in boiling water for 1 minute; then in cold, and peel immediately. Leave clingstones whole; cut freestones in half, remove seeds, and slice if desired. Float peaches in boiling sirup or water for 1 minute, then drain and pack closely, cut side down, into hot, sterilized jars. Fill jars to within ½ inch of top with sirup or water, and process in hot water bath for 20 minutes; or in 250 degree oven for 70 minutes.

Fish Fillet and Steak.

Know the difference between a fish fillet and a fish steak? The fillet is the boned side of a fish, and the steak is a crosswise cut from the whole fish.

SALMON LOAF, HOT OR COLD, IS TASTY DISH

Try Making Omelet with Leftover Fish.

Turn this flavorsome salmon loaf upside down on the platter and serve it hot with a creamy white sauce, or let it cool and slice it for the buffet or picnic supper. Sliced, hard cooked eggs and chopped ripe olives appear on the surface, to make an attractive topping for the loaf.

Upside Down Salmon Loaf.

[Serves six.]

- 3 hard cooked eggs, sliced
- ¼ cup chopped ripe olives
- 1 pound can salmon, flaked
- ½ cup soft bread crumbs
- ¼ cup diced celery
- 1 tablespoon chopped parsley
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 2 tablespoons melted butter
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon white pepper
- ⅔ cup milk

Arrange egg slices and olives in greased loaf pan. Combine flaked salmon with bread crumbs, celery, parsley, lemon juice and melted butter. Add seasonings and milk to moisten, and mix well. Pack into pan and bake for 35 minutes at moderate temperature, 350 degrees. Unmold and serve.

Turn your leftover fish into an omelet. This recipe will use as much as 2 cups of flaked leftover fish. Of course, fresh fish may be used if you like.

Fish Flake Omelet.

- 1 to 2 cups flaked leftover fish
- ½ cup milk [or fish stock]
- ¼ teaspoon black pepper
- 2 teaspoons chopped parsley
- 2 tablespoons grated onion
- 3 tablespoons vinegar or lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 4 tablespoons melted butter or cooking oil
- 4 eggs

Flake fish and add pepper, parsley, onion, vinegar, and salt. Beat egg yolks and add milk, then the fish mixture. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Heat fat slowly in skillet and pour egg mixture into hot fat. Let cook slowly over low heat until bottom crust is browned, then place in slow [300 degrees] oven to dry out on top. Fold over and serve.

Don't try to "sell" your family on a breakfast they just don't like. Instead, give 'em Wheaties, America's favorite whole wheat flakes. Crisp, sweet-tasting flakes. Whole wheat with a "second helping" flavor.

Uncle Sam says:

EAT MORE CHEESE!

THERE'S PLENTY FOR EVERYBODY

"During wartime when everything is becoming scarcer, it is a magnificent achievement and a tribute to dairy farmers and the cheese industry to have ample supplies, not only for use here at home, but also for our allies. We urge American consumers to eat more cheese. It is a rich source of food elements that are vital to good health."

. . . CLAUDE R. WICKARD
Secretary, U. S. Dept. of Agriculture

You're serving lots of salads for health these days? Add some cheese for more flavor and food value! You're packing a lunch box for a war worker? Slice the cheddar thick; it helps supply food values he needs for strength and efficiency. Cook with cheese, too! Pass it with crackers for dessert!

—For, thanks to America's dairy farmers (who, a year ago, patriotically responded to the government's call for more milk, more cheese) this country has plenty of fine, nutritious cheese for everybody. So buy some American Cheddar today... start serving it regularly!

LOOK HOW CHEESE HELPS MAKE YOU STRONG:

✓ FOOD ENERGY . . . for pep and working power.
✓ VITAMIN A and VITAMIN G . . . essential in the well-balanced diet for buoyant health.

TRICK MAKES IT EASY TO REMOVE PARAFFIN SEALS

Here's a trick that will eliminate your struggles to remove the paraffin seals from your jams and jellies next winter. When making the seal pour on a thin layer of paraffin and let it harden. Then place a clean string or narrow ribbon over this layer, having one end extending out over the rim of the glass. Pour another coating of paraffin over the string and let it harden. To prevent dust settling on your jelly, make the seal as soon as you've poured the fruit mixture. If you are making lots of preserves, paste neat little name tags on the sides of the glasses. Then when company comes you can locate just the right jelly without a "hunt."

TODAY'S PRIZE RECIPE

Minted Pear Freeze.

[Serves six.]

- 1 No. 2½ can pears
- 4 2-inch sprigs of fresh mint [or about 2 drops artificial flavoring]
- 6 marshmallows, cut in quarters
- 3 tablespoons lime flavored gelatin

Drain pears and bring juice to boil with mint in it. Remove from heat and remove mint. Add marshmallows and gelatin, and stir until both are dissolved. Put pears thru coarse sieve and add to liquid mixture. Place in freezing tray of automatic refrigerator and freeze until firm. For better texture remove from refrigerator when mushy and beat well, then return to freezing compartment until solid.

A Message from Domino Cane Sugars

The American Sugar Refining Company

TO OUR FRIENDS:

For years we have prided ourselves on service to you--in spite of storm, flood and other emergency. There has been a steady flow of familiar Domino Cane Sugar packages from our refineries to the stores you patronize. But the war which has changed so many things has changed that!

We are proud to co-operate with the Office of Price Administration, which has requested us for the present to accept no more orders for shipment to you and our other friends in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. This request from Washington is the logical result of present reductions in available raw sugar for southern refineries.

We are confident that you who have used Domino Pure Sugar Cane Sugars for so many years, will therefore understand why stocks of Domino packages at your store will necessarily diminish for the present. Your needs, within ration limits, will be supplied from other areas.

In the meantime, you may be sure that under the Government program we will be serving other sections of the country to the limit of our ability.

And the time will come when we can renew our friendly relations here with full-time service on Domino Sugars for every purpose. Until then, there is much work to be done . . . there are many sacrifices to be made. The big job--the only important job--is winning the war. We are glad that sugar can help!

IT'S SLO-BAKED WONDER BREAD
IT'S SLO-BAKED WONDER BREAD
WONDER Enriched

Takes The Place Of Any White Bread Deficient In Natural Flavor, Vitamins And Minerals Because It Contains More Natural Flavor, Wheat Vitamins And Minerals

AT LAST! At your grocer's today the new kind of bread you have heard so much about. The "patented flavor" bread which already has taken the place of ordinary kinds in over 540,000 American homes because:

1. Because it brings more of the rich, natural flavor of wheat full-ripened in the sun than white bread robbed of Nature's bounty. Thus, is better for taste.
2. Because it contains more natural vitamins and minerals of wheat now than ever before thought possible.

You can see the difference at once. Gone is the chalk-white look of the ordinary baker's bread. Instead, this new "patented flavor" kind has the color of the cream on the top of the bottle of milk.

A Remarkable Discovery

Everybody knows the trouble with ordinary white bread. Made from flour bled white in refining to make a whiter loaf. Then Theodore Earle patented his discovery (U. S. Pat. Nos. 2143306, 2232697, 2155219, 2232696). And here is the secret of "patented flavor."

By removing the bad-tasting outer skin of the grain, you get this richer, better tasting loaf. A bread the color of cream; tender in texture and crust. And with more natural vitamins and minerals.

To obtain this amazing new "patented flavor" loaf—ask your grocer for the new Wonder Bread. And see for yourself why women everywhere are quitting ordinary white bread for this new kind at the rate of over 5,000 a week now.

A Great Thrill

Most people are astonished and thrilled by their first taste of this new "patented flavor" Wonder Bread. Not the flat, insipid flavor of the usual chalk-white kind. But refreshingly different! Like the taste of fresh fruit after canned. You'll say it's marvelous!

But discover how much better this new "patented flavor" Wonder Bread tastes. Mothers of growing children and wives of men who work should serve it instead of any ordinary vitamin-deficient kind.

BETTER FOR FLAVOR
M-M-M!

BETTER FOR HEALTH
LOOK!

BETTER FOR SANDWICHES
IT STAYS FRESH!

Then, too, "patented flavor" Wonder Bread is doubly fresh—fresh when you buy it and fresh when you eat it. Because slo-baked for lasting freshness—baked 13% longer than many ordinary kinds.

See how much longer "patented flavor" Wonder Bread stays fresh in the bread box; how much longer sandwiches stay fresh in the lunch box.

Ask your grocer for the bread with "patented flavor"—the new Wonder Bread—today sure. You, too, will be surprised and thrilled with it.

Ovation Given String Quartet at Ravinia Park

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Astounding things are happening on the north shore this week. A string quartet, usually the scorned Cinderella among the higher musical media, is drawing throngs of people to Ravinia park and calling forth the type of rapid fire applause usually reserved for the virtuoso or the prima donna.

The quartet is the Budapest, which accounts adequately for the phenomena mentioned above. At last night's concert the first big ovation came after the Haydn quartet in D major, Opus 76, No. 5. The performance was marked by purity and ease. Phrases were balanced against each other adroitly and tonal effects were fastidious and perfectly in accord with the character of the music.

The program's second item — the Dvorak quintet—offered as strong a contrast with the Haydn as could be imagined. Here was tonal bigness without stridency, and tremendous rhythmic urgency without a hint of the headlong or the uncontroled. The pianist, Leonard Shure, joined the quartet for this performance.

Altho luckier cities will laugh at the idea of any one being astonished at this late date by the excellence of the Dvorak quintet, Chicago has for so long been on starvation rations as far as chamber music is concerned that not many of us can claim to have been prepared for the full impact of the work. It is a superb example of folk based art, one in which dance idioms have been thoroly assimilated and turned to the loftiest artistic use.

The program proper closed with the Beethoven quartet in F, Opus 59, No. 1. The richness of the adagio more than made up for the fact that even the Budapest quartet could not quite conceal the occasional awkwardness of the final movement.

The encore was the final movement of Beethoven's Opus 59 quartet.

Shostakovich.

Music lovers have a ring around the calendar for the evening of Aug. 22, when the midwestern première of the Shostakovich Seventh symphony, with Dr. Frederick Stock and the Chicago Symphony orchestra, will be given at Ravinia for the benefit of Russian war relief. The occasion will have a deep meaning for George Voevodsky, chairman of the committee of White Russians in charge of the benefit. As a youth Mr. Voevodsky was an accomplished pianist, and except for the fact that he was the son of the Russian navy minister, and thus slated for a military career, might have gone far in the musical field.

Discussing the symphony, Mr. Voevodsky remarked that in the first World war he used to pass the time in the trenches listening to the sounds of battle and feeling that some day a symphony depicting the indomitable spirit of a heroic people would be written. And when he heard Shostakovich's Seventh, in its first radio presentation, he was sure that here was the composition he always had known would emerge from a great battle. The 35 year old Shostakovich, who volunteered when Germany's invasion of Russia began last summer, wrote most of the symphony in Leningrad's home guard barracks, during the time he could spare from his military duties.

Names.

Carrie F. Weldon adds a postscript to George B. Utley's recent contribution on name oddities, with the news that during the later decades of the 19th century a prominent physician named Dr. Flowers practiced in Lancaster, O., the town historically known as the birthplace of the statesman, John Sherman, and his brother, Gen. William Tecumseh Sherman. With Dr. Flowers resided his widowed daughter, Mrs. Belle Flowers Graves, and an orphaned granddaughter, Miss Harriet Stiff.

Changing Values.

When the Henry Sturgises of New York were visiting in town recently, Mr. Sturgis, famed for his conviviality, convulsed a dinner party when he pulled a couple of bills from his pocket and, eyeing the band that held them together, tossed the bills over his shoulder, then, clutching the band tightly, exclaimed, "My gosh, rubber!"

Vale, Jock.

It is with sorrow that we record the passing a few days ago of Jock, the gay, friendly miniature poodle known to many people on the near north side as the silver poodle with the pink ribbon bow in his topknot. Mrs. Florence F. Quinlan, Jock's mistress, took him for his usual walk, and somewhere along Lake Shore drive, between Elm and Division streets, he ate grass which an autopsy showed had been sprayed with caustic acid. So this is not only a farewell to Jock, whom we knew, but a warning to other dog lovers and owners not to permit their pets to eat or even walk on the grass in this area.

New Word for It.

Chatting one afternoon with his small neighbor, Barbara, 4 years old, Dr. Charles S. Phalen asked her what her favorite foods were. Barbara replied that she loved corn, but not cut off, as she liked to eat it off the roll.

The Housewife

From California comes a new line of stove-to-table cooking utensils that are as nicely styled and attractive as they are practical. You can use the frying pans or skillets over a flame, even tho they are not of metal. Just have the flame low, to start, and have a liquid covering the bottom of the pan. There are casseroles and meat loaf pans for the oven, and there are even cups and saucers, too. Everything is cream white in tone.

New Woolens Are Perfect in Pattern, Color

BY REA SEEGER.

Wool gathering shoppers are dashing about selecting the newest fall fabrics without a hint of panic or apprehension that woolens are scarce, prohibitively priced, or down to the last yard. For the bolts and bolts of stunning new patterns, color combines, and textures rival any showing ever displayed for either peace or wartime promotions.

There are all kinds of imported fabrics, priced somewhat in the upper brackets, but you can buy the stuff with a patriotic fervor plus a good neighbor glow, knowing that you are doing your share toward keeping trade with other countries as near normal as possible.

If the imports leave you tepid you can easily gloat over the woolens woven, patterned, and dyed in this country, and a most notable collection at that. For instance, the breathtaking beauty of Botany annuals. Never have the colors and tones and shades been so tempting, so flattering, and so universally becoming to every personality. New textures, new weaves, new patterns, and some of the most beautiful colors ever displayed are featured in these collections.

These are the soft, flattering woolens especially effective for dresses, for soft dressmaker suits, for smart separate jackets. They were dyed and planned by a genius, for all shades blend exquisitely, gray with blue, red with green, yellow with blue, etc.

Cruel Parent Is Difficult to Understand

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

[Copyright: 1942: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

If you love children, in fact, if you just like them in a human sort of way, it hurts you to see them treated cruelly and coldly. So often letters come to me from women who see this sort of thing going on, and wonder if perhaps I cannot do something about it. Not long ago some one wrote to me: "You should spend a few hours in the park. You would see what I mean." Well, I used to spend many hours in parks and I have seen what this writer means.

This letter [and I've had several others like it] follows a similar theme:

"My dear Mrs. Bevans:

"A very young mother, a neighbor of mine, has a little daughter 20 months old. She slaps and scolds the baby all day long for things such as getting her shoes dirty, stepping on the grass, and so forth. None of us ever has heard her say an affectionate word to the baby, nor have we ever seen the baby smile. She is a pale, droopy, nervous little thing.

"Every night we hear the baby sob and scream herself to sleep, sometimes crying for an hour that she wants a drink of water or wants to go to the bathroom. Every once in a while, apparently either the mother or father goes in and spanks her, for she screams, 'O mamma, O daddy!'

"These are not ignorant people, as the father is a teacher and the mother seems at least moderately intelligent. Perhaps they just didn't want their baby. We have all wondered what could be done, everybody hesitating about reporting the matter to any one, since the child has enough to eat and wear and lives in a nice home. Altho I've never before interfered in what isn't supposed to concern me, I suggested to the other mothers that we might send for some of your articles and put them in her mail box, hoping this would help.

"I have three children of my own, including 14 month old twins, and the happiest moment of a happy day is when their daddy and I kiss them good night and they give us those sleepy-eyed trusting smiles and snuggle down to sleep. I hate the thought of a baby going to sleep unhappy every night of its life."

The answer to this letter was:

"I don't wonder that you and your neighbors are unhappy over the way the young mother you described treats her baby daughter. It is really very hard for loving parents to see this sort of thing happen, and I often wonder just what will make such people change.

"Even tho you all hesitate to interfere, if this kind of thing keeps up, it should be reported to a children's welfare society or a family consultation service worker. It really comes under the heading of 'cruelty to children.' For the present, however, you might follow your own idea of putting some of my articles in this woman's mail box. I will include several that appeal to me for that purpose, and think it might be a good idea, perhaps, if you put in one at a time every few days. After all, even some of the hardest criminals have experienced a change of heart!"

Uncle Sam wants a healthy America

U.S. NEEDS US STRONG
EAT NUTRITIONAL FOOD

Delicious string beans will add nourishment to meals

"Make America Strong" is the motto of thousands of housewives, and they're following through by serving foods rich in health-building vitamins. More than that, they are cooking their foods properly so that more of their needed nourishment is retained after cooking.

Delicious string beans, an ideal green vegetable, are a good source of vitamin A for greater resistance to infection, vitamin C for sound teeth and bones, and iron to ward off anemia. Here's how to get them to peak flavor and nourishment:

1. Select only grass-green beans which are meaty and crisp and without rust spots.
2. String them carefully to insure good eating.
3. Cook with very little water.
4. Bring them to full steam with high heat on your range.
5. When they reach full steam, turn to simmer heat, and leave them as long as your recipe specifies.

These four recipes will make string beans a family favorite . . . and are easy to cook on your electric range

Helen Scott, home advisor

STRING BEANS WITH SOUR CREAM DRESSING

1 pound string beans, slivered
½ teaspoon salt ½ cup water

½ pint sour cream
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon black pepper
1 teaspoon prepared mustard

Place beans, salt and water in container with close-fitting cover. Bring to boil on high heat, turn to low and continue to cook for 15 minutes. Combine remaining ingredients in order given, pour over beans just before serving, heat, but do not boil.

STRING BEANS—SOUTHERN STYLE

4 slices bacon, diced
1 cup coarsely chopped onion
1 pound string beans, cut
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup water

Fry bacon in skillet which has a close-fitting cover. When bacon is crisp, remove from pan. Pour off one half bacon fat in container for future use or for National Grease Salvage. Add onions, beans and remaining ingredients, cover and bring to boil on high heat. Then turn switch to low heat and continue to cook for 20 minutes. Stir in the crisp bacon, serve at once.

Have you ever tried serving leftover string beans in a rich cheese sauce or with a tempting Spanish sauce, glowing with green peppers, tomatoes, onions and bay leaf? It's GOOD.

A MEDLEY OF VEGETABLES

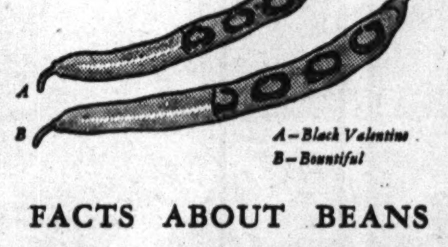
4 medium-sized carrots, cut lengthwise
1 pound slivered string beans
4 whole tomatoes, peeled (or 1 No. 2 can)
¼ pound fresh mushrooms
6 medium potatoes
1 cup coarsely-diced celery
2 bouillon cubes
½ cup water

Place carrots in skillet, then potatoes, add remaining ingredients. Cover, bring to boil on high heat. Then turn switch to low heat and cook for 25 minutes. No salt is used as the bouillon cubes will supply the need. As the potatoes cook, they will thicken the liquid. This is a very adequate meal when served with cheese souffle or cheese fondue. Ideal for meatless meals.

STRING BEANS WITH DILL AND OTHER VARIATIONS

1 pound slivered string beans
½ cup water
2 medium-sized dill pickles (diced)
2 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoon flour

Place beans and water in container with close-fitting cover. Bring to boil on high heat. Then turn switch to low heat and continue to cook for 15 minutes. Blend flour with butter, add to beans and stir in the sliced pickles, bring to boil and cook on off or stored heat until flouriness is gone. NOTE: No salt is used in this recipe as the salt from the pickles is generally enough. For variations, try adding 2 tablespoons of chopped fresh dill, or ¼ pound mushrooms which have been cooked in a small quantity of butter. Sliced fresh green onions from your Victory Garden add a nice tang when cooked with the string beans.



FACTS ABOUT BEANS

Beans belong to the legume family. This group (beans, peas, lentils) is richer in protein than any other vegetable. The dried products, even after moisture is absorbed during cooking period, compare favorably with other high-protein foods.

A high percentage of the protein is in the form of legumin, a form similar to casein (milk protein). Legumes are high in carbohydrates and low in fat. They furnish phosphorus, iron, copper and manganese in liberal proportions, and calcium in lesser quantities. Fresh green beans are a good source of vitamin A, fairly good of C and have small amounts of B and G. They are easily digested.

Green snap beans come in many varieties, the best of which are the "Black Valentine", a round-type of bean, and the "Bountiful", a flat type. All varieties should be grass green, meaty, snap readily, have no rust spots, mold or wet decay.

Reveal Shepard Vogelgesang Is Married in East

BY JUDITH CASS.

"CHICAGO society will be interested in news of the marriage of Shepard Vogelgesang, which occurred on Thursday, Aug. 6," belatedly writes our correspondent from the White mountains. The bride is the former Mrs. Camilla Boone Herbert of Baltimore, Md., and New York, and the wedding took place in the home of Mr. Vogelgesang's aunt, Mrs. Geoffrey Caldwell Davison, Faraway farm, in Whitefield, N. H.

Only the immediate families were present at the ceremony, but Mrs. Davison gave a reception for her nephew and his bride on Tuesday to which members of the summer colony, which includes many Chicagoans, were invited.

Mr. Vogelgesang came to Chicago with the late Joseph Urban during A Century of Progress and became one of the most popular extra men in the city. While in Chicago he shared bachelor quarters with a trio of other well known extra men, Edward Platt, Howard Raftery, and Walter Frazier, of whom only Maj. Frazier remains a bachelor. Mr. Vogelgesang was responsible for the beautiful coloring of A Century of Progress, having surpassed even the work of his teacher, Mr. Urban, in the opinion of noted designers. He also served as color technician for the San Francisco and New York World Fairs.

Plan Novel Bridal Dinner to Fete Mrs. Smith Pirie.

The invitations Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Ross, the Barrett Scudders, the Macauley Carters, and the Franklin Clements issued to a progressive dinner for Mrs. Smith Pirie and Lieut. John O. Giles tonight are introducing a new kind of bridal dinner. The 35 guests will go from house to house by bicycle, starting at the Rosses' for cocktails. Their ride will be a good long one of eight miles, too, for the Carters live a bit west of the Lake Forest village.

Mrs. Ronald P. Boardman gave a buffet supper last night for Mrs. Pirie while Lieut. Giles' bachelor dinner was in progress. They will be married tomorrow. The Elliott Donnelleys are entertaining at cocktails tomorrow at the Onwentsia preceding a luncheon the Owen Wests are giving there, and following the wedding Mr. and Mrs. William K. Meyers are giving a buffet supper.

Lieut. Arthur Gault Weds Marian Masters Tonight.

Because Lieut. Arthur Ray Gault suddenly was given orders for foreign service, he and Miss Marian Masters made hurried plans to be married at 8:30 o'clock tonight in Christ church, Winnetka. A reception will follow in the Winnetka home of Miss Masters' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester D. Masters, and Lieut. Gault and his bride will leave immediately for Minnesota, where they will remain until he goes abroad.

Lieut. Gault, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark E. Gault of Chicago, arrived yesterday in time for a cocktail party given by the Alvar Sutters, whose daughter, Miss Carolyn Sutter, will be among Miss Masters' five attendants, and for the bridal dinner, given by Dr. and Mrs. Francis E. Senear. Robert Berger, who is Lieut Gault's brother-in-law, will be the best man, and there will be six ushers, all of them lieutenants in the army.

Morning at Trailside Museum.

"Here's the work day of one gal who seldom has time for a white collar," writes Virginia Moe, curator of the Trailside museum in the forest preserve. "Reveille at 7 or earlier is the cry of a pet crow called Cappy and the excited pacing of Rover, the coyote, both impatient for their freedom. Lady, a wild squirrel, is awaiting her handout on the back porch. When the door is opened a half dozen chipmunks, a jay or two and maybe a cardinal scatter like popcorn. Cappy's cage is opened and he soars to the treetops or tags at my heels begging breakfast, often followed by the still hungry squirrel. Rover is leashed on his cable and the three are left lurking at the back door, tolerant of each other but not too chummy.

"As likely as not there is a box on the front step containing a young or injured bird awaiting admittance to the baby bird nursery. With Rover and Cappy quiet the chirps of the nursery can be heard and they are fed next.

"Then the day's work begins. Timothy, lamest of robins, is at the typewriter having his morning heat treatment under the desk lamp. John, the white rabbit, moves to his place at the front door like a proper doorman. Two little gray squirrels romp from room to room like small, busy office boys. A bejowled woodchuck begins to prowl and putter in an aimless sort of way like an absentminded office chief. A broom routs out the night shift in the form of two pet skunks who scuttle from a dark corner where they have spent the last 12 hours as night watchmen. Junior naturalists and assistants aged 5 to 14 arrive and the Trailside museum is in full swing."

White Collar Citation.

"How about adding the name of my good friend Eva Spiles, who has one son in the navy and two in the army to your list of working service mothers?" asks Lauraine Radtke. "She proudly wears three Tribune buttons over her heart while she goes about her work of making other women beautiful in her shop on the south side."

For the Backward Glance.

Katharine Moore says: "Your correspondent's letter signed 'R' awakened memories of a Fox typewriter in my father's office. It was embellished with a lifelike portrait of a fox as part of the trade mark. I cannot recall ever operating it but I used to regard with awe the blonde 'Gibson Girl' with the astonishing pompadour who did so. During the lunch hour the girls would lean out of the windows of the old building which was known as 56 Fifth avenue [Chicago]—it's now vacant, I believe—and wave to the L guards. Times really have not changed!"

Purely Personal.

The Illinois Institute of Technology has enlarged reprints of a recent White Collar Girl column. They're hung on the walls of the interviewing rooms, which pleases one person inordinately.

Baseball Game Is Thriller for Sally's Guests

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

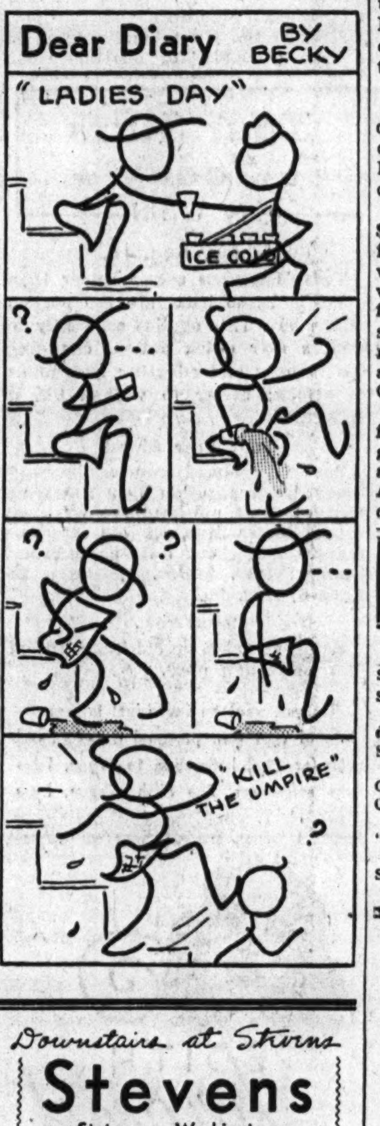
Yesterday was a perfect day for baseball, and the group of 100 boys and girls who attended the Chicago Cubs-St. Louis Cardinal game with me seemed to find the whole affair close to perfection.

They loved the chance for a close-up view of all the players from our excellent seats near third base, and, of course, the fact that the Cubs won the game, 13 to 5, sent them all home completely contented.

Stan Hack seems to be one of their very special heroes, and a good natured wave from him made them all deleriously happy. Passeau was greatly admired for his pitching, and Bill Nicholson, who seems to be another special hero to the youngsters, was wildly applauded when he hit a home run in the last half of the eighth.

The Cardinals were accused of being robbers when they made four runs late in the game, but my guests knew a victory was in the bag for the Cubs and didn't really seem a bit worried.

We saw a swell ball game, had pop, popcorn, and ice cream, and, as one little boy [who confided to me that he didn't usually have "refreshments"] said, "What more could you want?"



Music Festival Luncheon Will Be Held Today

BY PHILIP MAXWELL.

More than 3,000 persons will participate in Chicago Music Festival activities here today. At noon the sixth annual Festival Luncheon will be held in the grand ballroom of the Palmer House. Fifteen hundred men and women will participate. More than 100 out-of-Cook county vocalists will compete at 7 o'clock in the grand ballroom of the Drake hotel for the right to be heard tomorrow morning in the vocal semi-finals at 9 o'clock in the Drake hotel. Beginning at 6 o'clock tonight, 1,400 adults and children will start their rehearsals in Soldiers' field for tomorrow night's show.

The luncheon, cut down in attendance several hundred by having been moved from the former Stevens hotel to the Palmer House, will feature as guest stars Dr. Rudolph Ganz, noted conductor, composer, and pianist, and Mme. Maria Kurenko, celebrated soprano.

Dr. Ganz and Madame Kurenko will be introduced by Edward Barry and Cecil Smith, music critic and drama critic, respectively, of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE. Other stars of the program will be Clair Omar Musser, marimbist, who tomorrow night will be the director of more than 160 marimba players in Soldiers' field; Melville Clark of Syracuse, N. Y., Irish harp soloist; Earl Thiel of Milwaukee, Wis., chosen the "best man singer" in the 1941 festival vocal contest, and the Wing chorus of 35 men from Chanute field, at Rantoul, Ill., directed by Capt. F. E. Hammond.

Nancy Rose Zeller, 9 years old, will sing "We Did It Before and We Can Do It Again" and the community singing will be led by Frank Bennett and Carl Craven. The Milwaukee Kilty Girls' Drum and Trumpet corps, led by Capt. Frank C. Hoffmann, will post colors. Chaplain Erling C. Grevstad of Fort Sheridan will pronounce invocation. The only woman's barber shop quartet, the Johnson Sisters, will sing "In the Evening by the Moonlight." They practiced Wednesday night during the black-out for their appearance.

Three year old Polly Potteiger, daughter of the festival's 1936 vocal contest winner, Mrs. Helen Burt Potteiger of Aurora, Ill., will be crowned queen of the 1942 festival.

During the luncheon a drive for $1,000 for the Army and Navy Relief fund will be held. Among those who will be seated at the speakers' table will be Adm. and Mrs. John Downes from the Great Lakes Naval Training station and Maj. Gen. George Grunert, commandant of the 6th corps area, United States army, and Mrs. Grunert.

Among those coming to the festival from out of the city are 21 pretty girls from Oklahoma City, Okla. They are members of the Crusader Concert Accordion band. They arrived Wednesday night.

Women in War Work

By India Moffett

For the third or fourth time 33 little old ladies at the Home for Aged Jews, 6140 Drexel avenue, are knitting for their boys at the war fronts. The women, ranging in age from 65 to 94, meet in the occupational therapy room of the home each Tuesday and Thursday from 9 to 4 o'clock to knit, sew, and crochet for the Red Cross and the British War Relief society. Instruction is given by Mrs. Stanley Wolbach, 5107 Blackstone avenue, a member of the board of the home.

A gleam of special pride and admiration shines in the eyes of the women as they watch Mrs. Bertha Omansky, 78 years old, purl a row on an army scarf. Mrs. Omansky has a 21 year old great-grandson, who recently enlisted in the army, and a 19 year old great-grandson who intends to enlist soon.

Like Mrs. Helen Blashek, 77, many have dear ones in the armed forces. Mrs. Blashek knitted sweaters and socks for a son in France in the last war. This time she thinks of a grandson in Alaska and a nephew in Australia as she sews afghan squares together. Instead of worrying about the son in the army from whom she has not heard for weeks, Mrs. Lena Vice, 65, just knits faster.

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Mrs. Jennie Cohen, 94, oldest resident of Home for Aged Jews, does her bit in war effort.

Altho Mrs. Jennie Cohen, 94, remembers four wars, she would rather work than talk about them. Mrs. Cohen, who has lived at the home for 33 years, has knitted 288 afghan squares since last summer.

To make production faster and easier, many specialize in just one job. Dr. Sara S. Harris, 85, who years ago was too busy pursuing a career as a dentist to learn to knit or crochet, presses the finished garments. Miss Hannah Solomon, who will be 77 on Monday, does all the sewing machine work. Miss Hanie Goldman, 74, almost blind, winds the yarns into balls on a large wooden frame. Mrs. Blashek sews the afghan squares together and crochets their borders.

Materials for the garments are given to the home by the war relief organizations or by friends and relatives of the women. Their work is so admired by the relief groups that sometimes they are given special jobs to do.

Since Jan. 12 the women have sent to the Red Cross: 98 baby blankets, 110 baby dresses, 117 diapers, 140 bonnets, 100 jackets, 10 sleepers, 182 bibs, 203 pairs of bootees, 14 army scarfs, four army helmets, 24 washcloths, and 15 afghans. They have sent the British War Relief society: 40 RAF scarfs, 42 double navy scarfs, 22 civilian scarfs, 20 pairs of sea boot stockings, 12 pairs of sox, eight pairs of bed sox, 125 afghans, 23 sleeveless army sweaters, 20 knitted baby bands, 100 jackets, 10 bonnets, 134 bibs, 73 pairs of bootees, and 27 pairs of mittens.

A dozen of Winnetka's prettiest young girls will be on hand in the Winnetka station park tomorrow to sell war savings stamps and bonds to those who gather to see outdoor puppet shows, arranged by Mrs. Benjamin F. Affleck, chairman of the Winnetka war savings committee. There will be three shows, beginning at 11 o'clock in the morning, and at 2:30 and 5 in the afternoon. In case of rain the performances will be moved to Community house.

Burr Tillstrom, who gave 2,000 puppet shows at the New York fair, will be the entertainer. His puppet, Kukla, bald and legless, is said to be the only puppet that has achieved television stardom so far.

The girls who will sell stamps and bonds are Ruddy Hale, Polly Goodrich, Cherry Boyd, Evelyn Coolidge, Joan Butler, Eloise Hughes, Jane Yust, Marjorie Keehn, Hilary Dawson, Martha Wade, and Jill Dawson.

The Women's Voluntary Services of Great Britain recently sent a "thank you" card for the gifts sent over by the American Red Cross and other organizations. The overseas department of the WVS is the official distribution agency for such gifts, and nearly one-half million women are engaged in seeing that supplies do the most good. We mention this because the method of saying thanks is so very impressive. The card is really a booklet showing pictures of the crates of blankets, clothes, and food being unloaded; pictures of women unpacking the crates, and pictures of the destruction which has made those supplies necessary.

Two pages of pictures are devoted to small Terence Stone, badly burned in a bombing that killed other members of his family more than a year ago. He, himself, was burned almost beyond recognition, but weeks in a saline bath and months in a hospital restored him so that now he is a happy toddler in a war nursery financed by the American Red Cross.

[The Women in War Work department reports on women's activities in war and defense work and answers questions of women wishing to take part in these activities.]

INSTALMENT XI.
FAMILIAR PICTURES.

At this moment Crossman of the Epoch and Carrow of the New York Moon came up together, and with excuses to the other, began to talk to Mr. Crumpaun. Carrow was a thin, sandy, irritable American, who presently produced an envelope full of photographs which he showed with a certain pride to Mr. Crumpaun. "Look at these—pretty good detail, eh?"

Mr. Crumpaun put on his glasses and studied them.

"Fine," he said. "You take these?"

"Nope—that photographer at the shop in the Rue Gambetta let me have them. Wish I had the guy's camera that took them."

Mr. Crampaun shuffled the photographs together, and turning to Rosemary, handed them casually to her.

"Hey, sweetheart, look at these. Can your old man do better than that?"

This form of address drew Milcom's attention to the young girl. Up to now he had regarded her merely as a companion of Mrs. Jones, and as he disliked women of the Jones type, he had barely looked at either of them. Now he noticed the intelligent glance, the big generous mouth and the amusing nose, and found them a pleasant sight. He watched the girl for a moment as she bent her curled head over the photographs.

He saw her start a little, look puzzled, turn back to a picture a second time, compare one with another, examining them with a most unnecessary concentration—and then he saw a quick flush, as of anger or embarrassment, stain the clear transparent brown of her skin. This aroused his curiosity, and when she had finished looking at them, and put the pile together, he stretched out his hand for it, saying, "May I see them?"

She looked up at him, startled, and the color again flew into her face.

"Of course," she said, handing the packet to him—and her mouth took a funny little determined set.

"Good, eh?" said Mr. Crumpaun—he had been talking to Crossman and had not noticed her.

"Very," she said. "Every bit as good as daddy's."

James meanwhile glanced at the photographs. There was nothing in them to embarrass the most innocent jeune fille. They were a series of mountain landscapes, and in particular showed two charming little valleys or combes, dotted with small trees, each with its shadow standing obediently at its side, and a col on a ridge with some spectacular groups of rocks. That was all, so far as the casual observer could see—but James, like most journalists, knew something about photographic processes, and the clearness of distant detail in one or two of the views down the combes told him that they had been taken with an infra-red lens.

James handed them back to Crumpaun. "Does your father photograph much?" he asked Rosemary.

"Yes, he's rather fond of it," the girl answered, a little stiffly.

"Does he go in for it thoroly—infra-red lenses and all that?" he asked, still in a tone of casual politeness.

"O, yes—he has all sorts of gadgets," said Rosemary, her manner losing something of its stiffness. "He takes some lovely pictures."

Carrow meanwhile was stuffing the photographs back into an envelope with a big blue moon in one corner—M. Durand's trade-mark. Rosemary watched him with a baleful gleam in her eye. What business had he to go buying her father's pictures? But for some reason she decided to say nothing.

At that moment the Duquesa de las Illas and the Condesa de Verdura appeared. Stepping onto the pavement between the bay trees, two black and distinguished figures, they paused, looking around for a place. The sunny stretch of tables was now full of people. Milcom sprang up so quickly that he overturned his chair.

"Yes, bring them here," said Mr. Crumpaun genially, replying to the action, for he had said no word. James nodded, went over, and piloted the two women to the table. Chairs were reshuffled, and they sat down, the duquesa beside Mr. Crumpaun, the condesa between Rosemary and Milcom. Carrow had moved off at their advent.

Crumpaun made the introductions, casually and easily. Milcom noticed that the little English girl changed color as she shook hands with the Spanish women. For Rosemary it was, indeed, another of those improbable and wonderful moments with which her days now seemed to be crowned—to meet and shake hands with the two refugees, one of them the most famous of Spanish beauties, both of them the wives of "Spanish grandees."

While the conversation got jerkily under way she watched them, but Rosemary was soon confronted by one of her perpetual miseries at S. Jean de Luz. Mr. Oldhead stuck firmly to his English practices—lunch at 1:15, dinner at 7:30. So the fascinating time of drinks and gossip before meals was always, for Rosemary, cut short almost before it had begun. She glanced at her watch, saw that it was six minutes past one, and resolutely rose.

Walking back along the narrow street to the Grande Bretagne, meeting the draughty gusts of soft salt air as she neared the little Casino and the sea, Rosemary thought about the photographs, and what she should tell her father.

She would like to find out more. She would ask Mr. Crumpaun, or that fascinating Milcom person, if she met them again. And till she knew more, she wouldn't say anything to daddy, or he would kick up a shindy with Durand, and she would learn nothing at all. She went in to lunch.

Tea with Mrs. Jones at the Moderne was rather a dull affair, and brief. Mrs. Jones had an appointment at 5:15 with the coiffeur.

"O, where?" To Rosemary, as to all the modern female young, hairdressers were a matter of the utmost importance.

"Well, Jacques, actually—but I shouldn't recommend you to go there," Mrs. Jones said.

"Why on earth not?"

"Well—he's a terribly good coiffeur, but it's rather a peculiar place," Mrs. Jones said, gathering up her bag and gloves. "They say"—she lowered her voice, "that it's a dope den as well as a shop."

"But what frightful fun!" Rosemary was enchanted. "O, couldn't I come with you, and see it?"

Mrs. Jones was amused at her enthusiasm.

"All right—come along and talk to me. I'm always deathly bored at the coiffeur's. We'll see who we see. But don't go there alone, whatever you do. He costs the earth, too," she added inconsequently.

Rosemary was not surprised, when they reached M. Jacques' establishment, that a shampoo and set there should "cost the earth," for it was the most expensive looking hairdressing parlor she had ever seen.

Mrs. Jones was ushered into a small pearl gray shrine. Rosemary sat just outside, in one of the gray velvet armchairs, and looked about her. The windows were screened to elbow height by gray ninon curtains, so that from within, the disembodied heads and shoulders of the passersby on the pavement were visible. Among these, as she idly watched them, appeared two that she knew—the condesa's and James Milcom's. They paused—she saw Milcom's right hand move to his breast pocket; then the condesa came in alone.

The condesa aroused Rosemary's deep envy by proceeding to select a complete outfit of creams, powders, lipsticks, and toilet waters—any young girl's dream! Then she went on to the perfumes, causing first one and then another to be sprayed onto squares of tissue—she would not have them on her hands or dress—sniffing them delicately with her high gothic nose, smiling and discussing them with the girl who served her.

At length she chose two. All this time Milcom, Rosemary observed, was still hanging about outside the shop. The condesa paid for her purchases at the discreet cash desk by the door with two 1,000 franc notes, put the change in her purse, and went out and joined him.

Thru the glass above the gray curtains Rosemary, unable to hear any words, saw their meeting—a brief questioning remark on his side—it might have been "Got all you wanted?" and on hers, as she replied, an expression as of one who thanks, and thanks warmly. Whatever it was, he made a gesture of brushing it off—but with a curious gentleness, unlike his usual dour expression. It all passed in a few seconds, before they disappeared together down the street. But to Rosemary, watching them with her usual acute intentness, the meaning of the little scene was clear—he had given her those two billets de mille, and she was thanking him for them. How nice of him, she thought, warming to him.

Thru the Looking Glass

Women who are ill love presents of toiletries. They have a psychological value, somehow. To send a sick woman a gift of fine, fragrant soap, or heavenly cologne, or even a box of makeup aids is to suggest that, tho illness has her down, it can't destroy her charm or, more important, her interest in being charming.

Bland soaps with a sweet scent and a lather soft as cream seem to head the hit parade of gifts for invalids. Hospital soaps aren't usually the creamiest in the world—and illness does make the dry skin dryer. So the fine soap, preferably superfatted, serves a useful purpose as well as a charming one. And, since invalids love attractive things, it's wise to choose soap cakes that are pretty as well as sweet smelling and bland.

Colognes or body lotions come next. Choose light, delicate fragrances rather than exotic ones. Something with a lavender note always has the freshness that is welcome in a sick room, but, if you know what her favorite fragrance is, send her some toilet water or cologne in that. If she's had an operation and her skin is thin and dry as tissue paper, as it usually will be in such cases, send her one of the cream colognes, which will be a skin soother as well as a skin scenting agent.

Then there are sachets in all shapes and scents and sizes. She can wear the small ones, pinning them inside her nightgown or bed jacket. The larger ones can be used to spread their fragrance thru her gowns and handkerchiefs. And there are also lovely little sacheted bags that can hang beside her bed, within easy reach, in which she can keep handkerchiefs, a small book, and her lipstick.

Not in months has any theatrical performance in this region provided an evening of such sheer, uninterrupted delight as the Port players' current production of "The Merchant of Yonkers." Altho Thornton Wilder's brilliant stylized farce was made known in New York three years ago, the Port players this week are giving the first professional production of it in the middle west.

A far cry from the quiet, contemplative mood of "Our Town," "The Merchant of Yonkers" is a rowdy farce. But Mr. Wilder saw to it that his first farce would be wholly unlike any other in the history of the American stage. Choosing the 1880s as his time and old New York as his place, he has confused the issue, with wanton wit, by getting deliberately mixed up in his historical periods.

The costumes, the environment, and much of the characters' experience belongs, to be sure, to the James A. Garfield period. But the play itself is a contrived comedy of intrigue in rococo 18th century style, suggesting such blithe and fabricated networks of contrapuntal incident as Beaumarchais' "The Barber of Seville." And as tho the stylistic warfare of the two centuries were not enough, Mr. Wilder often interjects flashes of the 20th century in the form of topical remarks, up to date expressions, and confidential asides to the audience.

Maintaining always a wonderfully discreet and tasteful balance between outright horseplay and purely literary humor, "The Merchant of Yonkers" details the adventures of a gruff, rich, and gauche storekeeper from the village on the Hudson [in those days wide fields and empty spaces separated metropolitan New York from its still naive northern suburb], who spends a day and an evening in New York in search of a wife. To him and to his entourage comes a tissue of adventures and contretemps, calculated at first to upset and finally to sweeten the disposition.

In so carefully controlled, so exquisitely adjusted a piece of writing and stagecraft as "The Merchant of Yonkers" all charm and point could easily be lost in a clumsy performance. But the Port players reach climactic success in their expert, intelligent, and sparkling treatment of the script. Edmund C. Wilkes, the director, has captured both the spirit and the letter of the play, and I only wish Capt. Wilder, now busy with army duties, could see and be delighted by the production.

I wish, too, that there were space to pay tribute to the many singularly winning individual performances, notable among which are those of Helene Ambrose, Lowell Gilmore, Morton Da Costa, Claire Powell, Maurice Schrog, Faye Clark, and Jeanne Dixon, and also to the choice costumes and smiling settings. I can only hope that you will believe me fully when I say that such joyous fare is seldom provided in our loop theaters, and that you will find time and energy to visit Shorewood between now and Sunday evening, the final performance. If the theater won't come to us, at least we can go to the theater, and 80 miles is no great distance at all when "The Merchant of Yonkers" is at the other end.

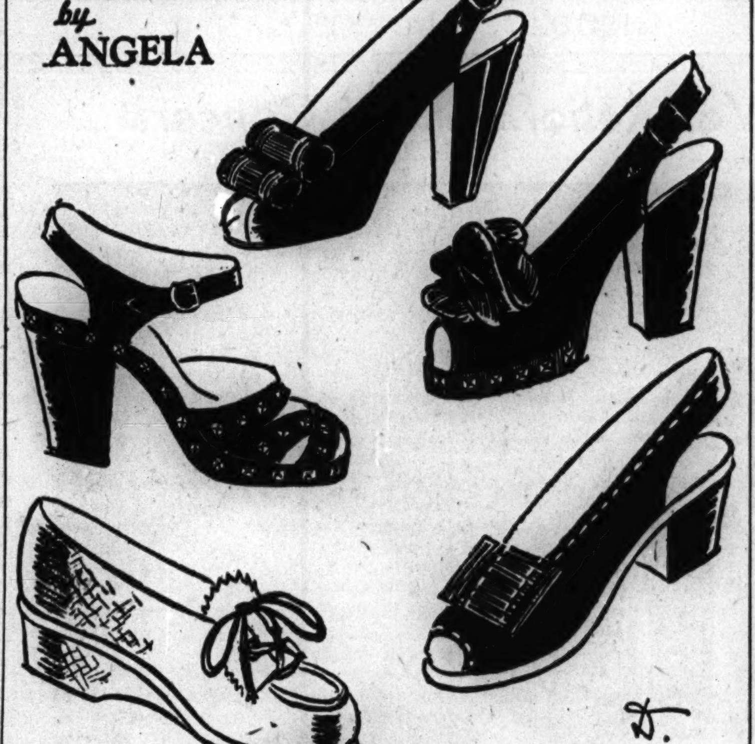
FASHIONS by ANGELA



Even the shoemaker's children can have shoes when they are as moderately priced as these.

The trend in fall shoes which this particular company is prepared to meet is a continuation of platform soles and nail head trimming. Their display also places a lot of emphasis on wedge soles, and strap heels.

The strap heeled pump at the top of the sketch is a dressy shoe for afternoon wear. The high suede covered heel is stitched in vertical rows of gold thread. Two little cylinders, also stitched in gold, cover the vamp of the shoe between the open toe and the instep. Ask for it in black, brown, green, or wine suede.

Nail heads glitter prominently from the platform sole and the sandal straps across the toe of the shoe at the top of the left hand column. It is a casual type of shoe. Distinguished, too, by the thick heel. Made in brown or black suede; tan, green, or wine capeskin. Under $3.

The low heeled pump is a new and popular fashion. The blue suede shoe and the blue grosgrain tailored bow is trimmed with a touch of saddle stitching in red to match the red platform. Under $3.

Hair Pieces Can Transform a Personality

[Copyright: 1942: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

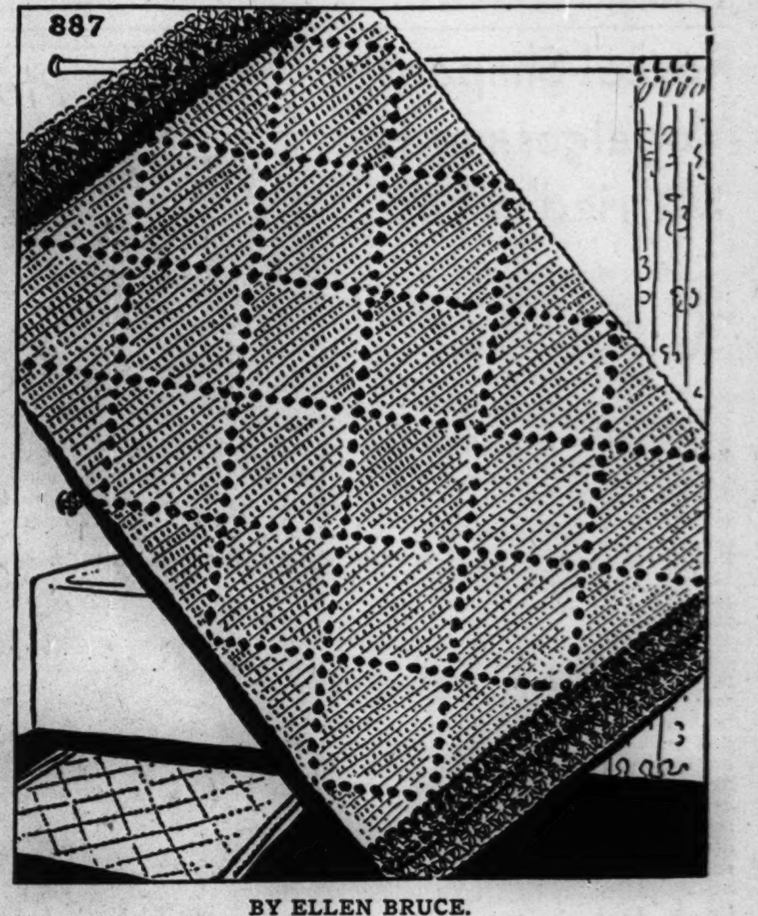
The other day we heard a woman say she never would cut her hair again, because it takes so long to grow. She has naturally curly hair, and it is long enough now to work into a criss-cross bun in the back. She effects the sophisticated style of dress, which is all very smart, but there's just one thing wrong with her "hair reasoning." Long hair makes this particular woman look every bit of her age. Now, of course, it's a bit unusual for a woman to have long hair these days. It should be a distinction. It could be if long hair helped to make all women look younger.

There are hair stylists who could make flattering suggestions. Perhaps a few curly bangs, or some artificial camouflage [accomplished by natural looking pin-on transformation pieces] pinned cleverly to her own hair would be the glamorous touch she needs. Or she could wear her hair bobbed again, and have long hair whenever she pleases.

We witnessed an amazing hair style show, given by makers of human hair goods. The only way we could tell the difference between the model's real hair and the hair that was pinned on was by seeing the pinning done.

Hair is carefully matched to the color and texture of one's own hair. If one has short tresses and wishes to don long tresses to suit her mood or the occasion, presto! She pins on a beautiful long braid like a crown about her head, or a neatly twisted bun in the back. If she wishes to assume one of a number of different personalities, she can, in the twinkling of an eye.

Crocheted Bathroom Rug



BY ELLEN BRUCE.

Crocheted bathroom rugs done in a soft, fluffy cotton yarn lie flat and the edges do not curl. This rug requires little time to crochet and may be done in monotone or multicolored fashion. Tearose combined with light brown is a favorite combination for bathrooms when the tile is white. A few balls of this cotton make an attractive rug, and an inexpensive gift.

For instructions in crocheting the cotton bathroom rug, No. 887, send 10 cents in stamps or coin, plus 2 cents to cover mailing cost, to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

When Liam O'Flaherty's "The Informer" was produced as a motion picture a number of years ago it was widely hailed as one of the finest of all cinematic character studies. "The Puritan," made in France and recently smuggled out of the occupied zone, adds another O'Flaherty film to the list. While it is by no means as distinguished as "The Informer," it will provide a great deal of interest for those whose stomachs can take it.

The central figure of the story is a psychopathic young journalist who murders a woman he loves because he believes her to be guilty of misconduct with another man. This incident occurs in the first few yards of the film. From then on the picture never deserts its morbid concentration upon the abnormality of the young murderer, who justifies his crime as an act of morality, and who ultimately breaks within himself and confesses the deed to the police.

Thanks to the tense, highly charged acting of Jean-Louis Barrault as the young murderer, the picture retains its gripping, concentrated hold upon the imagination from start to finish. Highly accomplished performances by Pierre Fresnay and Vivien Romance, and appropriately effective lighting and camera treatment also enhance the artistic values of the film. C. S.

Looking at Hollywood . . . . By Hedda Hopper

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 13.—It was Helen Morgan who made these words immortal—"just can't help lovin' that man." And that's how I felt when Pvt. Clark Gable, before taking the train to Florida, sent me this wire: "Many thanks for the consideration and help you have given me in the past, and best of luck and happiness to you always—Clark Gable." It's now being framed for a place of honor in my office.

If it's true that Bob Taylor, Mickey Rooney, and Spence Tracy made a pact with Gable that when he went into the army they'd do likewise, Metro's going to be behind the eight ball for box office man power—and will soon be sliding into third place. For years the mighty Metro has been the No. 1 studio of Hollywood, and if Rooney, Tracy, and Taylor go, maybe the producers will be reduced to starring themselves. They'll have left Walter Pidgeon, Bill Powell, Van Johnson, who isn't yet known, Van Heflin, who'll soon be army bound, and on the female side of the ledger, they're not so well off either.

The less said about Norma Shearer's last two pictures the better, so I won't say it. And it's not even fair to mention Greta Garbo's "Two Faced Woman." Jeanette MacDonald's gone, Myrna Loy's married and escaped, Ann Rutherford went over to Twentieth, which leaves Judy Garland, Joan Crawford, Greer Garson, and Hedy Lamarr. So I'm thinkin', if the above happens they'll have to give way to Warner Brothers, who know the formula for turning out pictures the public eats up, 'cause they give them action, ruggedness, and never depend upon a star cast to put 'em over. Neither does Darryl Zanuck at Twentieth. Yes, when this happens, it will be a sad day for Metro. Maybe then they'll learn that arrogance doesn't make for friendship. Anyway they'll learn.

Always In There Pitching.

Kay Kyser.

Kay Kyser was doing a show for the treasury department, and had an idea which I thought was pretty cute—to have one of our stars stand in the wings while he's interviewing a soldier, ask him what he'd like, and if he hesitated, say, "How would you like to walk around the block with so-and-so?"—naming the big star. Well, he tried to clear one for three days thru the victory committee, or whatever it is you have to clear thru, without any luck. Then he called up Dorothy Lamour at the last minute. She said, "Gee, I'd love to!" She did, and their dialog with the soldier was the high spot of the show. Kay believes with me, if you want anything done—do it yourself.

Ha! Ha!

Hollywood calls the Victor Mature-Rita Hayworth twosome "Beauty and the Beast" . . . and when Rita was asked at what point her public life ended and her private life began, she said, "when I'm in a shower bath!" . . . Arthur Treacher is sick of hearing that mad dogs and Englishmen go out in the noonday sun—"because yesterday," says Arthur, "I actually saw a sane dog lying in the noonday sun. I was so impressed I lay right down beside him." . . . Did you hear about one of our less virile citizens who was called down by his draft board and took his two dependents with him—one under each arm—his pekinese? . . . Woody Van Dyke's three kids visited him on the set while he was doing "Journey for Margaret" and working with 40 other children. The kids kept getting in his hair, and he said, "O, those brats!" "Why, Mr. Van Dyke!" said Laraine Day, "you don't mean our cute kids?" "No! Mine!" said he!!!

A New Life.

After all these years, Pickfair has a child. He's 5½ year old Ronnie. His mother's passed away; his father, who's a friend of Buddy Rogers, is in the service, and Mary's taken him to live with her. Ronnie and Mary adore each other. He repeats his prayers after her every night. When she said, "And bless all the little children in the world," Ronnie stopped. "You don't mean German children?" Mary said, "But, of course." "But won't they grow up to be our enemies like their fathers?" Mary answered, "When they grow up, I hope they won't be enemies."

Wrong and Right.

After reading about Tony Martin, Aroff, and tennis player Bernstein, who distinguished themselves the wrong way, it was nice to get a letter from a friend at Camp Crowder saying that in his unit are three prominent Hollywood men—Lester Shorr, Jack Warner Jr., and young Levinson, son of Col. Levinson—who are swell guys, ask no quarter, work without flinching, are beloved by the men, and receive no favoritism. . . . Janet Beecher's son, Wyndham, enlisted in the air corps three weeks ago, was sent east, passed his test, and is coming to Santa Ana immediately to go into training as a bombardier.

Don't We Have Fun!

Jane Doe, who's divorcing Eddie Norris, has a twin sister Eddie went with before he married Jane. Now that Jane's divorcing him, he's again calling on sister. Their nickname is "The Starvation Twins." . . . Did you know Errol Flynn is aiming, among other things, to write a column? All he'd have to do is to dictate his daily doings.

one of the leading rôles. The former Marjorie Walsh of Boston, who has played previously at Marshfield Hills, Vt., and with the Berkshire Playhouse, will be making her first appearance in a Chicago stock company. Rehearsing for her rôle as Lorinda Channing has occupied the days since Lieut. Porter departed for the west coast to take up his duties with the navy. Mrs. Porter is spending the summer with her mother-in-law, Mrs. Frank S. Porter, in Lake Geneva.

At a supper party last night in the Evanston home of Mr. and Mrs. Howell Webster Kitchell, the engagement of Miss Vivian Randa, daughter of Charles Randa of Ironwood, Mich., to Mr. Kitchell Jr. was announced.

Dr. and Mrs. Paul Holinger [Julia Drake] announce the birth of a son on Sunday at St. Luke's hospital. The baby, a grandson of the Lauren Jay Drakes and of Mrs. Jacques Holinger, will be named Lauren Drake.

Venita Mangel Will Become Bride in Winnetka Today.

Miss Venita Mangel and Robert A. Granstrom will be married today in the chapel of the Winnetka Congregational church, with a reception following in the Winnetka home of the bride's mother, Mrs. John Mangel. Mrs. Norman Granstrom and Mrs. Greig Yarger, sisters of the bride, and Mrs. Valentine Smith Jr. of Sturgeon Bay, Wis., will be bridesmaids. John Mangel II. and Joan Yarger will be ring bearer and flower girl, and George Mangel will give his sister in marriage. The engagement of Miss Sara Ann Eastman to Ensign Bruce A. Granstrom, who will be his brother's best man, was announced yesterday.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
Pass	1 heart	Double	Pass
1 no trump	Pass	2 no trump	Pass
3 no trump	Pass	Pass	Pass

The contract would have been a laydown against an opening heart lead, but West's actual deuce of clubs opening created a small problem. Declarer could count only four diamond tricks, one club, one heart, and an indeterminable number of spades, depending both on the spade break and on whether or not the opponents could run off a fatal number of club tricks. If the club deuce was an honest fourth best, there was not much to fear in that line, since only three club tricks need be lost. There would not, however, be time to set up an extra heart trick and, with that realization, declarer set out to establish the spades. He led the three from his own hand and, when West ducked, put in the queen. Then the spade six was led from dummy and the jack was played from the closed hand.

When this was slaughtered by the ace, declarer had lost his game! West cashed the king and queen of clubs and his partner's jack was a fourth defensive trick. East then returned a heart and declarer was helpless. The most he could win was four diamond tricks and an additional spade.

Even if there had been no adverse bidding on this hand, declarer's play would have been far from good but, considering the bidding that actually took place, his method of clearing the spade suit was inexcusable. West was virtually marked with the spade ace, both from the fact that the spade queen held, and because the ace was a necessary part of his opening bid. There was no assurance that the spade suit would break 3-3; hence, after the queen held, declarer should have returned to his own hand with the diamond jack to lead another low spade toward the king. The contract then would have become ice cold. East's spade ace would not have smothered an honor, and three spade tricks, instead of two, quickly would have materialized.

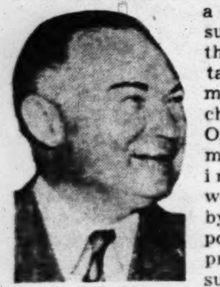
CHARGES OPA HAS INTERFERED WITH WAR PRODUCTION

House Member Rips Plan for Arms Ceilings.

BY JOHN FISHER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]



Rep. Harter.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—Rep. Dow W. Harter [D., O.], chairman of a special aviation subcommittee of the house military affairs committee, today charged that the Office of Price Administration has interfered with war production by trying to impose maximum price ceilings on such noncompetitive war products as combat planes, tanks, guns, ships, munitions, and other weapons, for which the government is the sole customer.

Harter disclosed his charges against the OPA at a press conference after introducing a bill, sanctioned by the war and navy departments, to exempt war equipment specifically from the provisions of the emergency price control act of 1942.

Declares Pledge Broken.

The Ohio congressman declared that the OPA has broken a "gentlemen's agreement," made at the time the price control act was before congress, that military equipment needed by the United States government for prosecution of the war would not be subjected to OPA control.

Harter charged that the OPA has been trying for three months—and still is trying—to impose a maximum price regulation on combat airplane manufacturers and other producers of weapons which would entangle those industries in endless red tape and in effect take contract negotiating authority away from the army and navy and place it in the OPA.

Harter said he had written Price Administrator Leon Henderson requesting information on the reasons for wanting the price fixing order, but so far has received no reply.

Assails "Quibbling" Conferences.

The OPA has been calling conferences with the aviation industry, consuming valuable time, and has been "quibbling, quibbling, and quibbling," declared Harter.

"It looks to me as an attempt to get this procurement program into their hands," he commented. "That's the only reason I can see for it."

The OPA has submitted to the aviation industry a 20 page draft of the proposed price fixing regulation which, according to Harter, is so complicated that a "Philadelphia lawyer" couldn't understand it.

Manufacturers are hesitating to sign contracts with the army and navy until this OPA meddling is cleared up, thereby endangering the continuous production of weapons when current contracts are filled, Harter said, describing it as an "intolerable situation."

Discount Inflationary Problem.

"There absolutely is no need to include military equipment purchased by the United States under any price regulation or formula," asserted Harter. "Unlike civilian goods—which when scarce and wanted by many can lead readily to inflation—the prices of strictly war equipment do not contribute directly to inflation. Present law will reach profits of these concerns. Excess profits taxes are high and will be higher. Renegotiation of contracts has been made mandatory by congress. War industry is under constant surveillance of war and navy auditors and the bureau of internal revenue.

"It was not the intention of congress to hamstring the procurement officers of the army and navy by establishing price ceilings for war equipment, of which the government is the only purchaser. It is and should be the responsibility of the war and navy departments to produce and procure without delay the vitally needed military equipment for the armed forces.

Plans to Extend Restrictions.

"The OPA is interfering seriously with the production and further supply of combat airplanes. It is preparing to interfere with the production and supply of ships, army motorized equipment, tanks, guns, and munitions. It has sought for the better part of three months to impose a price fixing formula and maximum prices in the aircraft industry and upon those supplying implements of war. OPA has prepared numerous drafts of a proposed maximum price regulation covering any aircraft or aircraft subassembly or part."

To show how far this jurisdiction of the OPA would extend, Harter remarked that there are more than 50,000 parts in a bomber and about 22,000 parts in a pursuit plane, all of which would be subject to OPA regulation.

OUTLAWS ABUSE OF WOMEN WAR AIDS IN BRITAIN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 13.—British women don battle dress and work beside the men on the battle front but they don't have to take abuse. Mrs. Millicent Perry, 32 years old, of Erdington, Birmingham, an air raid ambulance attendant, went AWOL when she was ordered to peel potatoes and was called a "spud peeler." Later, a charge that she had disobeyed a lawful order was dismissed, the magistrate ruling that "spud peeler was a deliberately offensive term and ought not to have been used by the person giving the order."

Support Ordered

Mrs. Valery Uebele and Dolores.

Mrs. Valery Uebele, 29 years old, was given $20 a week temporary support for herself and daughter, Dolores, 7, when her attorney, Harry X. Cole, told Judge John P. McGoorty in Superior court, that she is compelled to live in a trailer because her husband, Stanley, 30, won't support her.

The trailer, Mrs. Uebele said, is at the rear of 2243 North 7th avenue, Elmwood Park. Uebele, a machinist, lives at 2439 North 73d avenue, Elmwood Park. The couple was married in 1934, and separated last Feb. 14.

"While Mrs. Uebele lives in a cramped trailer with their little daughter, Uebele has a car and a speedboat," Cole told the court.

"No, the speed boat was sold for $675—by Mrs. Uebele," retorted Attorney Albert Charles, for Uebele. Mrs. Uebele admitted that, but said she has used the money to pay bills.

TWO WAYS TO CUT DELIVERIES TOLD TO HOUSEWIVES

Chicago housewives were asked yesterday by Harry L. Gormley, Chicago director of the Office of Defense Transportation motor transport division, to help reduce truck deliveries by bunching their purchases and by carrying packages.

"If the operator of a local delivery service knows that his customers stand behind his effort to cut down delivery mileage, he will not slip from strict observance of ODT orders," Gormley said.

Slayer, a Trusty, Escapes from Stateville Prison

Percy Campbell, 51 years old, colored, a trusty, escaped late last night from the Stateville penitentiary at Joliet. He was serving a term of one year to life for manslaughter imposed in Chicago in 1924. As a trusty he had been placed on duty at the front gate of the prison. Officials said he walked away between 10:30 p. m. and midnight and that it was possible friends were waiting for him in an automobile nearby.

WPB BAN PUTS FULL STOP TO REA PROGRAM

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13 (AP).—The Rural Electrification administration's construction program came to a full stop today with a War Production board order halting all building of power and light projects unless specifically authorized by WPB.

The armed services' growing need for copper and steel was given as the reason for the order.

The REA has 15 partly completed projects in farm areas which are immediately affected.

Private Projects Limited.

Projects of private utility firms already were virtually at a standstill because of earlier restrictions on the use of critical or strategic materials in the construction of plants and power lines. However, construction may go ahead on new projects if they are specifically authorized by WPB as being essential to the war program or civilian requirements. None of the REA projects was included in this group.

Action of the board came in the form of an amendment to a previous curtailment order. In March the board granted permission to REA to complete any projects 40 per cent finished on Dec. 5, 1941. Twenty such projects have been completed, leaving 15 to be stopped now.

May Shift Employés.

The order's effect on the REA personnel was not immediately learned. The senate committee on reorganizing government establishments for war, headed by Sen. Millard Tydings [D., Md.], named REA as one of the agencies from which employés could be transferred to other offices concerned with the war effort. The committee said REA was "utilizing sorely needed engineers to develop electrical appliances that cannot and will not be manufactured for the duration of the war."

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Claude Passeau, who blew a 4 to 0 lead in Cincinnati Sunday after two were out in the ninth, thus being denied his 16th victory of the season, was shoved around by the Cardinals yesterday for four runs in the ninth, but he happily was working with a 13 to 1 lead at the time the belated St. Louis rioting started. So at the end of the day Passeau had captured his 16th victory and the Cubs had salvaged a triumph from the four game series, 13 to 5.

There only was one error in the Cincinnati instance, but in the ninth yesterday there were three. No one worried, tho, with that handsome 13 to 1 lead. Even the temperamental Passeau didn't get very sore, tho perhaps a bit shocked to have 10 batsmen face him in the final inning, thus delaying a big Mississippi supper.

Every Cub Gets a Hit.

Every Cub made at least one hit in the Cub awakening and there wasn't an inning in which the Chicagoans didn't hit safely. The last two Chicago runs were scored on a homer by Bill Nicholson, his 11th of the year. Passeau, with two singles and a sacrifice, batted .667 for the day, drove in two runs and helped another around. Dom Dallessandro, Lou Novikoff's understudy, who was hitless in the cleanup rôle in the first two and a half games of the series, knocked a double, two singles, and walked once. He scored three of the Chicago runs.

The triumph, in which the Cubs looked like major leaguers for the first time in quite a while, ended a string of Cardinal victories in Wrigley field at six. Wilson's boys now have won five of 16 in competition with the second placers.

The Cubs weren't superstitious about making three runs for Passeau in the first inning even tho they remembered that they started that way in the fatiguing 18 inning game in Cincinnati, Claude's last time out.

Cubs Given Eight Passes.

Murray Dickson started his troubles by walking Stan Hack in the first inning. It was the first of eight passes issued by St. Louis hurlers. Lou Stringer flied to Stan Musial and Nicholson fanned, but Dallessandro singled to right, putting Hack on RAMBLING notes on the waning baseball season: Luke Appling, who used to foul a dozen balls into the stands above first base and then hit to right field, now sends nearly all his pokes to left and left center. . . . He doesn't know why. . . . Yankee catchers, at latest accounts, had been charged with only two passed balls, and this despite the long absences of the mechanical man, Bill Dickey. . . . The Giants, with 82 home runs, are tops in both circuits, and the Yankees, with 70, are no better than third in the American, trailing the Browns and the Red Sox. . . . The White Sox, with 81 stolen bases, pace the Senators, who are second, by 15, the Cubs, who are best in the National league, by 33, and the Tigers and Reds, who are tied for leadfooted honors, by 50. . . . Bobby Bragan, converted overnight from a third baseman to a catcher by the Phils, has Hans Lobert's men winning the majority of their recent games. . . . Teddy Lyons, who is supposed to work only on the Sabbath, breaks his routine with a victory on Tuesday and then comes up with a four hit masterpiece after only four days' rest. . . . The Browns are in the first division for the first time at this stage of the campaign in 13 years. . . . It must be the war.

Phil Bengtson, who left Clark Shaughnessy's staff at Stanford to become Col. Bernie Bierman's line coach at the preflight training school in Iowa City, calls Vic Lindskog, the Stanford center you will see on Soldiers' field the night of Aug. 28, the finest lineman he ever has coached. . . . Bengtson was a great tackle under Bierman at Minnesota. . . . George Edwards, University of Missouri basketball coach, has been named acting director of publicity for the school. . . . Purdue faces the most attractive home schedule in the memory of the oldest living Boilermaker. . . . It includes games with Fordham, Wisconsin, Great Lakes, and Indiana. . . . Dick Bartell of the Giants, who has had trouble at the plate all summer, picked up a newspaper the other day and saw that a nag named Slump was running at Rockingham Park. . . . Dick put $2 on its nose and collected $113. . . . Larry French, who still rates with the elite of National league moundsmen, has been pitching for 17 seasons.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 13.—The White Sox's plans for a raid on the first division, plans so well laid that they had a nine game winning streak when they came here, underwent further revision this afternoon. The alterations were made at the suggestion of the Browns, who produced an 8 to 3 beating the Chicagoans accepted almost without protest. It gave Luke Sewell's crowd a sweep of the three game set, as well as the 11th success in 15 debates with the Chicagoans.

Today's disaster principally was an item of concern for Bill Dietrich, who probably meant well but failed to make allowances for the Browns' fondness for using the Sox as first division tonic. Bespectacled Bill was on the mound at the start, but whether he ever started pitching is questionable. He was slapped for two runs in the first, but that was mild in view of the happenings in the second. He was plastered then for four more runs, three because Harlond Clift notched a homer as one of his four safeties. When Dietrich yielded another run in the fifth, Manager James Dykes reckoned he had better yank his wayward Bill from the merry-go-round. Light subsequent damage was done against Joe Haynes.

Hits Don't Count, Boys.

The only consolation the Sox derived from their toil was that they weren't outhit. They piled up 13, but there were only two doubles and nothing longer than that in the en-

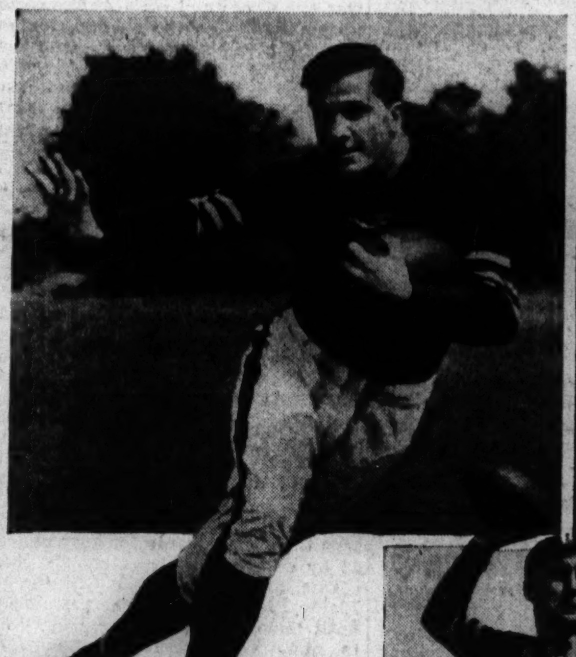
New Bears with the Skill of the Old



One of the most promising of the many rookies at the Bear camp in Delafield is Bill Geyer, half back from Colgate (above), in a typical action pose.

They call this youngster—Charley O'Rourke from Boston college—the Bears' No. 2 quarter back, but there is nothing second class about his play.

MANN VS. WALL, JAMESON MEETS ELLIS IN WESTERN

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

An encore of the 1941 championship match and a battle between a former double National title holder and a bespectacled Hoosier who has been giving a putting show thruout the last five days. That's the program for this afternoon's 18 hole semi-final matches in the 42d amateur tournament of the Women's Western Golf association.

Last August, on a warm Saturday afternoon at Exmoor, Mrs. Russell Mann of Omaha, Neb., defeated Mary Agnes Wall of Menominee, Mich., 4 and 3, in the 36 hole final argument. This afternoon the two friends will resume their rivalry in the first of the 18 hole semi-finals, as a result of their progress thru yesterday's quarter-finals. Mrs. Mann, the personable Iowan who now registers from Omaha Field club, kept moving along in the direction of a third WWGA amateur title [she also won it as Lucille Robinson in 1933, and from no less than Virginia Van Wie].

Her Game Is at Peak.

Her path to the penultimate foursome yesterday was that of the Lucille of old, for she needed only two pars for the par 77 that would have matched her medal winning performance of Monday as she defeated Mrs. Harold Sims of St. Paul, 4 and 2.

Miss Wall, returning to the kind of golf which has made her one of the standout competitors in the national scene, eliminated Claire Doran, 18 year old daughter of a Cleveland physician, 3 and 2, and in the doing surrendered only two holes.

This afternoon's second match sends Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex., twice winner of the National and victor in the recent WWGA Open at Elmhurst, against Dorothy Ellis, a young lady from Indianapolis whose putting reached its climax on the fourth green yesterday against Virginia Ingram, the home club's Illinois champion, where an 18 foot putt dived into the hole after a time spell in which the Gettysburg Address including punctuation, could have been read. Dorothy finally won the match by a 4 and 3 count. Miss Ellis is not only champion of her home state, but of her home town as well.

Montgomery, Zivic Win in Garden Bouts

New York, Aug. 13 (AP).—Bob Montgomery, Philadelphia Negro who has been a lightweight contender for the last couple of years, drew a little nearer to a title shot tonight by punching out a decision over Bobby Ruffin of New York in 10 rounds in Madison Square Garden. Montgomery weighed 135¾ pounds and Ruffin 135.

Taking over after Ex-Welterweight Champion Fritzie Zivic had slashed Marine Garvey Young's face and stopped him in six rounds of the cofeatured 10 rounder, Montgomery slowed the New Yorker down with a vicious body attack, floored him once, cut his right eye, and won off by himself.

A crowd of 14,964 contributed to a gross gate of $32,366 to see the card.

Scoring chiefly with a straight right hand as he easily solved Young's unorthodox left hand style, Zivic had the marine's right eye cut as early as the third round and floored him for a one count in the fifth. The fight ended when the state athletic commission physician decided, at the end of the sixth, that Young's right eye was cut too badly to permit him to continue.

In another 10 rounder Cleo Shans, Los Angeles Negro, was awarded a decision over Maxie Shapiro of New York after a slugging duel.

Sanders Cox, Dallas youngster, reversed a recent defeat by flooring Wiley Ferguson of Lynchburg, Va., five times and taking a four round decision in the opening preliminary.

DUDLEY, JACOBS AND SMITH STAR IN AERIAL DRILL

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Bruce Smith, Bill Dudley, and Jack Jacobs threw forward passes for an hour yesterday afternoon as the All-Stars drilled on the air attack with which they hope to riddle the defenses of the Chicago Bears on Soldiers' field Aug. 28.

Minnesota's Smith needs no introduction to Chicagoans. He was kingpin in the Gophers' attack that carried them to an undefeated season last fall. He also played in most of the 17 consecutive games Minnesota now has won, a string of victories to be placed on the line again this fall.

Virginia's Dudley and Oklahoma's Jacobs are not well known except from newspaper accounts, altho the Sooner star helped to defeat Northwestern in Dyche stadium in his sophomore year. But let it be noted now that when these men wind up and pitch, they are as accurate as

GEYER, KISSELL LEAD BACKS IN SMASHING LINE

Promise Grief for All-Stars Aug. 28.

BY EDWARD PRELL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Delafield, Wis., Aug. 13.—The pantywaist period of the Chicago Bears' preparations for the College All-Stars came to an abrupt end at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The pro champions, since Saturday, hadn't so much as bumped each other, but they came out dressed for action in today's second drill.

It was scheduled to be only a line scrimmage, in which the opposing forwards pushed, shoved, and tugged against each other. The party had proceeded along this pattern until Coaches George Halas and Paddy Driscoll led back field men into the canvas enclosure. They had been hitting the spring dummy outside the field. Halas yelled at Line Coach Hunk Anderson, who had been cracking the whip on the big linemen. But Hunk apparently was concentrating so much on his work that he didn't hear his master's voice. Waving toward the linemen, Halas yelled to his backs: "Let's go down there and get 'em." So the line scrimmage became in effect a real scrimmage. The backs pounded into and around the line for half an hour. Halas set 10 o'clock Sunday morning for the next scrimmage, which will be a trifle rougher than today's.

Freshmen Bid for Berths.

Sunday's business will provide another practical test of the new plays generated in Halas' gridiron laboratories, which will have been going full blast for several weeks—in Chicago and here. It also will give the first definite line on 16 freshmen, who are battling for the 13 openings on the squad and a chance to see action against Bob Zuppke's All-Americans in Soldiers' field on Aug. 28.

In today's morning workout, Coach Halas went into a verbal tantrum when the players became distracted by a huge plane circling overhead. Some of the boys with suspicious natures thought perhaps the ship was carrying members of the All-Star staff, reconnaissance bent. While they were gawking into the sky, Coach Halas' sharp barking brought them to attention. He threatened fines if they didn't attend to business. The jarring talk brought results.

Geyer Makes a Hit.

Later, after he had cooled off, the Bears' head man became enthusiastic in talking about the possibilities of the new men.

"This Bill Geyer," he said, "looks better than George McAfee did his first year. If he plays as hard in a game as he has in our signal drills we might have a 90 per cent McAfee."

The three right halves probably will be Hugh Gallarneau, Geyer, and Butch Kissell. Halas likes the mannerisms of Kissell, a first year man from Boston college, who was the 194th player chosen in the National league's draft of 200 players last December.

Sid Is Head Quarter Back.

Sid Luckman, of course, is the top quarter back, with the added responsibility of paring his weight to an even 200, 11 less than he is carrying. Young Bussey, the curlyhead from Louisiana State who was on the erratic side last season, is more serious this year and has intentions of at least beating out Charles O'Rourke for the No. 2 signal calling job.

Early today Bob Nowaskey went down to the drug store and purchased a box of cigars to celebrate the birth of an 8½ pound daughter to his wife.

Don't be too late when there's so much to see!

It's a matter of hours now until the racks will be cleaned of all tickets to the ninth annual College All-Star game, sport's most glittering spectacle. Only a few thousand tickets remain for the battle between the All-Americans and Chicago Bears in Soldiers' field the night of Aug. 28. Over the counter at these places and this price:

OCCUPATION MAY DOUBLE EARNINGS IN RICH FUTURITY

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Occupation, the speedy colt owned by John Marsch of Chicago, will get a chance to earn a place among the great money winning juveniles of all time when he goes to the post tomorrow in the Washington Park Futurity. This event, which will carry a gross value of $70,625 with 12 starters, will net Occupation $59,225 if he is able to win it. Already he has accumulated $59,100 by taking five first places and two seconds in the seven races of his career. Thus a victory tomorrow would bring his total to $118,325 with the season for the big money stakes just getting fairly under way.

In the history of American racing, only eight horses have exceeded this sum as 2 year olds. Of course, this is not an entirely fair basis of comparison, because when some of the greatest horses were running the purses weren't what they are today. And yet, as far back as 1893, Domino was able to accumulate $170,000 by winning nine consecutive races as a 2 year old.

Top Flight Holds Record.

This mark stood for 38 years until the filly, Top Flight, came along in 1931 and ran up earnings of $219,000 by winning seven in a row. That was at a time when the Belmont Futurity alone was worth in the neighborhood of $100,000 to the winner.

The eight horses, which as juveniles exceeded the sum which Occupation has a chance to total tomorrow, follow:

1893—Domino	$170,000
1907—Colin	131,007
1925—Pompey	121,630
1928—High Strung	153,590
1929—Whichone	135,455
1930—Equipoise	156,835
1931—Top Flight	219,000
1939—Bimelech	135,090

It is a significant feature of the policy pursued by Arlington Park and Washington Park that it is now possible for a juvenile to earn a high place among the leading money winners of all time without ever going out of the Chicago area. Occupation's winner's share of the Arlington Futurity last month was $51,500. If he should win tomorrow, however, he may go much higher in the list because he also is nominated for the Belmont Futurity, the Pimlico Futurity and other important events coming up later in the season. Last year the Belmont was worth $57,900 to the winner and the Pimlico $33,910.

Fast Field Is Expected.

Occupation's rivals tomorrow are expected to include Ethel Hill's War Knight, Mrs. John Hertz's Count Fleet, T. D. Buhel's Likeashot, J. L. Sullivan's Hygrohour, A. T. Simmons' Blue Swords, Charles Nuckols' Littletown, J. E. Widener's Glanceabout, Gustave Ring's Ringmenow, Louis B. Mayer's African Sun, and Hal Price Headley's Bull's Eye. There probably will be a number of other overnight entries from the field of 136 eligibles.

The $2,500 South Chicago handicap, supporting feature to the Futurity, drew the advance nominations of Alsab and With Regards, both of which are pointing for the American Derby on Aug. 29. The weights and full entry list will be announced by Racing Secretary Webb Everett today.

BROWN TRIUMPHS IN TRAFFIC CLUB GOLF TOURNEY

Warren W. Brown, an employé of the Nickel Plate railroad who owes his golfing allegiance to Sunset Ridge, defeated Harry Scheel of Elmhurst, 4 and 3, to win the Chicago Traffic club golf championship at the Elmhurst Country club yesterday.

Brown won the championship cup and a $25 war bond in the 36 hole final which climaxed three previous outings of the Traffic club. The four finalists who played for the title yesterday were selected from the low medal scores of the composite totals of the previous days of play. The other two members of the final foursome were F. F. Hankis and Leo Clarahan.

WOOF WOOF WINS $5,000 HANDICAP AT WASHINGTON

Favored King's Abbey Is Beaten by Nose.

Woof Woof, racing at odds of 7 to 2, won the $5,000 Homewood handicap yesterday at Washington Park. Under a strongly sustained ride by Steve Brooks, this 5 year old gelding took the lead going into the far turn and held it to the finish, beating King's Abbey, the 8 to 5 favorite, by a nose. King's Abbey, which had been hindered when Copperman bore out in the stretch, had a margin of half a length over Jamerica for second place.

Victory Pays $9.20.

The winner, which is owned by B. B. Robinson, ran the mile and a furlong in 1:51 1-5. The mutuel price for his first victory since beating Daily Trouble and With Regards at Arlington Park was $9.20, $4.00, and $2.80.

A field of eight went to the post in this event. Ball Player broke on top and led the way into the clubhouse turn with Wishing, Woof Woof, and Copperman going with him. King's Abbey was racing with the trailers and Jamerica, too, was quite a way back.

Ball Player maintained his position to the far turn. Then Brooks sent Woof Woof past him into the lead. On the last turn Ralph Neves began moving King's Abbey up on the outside and by the time they reached the head of the stretch he was in a position to launch a determined drive.

King's Abbey Cuts Lead.

As they came down the straightaway Woof Woof's three length lead was cut steadily. King's Abbey came up powerfully on the outside, but as he attempted to pass Copperman the latter came out a bit and the two riders were scraping knees for about 50 yards. King's Abbey then drew clear from his rival, but just missed getting to Woof Woof.

MIGDOW DEFEATS BESKIN, ATWATER TO WIN NET TITLE

Benny Migdow yesterday played his semi-final match, postponed from Wednesday, with Marvin Beskin, and won, 6-0, 6-2. He continued on a few hours later and beat Howe Atwater, 6-2, 6-4 for the boys under 18 title in the first annual Metropolitan Tennis tournament for boys and girls at the River Forest Tennis club.

Atwater then bounced back and won the championship for boys under 16 by defeating Jerry Evert, 6-2, 6-4.

One final, the Vivian Greenberg-Elaine Passow match, was postponed until tomorrow. Miss Greenberg lost to Annette Dirkes in the final for girls under 15 after a hard three set battle, 6-4, 3-6, 8-6. Summaries:

town newspaper, has foregone the commission of literature this trip in order to concentrate on a double western victory for the year." Betty admitted last night that there might have been room for a story in her quarter-final match with Dorothy Kirby of Atlanta, Ga., the same slim southerner who carried Miss Jameson to the 34th green of the 1939 National Women's final. Yesterday Betty and Dot took over the show and the house, since they were the last of the four matches in the championship bracket, and Betty won, 2 and 1.

Mrs. Mann's card reveals one of the most startling developments of the local season—a winning birdie which wound up with her losing the first hole. She charged in a 40 footer at that, but before doing so she cleaned her ball. Contestants had been permitted to do so until yesterday, but she inadvertently applied the laundry touch to the ball yesterday and then called the infraction on herself, going 1 down. Cards:

CHICAGO IS HOST TO ANOTHER BIG GOLFING EVENT

National Amateur Starts at Knollwood Monday.

The Chicago National Amateur tournament, conducted by the Chicago District Golf association, is expected to have another entry of national caliber when it goes to the tee Monday morning at the Knollwood club in West Lake Forest. Ray Billows of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., winner of last year's title, which was then designated as the Great Lakes Amateur championship, and Frank Stranahan of Toledo, O., runner-up in the 1941 meet at Knollwood and first amateur in the Tam o' Shanter and Canadian Open events, are definitely entered.

Such other stars as Wilford Wehrle, Earl Stewart, John Holmstrom, John Lehman, Art Doering, Gus Moreland, and Jack Hoerner are expected, and telegraphic invitations have been sent to Marvin [Bud] Ward, Pat Abbott, Walter Burkemo, other men in the armed forces, asking them to play if they can obtain furloughs.

F. M. [Ted] Quinn, tournament chairman of the CDGA, yesterday emphasized the fact that the Chicago National Amateur is not restricted to private club players, and reiterated the CDGA bid to all players who can produce a handicap of five strokes or under, as attested by the professional or manager at the course they usually play. The entry fee is $5.

The tournament will begin Monday with an 18 hole qualifying round. The low 64 scorers in that will qualify for match play, which will consist of double 18 hole rounds on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, with Friday's title match set for 36 holes.

Glen Oak will open its two day Roundup today and Butterfield will conduct its 22d annual Founders' day tourney tomorrow. . . . The state Left Handers meet will be held at Evanston today. The annual outing of the Automotive Golf Association of Illinois is expected to include approximately 100 competitors today at Tam o' Shanter.

HOGAN LEADS IN ROCHESTER OPEN ON 1ST ROUND 64

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 13 (AP).—Ben Hogan today took a commanding lead in the $5,000 Times-Union Open by firing a 64, six under par and a course record by two strokes.

The Hershey, Pa., shotmaker, with nine one-putt greens, clustered eight birdies, nine pars, and one double bogey—the latter on the par four 462-yard 17th.

CHAMPION STILL IN COOK COUNTY GOLF TOURNEY

Bob Dougherty Enters Semi-Finals Today.

The defending champion, two former caddies, and a veteran remained in the race for the 1942 men's Cook County Amateur golf championship at Columbus park yesterday.

All four quarter-final matches were close. Bob Dougherty of Navajo fields, defending champion, eliminated Eddie Kletcke of Jackson park, 3 and 1; Louis Esposito of the Manheim Golf club was forced to go an extra hole before turning back George Hansen, unattached entrant, 1 up; Thomas Thompson of the home club won from Budd George, also of Columbus park, 3 and 2, and Dante Vicini of Columbus park went to the 18th green to register a 1 up victory over Ed Wiech, another local contender.

Esposito Busy Man.

Esposito, a former caddy, is a night clerk, working for the Indiana Harbor Belt line. He finishes work at 8 o'clock in the morning, grabs a hurried bit of breakfast, and then dashes out to the west side club to try his luck. He will furnish the opposition for Dougherty in the round of four today which gets under way at 10 o'clock.

The longest match of the tournament turned up in a second flight battle involving Art Melinkoff and Phil Collias. Collias won on the 28th green, 1 up. Today's semi-final pairings:

CHAMPIONSHIP—9:30 a. m., Dante Vicini vs. Thomas Thompson; 10 a. m., Louis Esposito vs. Bob Dougherty.

FIRST FLIGHT—9:20 a. m., J. T. Adams vs. Guy Murphy; 9:30 a. m., Alex Kamazura vs. Walter Dyer.

SECOND FLIGHT—9:40 a. m., Larry Bassuk vs. Chester Wirtel; 9:50 a. m., Al Stacey vs. Phil Collias.

QUARTER-FINAL RESULTS.

CHAMPIONSHIP—Dante Vicini, Columbus park, beat Ed Weich, Columbus park, 1 up; Thomas Thompson, Columbus park, beat Budd George, Columbus park, 3 and 2; Louis Esposito, Manheim, beat George Hansen, unattached, 1 up, 19 holes; Bob Dougherty, Navajo fields, beat Eddie Kletcke, Jackson park, 3 and 1.

FIRST FLIGHT—J. T. Adams beat Frank Lilikes, 1 up, 19 holes; Guy Murphy beat Leo Fahey, 4 and 3; Alex Kamazura beat Frank Kirpluk, 3 and 2; Walter Dyer beat Fred Cutlan, 1 up, 20 holes.

SECOND FLIGHT—Larry Bassuk beat Jay Thoner, 3 and 1; Chester Wirtel beat Terry Syverson, 1 up; Al Stacey beat Harold Luxen, 2 and 1; Phil Collias beat Art Melinkoff, 1 up.

Browns Crush Sox, 8 to 3, for Series Sweep

tire assortment. Another drawback was that, even tho the eighth was the only inning in which they didn't dent Steve Sundra with at least one safety, there was little doing in the pinches.

Not a little of the Sox's failures to cash in on the many opportunities can be charged against Taft Wright, the fellow who loves to hit and frequently does. In his first three appearances the prospective army draftee was up with mates on the bases awaiting developments. He did nothing. In the seventh, with the bags empty and two out, he singled and that went to waste. But he did draw a pass in the ninth, in which the first five Sox reached base. The pass induced Sundra to withdraw in favor of Al Hollingsworth, but the Chicagoans' only reward was a lone run.

Trouble Starts Early.

Dietrich didn't delay getting himself into difficulties. He walked Don Gutteridge to open the first inning. A moment later Wright and Sammy West couldn't decide what should be done about Clift's long fly, so it dropped between them for a double, Gutteridge scoring. Clift hiked to third on a passed ball which was more of a wild pitch than anything else, and registered on Walt Judnich's fly to Wright.

All Dietrich had to do to escape undamaged in the four run second was to retire his pitching foe. With two out, Sundra came up with second base occupied by George McQuinn, who had singled. Sundra singled to drive him home. Gutteridge also singled and then Clift poured his seventh 1942 homer into the left field seats, for a 6 to 0 lead.

A Big Threat Fizzles Out.

The Chicagoans threatened to do big things in the third, but wound up with one skimpy run. Don Kolloway's double, a single by Wally Moses and a pass to West filled the bags with none out. Kolloway got home on Luke Appling's fly ball. Wright and Joe Kuhel were retired in the same way.

Moses' third hit—a double—opened the fifth but this threat also was boiled down to one run. The only help Moses received from West was a pop foul. Appling singled to send the run home and stole second, but Wright flied to Chet Laabs. Kuhel walked and Bob Kennedy grounded to Vern Stephens. Singles by Judnich and Stephens, and Mike Chartak's fly returned this run to the Browns in their half.

A hit off Haynes in the seventh led to the eighth run for the Browns. It was a triple to center with which Judnich opened the inning. He scored while Appling was throwing out Stephens.

Moses opened the Sox ninth with a single, his fourth hit. He went to third on West's single against the right field screen. Appling also singled and Moses scored, but West was out trying to reach third.

Carl Olson, Pitt Track Coach, Gets Commission

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 13 (AP).—Carl Olson, 49 year old track coach of the University of Pittsburgh and president of the National Track Coaches' association, today was commissioned a lieutenant commander in the navy reserve. He will report Sept. 9 at Newport, R. I., for his indoctrination course.

Merle Hapes Follows Family Tradition as Football Star

Down in Oxford, Miss., in the deep south, they call him, "The last of the Hapes." That would be Merle Hapes, who won All-American full back honors at Mississippi last year and who has already made quite an impression in the All-Star practices at Dyche stadium where the collegians are preparing for their date with the Chicago Bears at Soldiers' field, Aug. 28.

Hapes is the third of three brothers of Garden Grove, Cal., all of whom starred in football at Ole Miss. First there was Clarence, full back, who graduated in 1937. Then there was Ray, 165 pound half back, who led the Southeastern conference in scoring in 1938.

And now there's Merle—the last of the Hapes—and [with a bow to the other two] the greatest. Rival coaches in the Southeastern conference can hardly be blamed for expressing thankfulness that they have seen the last of the transplanted Californians, especially after the way Brother Merle manhandled their defenses for the last three years.

Follows Kinard, Hall.

Now that he has left Ole Miss, Hapes has one all absorbing objective, and that is to equal the performances of two other former Mississippi players who were members of the All-Star squad, Frank [Bruiser] Kinard, tackle, and Parker Hall, half back.

Altho he never scaled more than 180 pounds, he ranked as the deep south's hardest hitting full back over the past three seasons. In addition he has the speed and elusiveness of a half back. Put them together, add a dash of passing and kicking and they spell perfection.

Hapes' path to gridiron renown was made in company with another famed Mississippi player, Junie Hovious, whose dazzling speed and all around effectiveness made him an ideal partner of Hapes. Down around Oxford they used to say that there was only one thrust thru the air more likely to break up a game than that from Hapes to Hovious. It was from Hovious to Hapes.

Hovious was elected to the All-Star squad, but he is enrolled in Northwestern's naval midshipmen's training school and was unable to take time off from his studies.

Southern Star

Leads Southern Scorers.

The south really became Hapes conscious in 1940 when his plunging and open field running moved him to the forefront of the nation's ball carriers. In 120 rushing attempts he gained 851 yards for an average of 6.7 yards per carry. He led the south in scoring with 12 touchdowns, three of them coming on runs of 50, 70, and 75 yards. He completed 13 out of 21 passes, three of them for touchdowns, and averaged 44.9 yards in punting.

After Merle virtually defeated Louisiana State single handed with two touchdown passes in 1940 for a 19 to 6 triumph, Coach Bernie Moore of the Tigers moodily observed, "Hapes is the best back I've seen in many a year, possessing more speed than Beattie Feathers and a faster start than John Kimbrough. He's too good to be true."

Bruce Smith. Jacobs, in particular, has a short fast delivery that scores a bull's-eye 9 times in 10.

Dudley Can Get Around, Too.

Dudley was the standout half back in the east last year and his passing ability backs up unusual fleetness in the open field. Dudley scored one of the All-Stars' four touchdowns in the first scrimmage of the campaign. All three of the men are best when the chips are down. Smith's 80 yard run defeated Michigan in 1940 in the critical battle of that season. Jacobs was the star in the East-West game this year.

The camp continued to buzz yesterday over the remarkable showing of Michigan's full back, Bob Westfall, in the first intracamp game. The coaches were well pleased with the progress of the squad and anticipate Westfall's effectiveness against the professional champions.

It Wasn't All Harmon.

"We once thought that Tom Harmon made Westfall a great full back," Coach Bob Zuppke said yesterday. "Then, we guessed Westfall was a good full back because of deception and a fine line, but he has remarkable straight away power and he likes to hit the line."

Homer Norton of the Southwest conference championship team, Texas A. & M., was equally enthusiastic.

"Westfall throws his hips into a tackler with the same natural movement Jim Thorpe had. He runs with the quickness of a half back once he splits the line," Norton said.

While the backs and ends drilled on passes, the burly linemen again had strenuous workouts blocking and charging on signal. Urban Odson of Minnesota, and Al Blozis of Georgetown, who starred on defense in the scrimmage, won approval, as did Clarence Herndon of Nebraska, Jack Stephenson and Jim Daniell of Ohio State, and Alf Bauman of Northwestern.

Fitch Smashes Thru.

Bob Fitch's smashing charges from the end of the defensive scrimmage line also were applauded. The Minnesota end has the drive and spirit shown in previous All-Star camps by Wayne Millner and Chuck Sweeney.

One set of backs in the running and passing drills was composed of Westfall, Dudley, Pete Kmetovic of Stanford, and Dick Erdlitz of Northwestern. Jack Graf of Ohio State, and Steve Juzwik of Notre Dame, who will start the game against the Bears, have worked with Jack Hunt, Marshall college left half back, and Harry Ice, Missouri quarter back. Lloyd Cheatham of Alabama Poly replaced Ice in this lineup and Jacobs took over for Hunt.

More Players Arrive.

Bob Moser, Texas half back, arrived in the All-Star camp last night from Camp Cooke, Cal. Other arrivals yesterday were Lavere Astroth of Illinois and Tom Farris of Wisconsin. Farris' home is in Chicago and he attended Englewood High school. Both are enlisted in the United States coast guard. They joined the group which still is learning the plays. This includes Fred Preston, Nebraska end; Bill Crawford, Texas Christian guard; Butch Levy, Minnesota guard, and Joe Boyle, Creighton end.

The spirit of the All-Star squad has been heightened—if this were possible—by the knowledge that the game with the Bears is the greatest in the nine years of the series sponsored by the Chicago Tribune Charities. A record crowd of 101,200 will watch the battle. Army and navy relief will receive a record donation of $160,000. The special drive for army emergency relief now totals $109,800. For each $100 donation a ticket is awarded on the 50 yard line.

Musicians!

COLLEGE musicians and former members of the All-Star band residing in the Chicago district are invited to participate in the ceremony between the halves of the College All-Stars-Chicago Bears game in Soldiers' field on Aug. 28. A limited number of senior high school musicians also will be accepted. Musicians should write G. Cliffe Bainum, band director, Fisk hall, Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill.

KELLY IS STAR OF POLICEMEN'S GOLF TOURNEY

Joseph Kelley was the star yesterday in the Chicago Police golf tournament at Glen Eagles Country club. Kelley, attached to the detective bureau, won two events on the program, taking the Commissioner James P. Allman trophy with score of 35, then firing a 36—33—69 to capture the Sen. Abraham Marovitz trophy.

The trophy donated by Major Edward J. Kelly was won by Alfred Lindenmeyer who carded a 34. Dr. James Pecaro was the runner-up with 36. More than 200 competed in the events.

Frank Hayes of the 29th district won the patrolman championship with 37—41—78. Frank McNamara finished one stroke behind with 39—40—79. The women's championship was won by Mrs. Evelyn Hine with an 87.

PARICHYS PILE UP 7-1 VICTORY OVER ROCKOLAS

The Parichy Bloomer girls defeated the Rockola Music Maids, 7 to 1, last night in the first game of their series in Parichy stadium. In other girls' Major Softball league games the Match Corporation won over Rheingold, 4 to 1, in Match Corporation stadium, and Garden City scored a 9 to 4 triumph over Mosby Realtors in Shewbridge field.

The Rheingold girls will play a double header tonight, meeting the Mosby Realtors in the first game and Match Corporation in the second in Rand stadium. Other games tonight:

27 RACE TONIGHT FOR STATE 3 MILE BICYCLE CROWN

Twenty-seven riders will compete tonight for the three mile Illinois state track championship in the Humboldt park bicycle bowl, under the auspices of the Catholic Youth organization.

Evo Passaglio, CYO.; Armendo DiPietro, Mazzini club; Al Stiller, Mazzini club; Al Becker, Belgian club, and Sears Taylor, Don Griffe, Don Hyerdal, and Frank Brilando of the Barrett A. C. have an equal chance of capturing the three mile title. Ten teams will compete in a one hour team race.

BUSINESS TAKES BACK SEAT AT BIG 10 MEETING

Directors Prefer to Tour Pre-Flight School.

Iowa City, Ia., Aug. 13 [Special].—Big Ten athletic directors, opening their regular summer meeting here tonight, skipped their first scheduled business session and it appeared that the prime consideration of the conference officials will be the University of Iowa preflight school.

Early arrivals, including Harry Stuhldreher of Wisconsin and Robert L. St. John of Ohio State, got their first peek at the navy base this afternoon with the escort of Lieut. Col. Bernie Bierman, athletic director at the school. The directors got together at a banquet tonight, but no business was discussed.

Attend Review Today.

Tomorrow morning they will attend a regimental review at the preflight base along with Lieut. Comm. Tom Hamilton, director of the preflight program, and six commanding officers of midwest flight bases.

In the afternoon they will make a comprehensive tour of the entire base with the navy officials. Saturday morning the directors will dig into whatever business is on hand. There has been no disclosure concerning what topics will be brought up during this meeting.

Study Preflight Program.

The fact tonight's business meeting was canceled seemed to indicate the directors were mainly interested in the navy's preflight program, which has been in operation since May 28.

Cubs Defeat Cards, 13 to 5; 16 for Passeau

third. Rip Russell singled to right, scoring Hack and putting Dallessandro on third. Dallessandro and Russell essayed a double steal and Dallessandro scored when Ken O'Dea dropped the return after throwing to Marion. Phil Cavarretta walked and Lenny Merullo singled to left, scoring Russell. Merullo was trapped off first after Musial had thrown the ball to the plate and in the ensuing rundown the play was diverted to Cavarretta, who was out between third and home.

Terry Moore knocked a homer in the third inning, but the Cubs fattened their lead two runs in the fourth on two walks, two sacrifices and a single by Chico Hernandez.

Howard Pollet started his two inning term in the fifth and right off the Cubs made a run on Dellessandro's third hit, a double, and Cavarretta's single.

Moore Walks Four in Row.

Whitey Moore put on quite a show to get the big seventh under way. He walked Stringer, Nicholson, Dallassandro and Russell. Manager Southworth sensed that Moore's control was faulty and replaced him with Howard Krist. A double by Merullo and a single by Passeau brought the total for the inning to five.

Stringer opened the eighth with a single to left and Nicholson drove the ball into the horticultural display entwined on the right field wall for his 11th homer of the year, scoring behind Stringer.

The four hit attack on Passeau in the ninth was aggravated by two errors by Hack and one by Russell. With four runs in, the game ended with the bases loaded on O'Dea's long fly to Nicholson.

The Cubs and the Pittsburgh Pirates will open a five game series in Wrigley field with a single game this afternoon. There will be double headers tomorrow and Sunday. This afternoon it will be Lon Warneke vs. Bob Klinger.

Fight Decisions

Girl Swimmers Open National AAU Meet in Neenah Today

Neenah, Wis., Aug. 13 [Special].—The first of 75 of the nation's outstanding women swimmers and divers will go into competition tomorrow when the opening four events of the National AAU outdoor program are held in Neenah's recreational building swimming pool. Three swimming events and the platform dive are to be completed tomorrow.

Two Portland, Ore., stars will seek to retain their titles in two of the events billed for tomorrow. They are Nancy Merki, national 1,500 meter free style champion, and Brenda Helser, 100 meter free style title holder. Other events to be completed on the first day's program are the 300 meter individual medley and the platform dive. Trials in the 100 meter and 300 meter medley events will be held in the afternoon, while the finals are scheduled for the evening.

Glamor Girl Competes.

Marilyn Billquist of the Chicago's Skyline A. C., Central AAU champion, and Irene Burke of Detroit, who was Miss Detroit in 1940, will be among the contestants for the 100 meter championship.

Four more finals, in the 800 meter relay, 100 meter backstroke, 200 meter breaststroke, and 400 meter free style, and scheduled for Saturday night. Trials in all but the relay will be held in the afternoon. Gloria Callen of Nyack, N. Y., who holds approximately 40 national records, is an overwhelming favorite to win the backstroke title for the third straight year. Indianapolis' two defending champions will also compete that day. They are Betty Bemis in the 400 meter event and Patty Aspinall in the breaststroke.

The 100 meter breaststroke, 800 meter free style, high board diving, and 300 meter medley relay will be contested Sunday afternoon after morning trials.

Many Divers Entered.

The diving events have drawn large entries. Entrants include Barbara Ramser of Chicago's Shawnee Country club, Central AAU champion, and Dorothy Ziegler of the Medinah club, indoor champion.

Optional events on the program include team synchronized swimming, in which the Lake Shore club, Skyline A. C., and Midwest A. C. teams will perform.

Also on the program are diving exhibitions by Earl Clark and Sammy Lee, national men's champions, and log rolling exhibitions by Mary Malott, Cornell, Wis., national women's champion, and Arbutus Wilson, Ladysmith, Wis.

SIX ALL-STARS, COACHES TO BE GUESTS OF CJAC

Coach Robert C. Zuppke, head coach of the College All-Stars; Frank Leahy of Notre Dame, an assistant on the All-Star staff, and six members of the squad which will meet the Chicago Bears at Soldiers' field Aug. 28 will be guests of the Chicago Junior Association of Commerce at a luncheon in the Sherman hotel Monday. The players who will attend are Dick Erdlitz of Northwestern, Bill Dudley of Virginia, Bob Westfall of Michigan, Al Blozis of Georgetown, Bernie Crimmins of Notre Dame, Judd Ringer of Minnesota, and Vic Lindskog of Stanford.

Within the ivy-covered walls of this distillery no whiskey other than Old Taylor has ever been made.

A CAREFUL man gives his name only to something of which he is proud. The late Col. E. H. Taylor Jr. was a careful man—and a master whiskey maker. He gave his name to OLD TAYLOR because he believed it the best bourbon possible to make. Down the years since then, millions of men have agreed with him. And we think you will, too, when you taste this gloriously good whiskey.

INDIANS SCORE 3 RUNS IN NINTH; BEAT TIGERS, 3-2

Hockett Doubles After Trucks Fills Bases.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 13 (AP).—With two men out and the bases loaded in the ninth, Oris Hockett doubled today to drive in three runs, enabling the Cleveland Indians to edge out the Detroit Tigers, 3 to 2.

It was the Indians' first victory in eight starts and was scored at the expense of Virgil [Fire] Trucks.

Losing control in the ninth, Trucks walked three men to load the bases, then was replaced by Jack Wilson. Hockett was the first Indian to face the relief pitcher. The victory was the 13th for Jim Bagby. Score:

Bartz to Face Harlem for Match Men Tonight

Bill Bartz, one armed pitcher who recently pitched a no hit game against Fort Wayne, Ind., will be on the mound tonight for the Match Corporation of America softball team when it plays the Harlem Hot-ten-tots in Parichy stadium, Harlem and Harrison avenues. The Hot-ten-tots have three players better known to Chicagoans for their basketball prowess. They are Agis Bray, short fielder, Duke Cumberland, third baseman, and Ace Holden, pitcher, all of whom have played basketball here.

LATE RECOVERY BOOSTS UNEVEN STOCK MARKET

Net Changes Small at End of Shaky Session.

New York, Aug. 13 (AP).—A little selective buying came into the stock market near the close today and enabled a number of favorites to register fair gains.

The list was shaky from the start, but recoveries of fractions to a point or so were well spread over the ticker tape to give advances the edge at a narrow, mixed close.

Slightly increased volume resulted largely from sizable blocks of stocks selling at less than $10 a share. Consolidated Oil was the fastest mover, getting up ¼ to a new year's top.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 0.1 of a point at 36.4. Of 589 issues traded, 275 were up and 165 unchanged and 149 lower.

Air transport stocks were active and higher. Pan-American Airways touched a new 1942 peak with a gain of ¾, and Eastern Air Lines advanced 1. American Airlines rose ½.

CHICAGO LIST UNEVEN.

Chicago Stock exchange prices were uneven again yesterday, Brown Fence and Wire, the volume leader, Commonwealth Edison, Libby, and Central and South West closed unchanged. Consolidated Oil gained ¼, but dipped ⅛ from the New York close in the last half hour. Anaconda Copper and Nash Kelvinator each was fractionally below New York prices.

BREWERS REPORT LARGE EMPLOYE BUYING OF BONDS

War bond purchases by the nation's 55,000 brewing company employés have been rising at the rate of more than one million dollars a month, reaching a total of $13,390,429 on July 1, Joseph F. Hein, president of the Monarch Brewing company, Chicago, reported yesterday. He is chairman of district 8 of the industry's war savings committee.

Hein said the total represents an average of $243 for each employé and that it is believed most brewery workers are exceeding the government's request for subscriptions equalling at least 10 per cent of wages. He asserted the July 1 total for the personnel of 344 breweries leads that of other industries on the basis of average individual subscriptions.

INCREASED GRAIN MOVEMENT THRU CHICAGO LIKELY

Suspension of Shipping Permits Expected.

BY PHILIP WARDEN.

Wheat and other grain futures closed fractionally lower yesterday as elevator interests made preparations to handle a growing movement of grain in the next week or two. Dealers said these two major developments are expected to increase the amount of grain moving thru Chicago:

1. All restrictions on shipments to this market except on grain for storage will be removed tomorow.
2. The Commodity Credit corporation will use Chicago as distributing point for its feed wheat sales.

Announcement Expected.

Official announcement by administrators of the grain permit system that permits no longer will be necessary on shipments of free or cash grain is expected this morning.

Administrative officials revealed that the Commodity Credit corporation has obtained permits to bring approximately 350,000 to 400,000 bushels of wheat for feeding purposes into this market. Elevator interests estimated that the government agency would move more than a half million bushels of the wheat thru here in the next few weeks.

Elevator men said the government wheat would not hamper deliveries on September futures contracts, but would be handled thru regular working rooms and would put no restrictions on storage space.

Futures Unchanged to Lower.

Wheat futures finished unchanged to ⅛ cent a bushel lower, the September delivery closing at $1.17⅜. Corn futures were ¼ to ⅝ cent lower. Oats closed ¼ to ½ cent lower. Rye was unchanged. Soy beans closed ⅛ cent lower.

Small mill buying rallied wheat futures from every dip of any consequence, brokers reported. Industrial purchases of more than 200,000 bushels of corn to come to Chicago brought some hedging pressure into the corn pit, they added, offsetting the bullish nature of the advance in the hog market.

Brokers' Loans Decline But Hold Above Year Ago

Washington, D. C., Aug. 14 (AP).—The federal reserve board reported today that loans to brokers and dealers on securities held by reporting member banks in New York City totaled 418 million dollars as of yesterday, a decrease of 16 million from a week earlier.

TRADE GROUPS EXPECT CANNED FOOD COST RISE

6% Ceiling Increase Held Probable.

Price Index Steady

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13 (AP).—The department of labor reported today that wholesale commodity prices were comparatively steady during the week ended Aug. 8 and the index held unchanged at 98.6 per cent of the 1926 level, the same as in the week ended April 25, just before the general maximum price regulation was issued. The index was 10 points higher than at the corresponding time last year.

Food trade association officials in Chicago said yesterday higher retail prices on canned fruits, vegetables, and preserves, and on most meats and meat products can be expected shortly. They predicted canned goods prices would average at least 6 per cent higher than now permitted under present price ceilings.

They based their predictions on the statement of Price Administrator Leon Henderson that widespread adjustments in food prices will be authorized for retailers and wholesalers by mid-September. Henderson said the "adjustments may boost the nation's food bill about 1½ per cent."

Canning Costs Higher.

The food trade spokesmen said that approximately 70 per cent of the food items found in the retail grocery store come under federal pricing regulations that prohibit their sale above the highest level at which they were sold during March. Of these controled items, about 15 to 25 per cent is canned fruits and vegetables.

The food men said that labor costs for canning fruits and vegetables average about 8 per cent higher than during the period on which canners' price ceilings are based. Raw material costs have gone up 10 per cent, they said.

They assert that the wholesaler or the retailer cannot be expected to absorb these increased processing costs and must pass on to the consumer at least part of them. As stated previously, the food men believe the general average of canned fruits and vegetables at retail must be raised around 6 per cent.

Meat Rise Predicted.

Retail meat prices cannot be maintained much longer at present levels, they declared, because of the substantial rise in live stock costs. Hogs are selling for the highest prices since 1920, and beef is averaging the highest since July, 1929. The average cost to the meat processor is reported considerably more than at the time the price ceilings went into effect.

The trade association executives believe that increases in canned fruit and meat prices will account for most of the 1½ per cent average rise federal price officials may permit in general food costs.

Meanwhile, until adjustments in canned goods prices are made, the food men look for many stores to have empty shelves where normally canned asparagus, peas, corn, peaches, beans, tomatoes, and all the numerous commodities put in cans normally are stocked. They say it is impossible in some cases and uneconomical in others for the retailer to make replacement purchases of canned food products.

Federal Orders in Conflict.

As a result, conditions in the canned goods industry are reported as chaotic. The government has reserved anywhere from 14 to 44 per cent of the various food packs. The prices it will pay, the prices at which the processor may sell his product into normal distributing channels, and the prices the wholesaler may get is anybody's guess, according to the food experts.

Lack of coöperation between the department of agriculture and the OPA, they declared, adds to the confusion surrounding the food packers. They observed that one government agency issues an order and the other issues another that makes fulfilment of the original most difficult.

And while the price control agency permits another step to be taken toward price inflation by raising ceiling levels, the rise in uncontroled farm products prices continues unabated. Potatoes, fresh fruits and vegetables, poultry, butter and eggs are at the highest late summer levels in years. Food dealers say that almost daily new advances in one or more of these items are recorded.

NEW BUTTER RISE CARRIES PRICES TO 12 YEAR PEAK

Butter prices rose again yesterday, climbing as much as 1 cent a pound in the wholesale market and almost ½ cent in futures trading on the Chicago Mercantile exchange. Top qualities sold at wholesale at 41 to 41¾ cents. Futures closed 0.35 to 0.45 cent higher, with the November delivery at 41.85 cents. Prices are the highest since December, 1929, at wholesale and since 1930 in the futures market.

With production declining and expanding consumption already at record levels, the rise in butter futures has been the sharpest between late June and early August in six years. The wholesale advance has been without parallel since 1936.

Egg futures closed 0.05 to 0.10 cent higher in active trading, the October delivery ending at 35.7 cents a dozen. Wholesale egg prices maintained their 13 year peaks.

Wickard Cool to Live Stock Price Ceilings

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard today indicated disapproval of Price Administrator Leon Henderson's proposal to impose price ceilings on all live stock.

Under terms of the price control law, Wickard's approval is required before Henderson can do any tinkering with prices on unprocessed agricultural products. At his press conference this afternoon Wickard left little doubt about his feelings on the matter.

The secretary admitted that Henderson had inquired about imposition of ceiling prices on live stock, but that he had not presented any definite plans. When and if such concrete plans are forwarded to the agriculture department, he will study them carefully, Wickard said.

Controls Termed Complicated.

Ceilings on live stock prices would require complicated controls of marketing conditions, possibly including allocation among packers and regulation of sales by cattle growers, said Wickard. He added that such controls might entail stationing of inspectors at marketing centers and even at individual farms.

The OPA argued that price ceilings on live stock would relieve the current meat shortage because it would eliminate the tendency for farmers to hold their beef, pork, and lamb off the market in anticipation of higher prices.

To this Wickard replied that live stock price ceilings would benefit small packers more than any one else and would not increase meat supplies.

Hints Rationing Possible.

Wickard asserted, however, that the available supplies—in addition to lend-lease and military requirements—will be sufficient to furnish four pounds more meat per person between now and June, 1943, than the average per capita consumption of 131 pounds a year from 1931 thru 1940. Consumption in 1941, however, was 142 pounds per person.

HOGS AT 22 YEAR HIGH

Hog prices soared to new 22 year peaks at the Chicago stockyards yesterday in the wake of an appeal by an organized group of small packers to President Roosevelt for a ceiling on live animals to save them from "ruin."

The various classes of hogs rose 10 to 25 cents per hundredweight in an erratic market. Best kinds jumped 15 cents to $15.25, the highest price since October, 1920. Only in four years on record—1917 thru 1920—has this price been exceeded. The average for the day moved up 10 cents to $14.60.

CHICAGO STORES SHOW BIG SALES GAINS IN WEEK

Sales by department stores in the 7th [Chicago] federal reserve district during the week ended Aug. 8 rose 13 per cent over those of the preceding week, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago reported yesterday. Chicago sales were 20 per cent higher.

The deadline from sales of a year ago, however, continued with dollar volume for the district as a whole 2 per cent below the corresponding week of 1941 and Chicago sales 5 per cent lower. Sales at this time last year were rising steeply because of a buying rush for silk hosiery and high-priced durable goods.

The Federal Reserve board estimated that sales thruout the country averaged 5 per cent less than in the corresponding week last year.

Chicago Leads Insurance Agents' War Bond Sales

New York, Aug. 13 (AP).—A nationwide campaign by life insurance agents resulted in sales and pledges of 1 billion 26 million dollars of war savings bonds up to July 31, the National Association of Life Underwriters announced today. The bulk of sales was made thru pay roll deduction plans. Chicago agents obtained the greatest proportionate amount of pledges, the report said.

116 Associated Gas Utilities Ordered Sold

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 13 (AP).—In a step toward breaking up the vast Associated Gas and Electric corporation system, the Securities and Exchange commission today ordered the corporation trustees to dispose of 116 utilities in 24 states and the Philippine Islands.

The subsidiaries [two of which are in Illinois] lie outside four separe integrated utility systems which the trustees already have proposed to carve from the present large system. The trustees have admitted, the SEC said, that 116 utilities are not retainable by any of these four systems under the geographical integration provision of the holding company act.

Rejects Clarke Motion.

At the same time the SEC brushed aside a motion by Stanley Clarke, trustee for the Associated Gas and Electric company, a sub holding company, and a memorandum from a security holders committee that the commission issue no divestiture order until enactment of pending tax legislation.

The order is the first divestiture order against the system which was built by Howard C. Hopson and which collapsed in 1938. It has been in reorganization in federal courts under the bankruptcy act with Denis J. Driscoll and Willard L. Thorp as trustees. Hopson is serving a five year federal term for mail fraud in connection with corporation stock deals.

4 System Plan Not Approved.

The commission emphasized that nothing in the order should be construed as indicating approval of the four proposed systems, which have been designated as New York-northern Pennsylvania group, eastern Pennsylvania-New Jersey group, western Pennsylvania group, and the Florida-Georgia group.

Jurisdiction was reserved by the SEC over certain companies now in the process of being changed. These companies include Dover Casualty Insurance company, Atlantic Utility Service corporation, Employés Welfare Association, Inc., [Delaware], Employés Welfare association [New Jersey], Utilities Employés Securities company, and Associated General Utilities company.

PROPOSED BOOST IN GASOLINE TAX TERMED UNJUST

A proposed 3 cent a gallon federal tax increase on gasoline would place a severe strain on the majority of motor carriers, Walter E. McCarron, general manager of the Illinois Motor Truck Operators' association, said yesterday.

Asserting that total operating revenues of class 1 motor carriers for the first three months of this year were almost halved, compared with the corresponding 1941 period, by higher labor, maintenance, and operating costs, he said the increase would be an injustice because taxes now make up nearly 50 per cent of the retail price of gasoline.

"A tax increase on gasoline would, in the face of present conditions in the industry, probably force many operators into bankruptcy at a time when their facilities are direly needed by the nation," he said.

WPB NAMES MASONITE HEAD TO HELP SPREAD SCANT LUMBER STOCK

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13 (AP).—The WPB described shortages of lumber supplies as "critical" today, disclosing that the total military and essential civilian lumber requirements this year would run some 6 billion board feet beyond anticipated production.

Ben Alexander.

WPB appointed Ben Alexander of Lake Forest, Ill., president of the Masonite corporation, Chicago, to work closely with all WPB agencies handling lumber supply matters. Alexander also was ordered to coöperate with the armed services, the maritime commission, the war man power commission, the Office of Price administration, and other government agencies to insure that essential lumber requirements are filled.

WPB said the lumber situation had grown more serious recently because of problems of labor supply and as a result of increasing demands for wood as a metal substitute.

ILLINOIS' JULY OIL DRILLING AT SIX MONTH PEAK

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 13 (AP).—Oil drilling activity reached a six month peak in Illinois during July with 119 producing wells completed. Production rose to 8,506,000 barrels from June's 8,429,000 barrels.

In the five weeks covered by the July report new pools were opened in Washington, Jefferson, and Richland counties. The Carmi pool in White county was revived by new drillings. Wells completed numbered 223, of which 119 were producers. Eleven of the producers were wildcats.

The monthly report of the state geological survey showed 239 additional drilling operations in progress on Aug. 4. On the same date the "new" downstate fields had 11,100 producing wells in operation, of which 610 were completed this year.

Total Illinois oil production for the first seven months of 1942 was estimated at 66,420,000 barrels compared with 71,808,000 a year earlier.

BANK CLEARINGS UP 15½ PER CENT FROM YEAR AGO

New York, Aug. 13 (AP).—Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., today reported bank clearings during the last week were slightly under those of the previous week, but 15.5 per cent above the comparable 1941 period. For 23 large cities the agency reported an aggregate volume of $6,639,607,000, or 3.4 per cent less than in the week ended Aug. 5.

Transactions at New York were up 18.3 per cent from a year ago at $3,603,550,000. Chicago clearings at $380,700,000 were nine-tenths of 1 per cent ahead of last year's figures.

Crop Insurance Branches Closed in Economy Move

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13 (AP).—The Federal Crop Insurance corporation announced today it was closing branch offices in Minneapolis, Minn., Spokane, Wash., and Kansas City, Mo., in order to effect administrative economies. A new office will be opened in Denver, Colo., to serve all states west of the Mississippi river except Missouri, Arkansas, Iowa, and Minnesota. The Chicago divisional office has been assigned Minnesota, Iowa, and Wisconsin, as well as all states east of the Mississippi river, and Arkansas and Missouri formerly served by the Kansas City office.

People and Events

Roy L. Mitchell, formerly superintendent of flight operations for American Air Lines, Inc., has been named director of the company's military operations section recently created within the operations department, Hugh L. Smith, vice president of operations, announced yesterday. He said the new section was created as a result of increased military activity under the direction of the Air Transport command.

W. A. Patterson, Chicago, president of United Air Lines, was named a director of the Air Transport Association of America at the annual meeting in Washington, D. C.

Whiting corporation, Harvey, Ill., announced the election of H. W. Anderson as vice president of the aviation division and M. J. Rice as vice president of the Quickwork-Whiting division.

Henry C. Lytton, dean of Chicago merchants and founder of the Hub, will get a belated birthday present. When he was 96 years old on July 13 he became eligible to receive payment on a small life insurance policy with the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company. The policy was of the type payable at death, but payment is made to the policyholder when the insured reaches the age of 96. Actuarial tables disclose that few obtain such insurance payments.

Henry C. Lytton.

Twenty-five prominent food jobbers and manufacturers from eastern cities will arrive in Chicago this morning on a trip to investigate midwestern sources of supply for foreign types of cheese. A. Castigliano, cheese company executive, will be host to the group on a week's tour of factories.

Crane Profits Drop Sharply Tho Sales Gain

The Crane company, Chicago plumbing and heating apparatus manufacturers, yesterday reported that higher taxes and reserves for contingencies halved its profit for the 12 months ended June 30, wiping out gains resulting from a 46 per cent expansion in sales volume.

Net income was $3,603,572, equivalent to $1.12 a share, compared with $6,907,457, or $2.53 a share for the preceding 12 months.

Taxes for the first half of this year were computed on rates proposed in the pending tax measure. At the close of 1941 the company created a reserve of 4 million dollars for contingencies.

Sales Upturn Is Large.

Sales amounted to $160,123,628, compared with $109,934,974 a year earlier. The sales also gained 16 per cent from the volume reported for the year ended last December 31.

Profit of the Rudolph Wurlitzer company, Chicago, musical instrument manufacturer, sank to $58,280, or 9 cents a common share, for the quarter ended June 30, from year ago figures of $220,664, or 48 cents a share, after preferred dividend requirements.

The Square D company, Detroit, electrical equipment maker, reported half year net income of $767,321, or $1.71 a share, compared with $1,397,346, or $3.19 a share, for the first six months last year.

DEALER CAPITAL PLAN OPPOSED BY SMALL FIRMS

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 13 (AP).—A proposed minimum capital requirement for membership in the National Association of Securities Dealers threatens the existence of small security houses, groups of New York and New Jersey security dealers contended today in opposing the measure.

Frank Dunne, president of the New York Security Dealers' association, declared at a public hearing before the Securities and Exchange commission that "small houses did not dare to vote against it for fear of reprisal."

"It is thought," Dunne said, "that the association [NASD] is dominated by large houses whose objective may be to secure permanently thir hold on the whole industry."

The proposed requirement is a minimum net capital of $5,000 for dealers who transact their own business and $2,500 for dealers who transact thru others.

SUGAR SUPPLIES AMPLE TO LATE IN '43, SAYS OPA

Basic Ration Likely to Be Continued.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13 (AP).—Consumers may expect at least as much sugar in the first nine months of 1943 as the present basic rations, the Office of Price administration said today, "provided the shipping outlook does not take a radical turn for the worse." The basic ration for household consumers is eight ounces a week, and 70 per cent of 1941 use for industrial users.

Ration allowances for the remainder of the year, the OPA said, are being gauged to provide a supply of at least 2,300,000 tons of sugar next Jan. 1.

More Bonuses Possible.

Harold B. Rowe, chief of the OPA food rationing division, under whose direction the report was prepared, said that if the shipping situation "turns out to be better than we now have the right to expect, or if the distribution is less than expected," any excess sugar can be distributed as a bonus allowance to consumers.

Rowe estimated that in order to maintain the minimum ration thru the first nine months of 1943 the distribution of 4,173,000 tons of sugar would be required, but that an additional 830,000 tons must be kept in reserve to insure an adequate supply in all sections of the country.

It appeared unlikely, Rowe said, that receipts from Carribbean sources of supply would execeed a rate equal to the quota established by the interdepartmental shipping priorities committee for the period June 1 to Dec. 31 of this year, which totaled 1,742,000 tons from Cuba, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, and other sources.

Hawaii a Major Source.

This rate of import, Rowe said, would provide 2,240,000 tons during the first nine months of 1943, with these other anticipated supplies: Hawaii, 600,000 tons; United States beet sugar crop in early 1943, 200,000 tons.

"These receipts aggregate 3,040,000 tons," Rowe said, "and since the total need for the nine months' distribution is 5 million tons, we must go into the new year with at least 1,960,000 tons of sugar on hand."

He added, however, that since this rate of receipts was not certain, a further reserve was desirable. He called a year end stock of 2,300,000 tons "a reasonable compromise" between actual danger of shortage, and an excessive use of warehouse space.

TAP BOND ISSUE OFFERING WILL END TOMORROW

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1 (AP).—The current treasury sale of "tap" bonds will close Saturday night. The treasury has been filling subscriptions for these bonds, which are 2½ per cent 20 to 25 year maturities, since the morning of Aug. 3. Sales have exceeded a billion dollars.

Unlike other securities which are sold only in specific amounts, the tap bonds are sold in whatever amount requested by eligible purchasers prior to the closing date.

MEXICO REQUISITIONS MOST U. S. CURRENCY, BUT EXEMPTS $2 BILL

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13 (AP).—The treasury announced today that Mexico has agreed to call in all United States currency in that country except $2 bills, "to prevent use being made of Mexico as a place in which axis agents may dispose of dollar currency looted abroad." Coins also are exempted.

Persons who turn in currency will be investigated. If they are what the treasury described as "free from axis taint" the Mexican banks will reimburse them with an equivalent amount of Mexican money.

The statement said persons failing to turn in currency "would be treated as enemies of Mexico within the meaning of the Mexican laws dealing with trading with the enemy and enemy property."

Two dollar bills were exempted because a large number of them are used in cross-the-border business and also because the treasury said it has reason to believe that few bills of this denomination have fallen into axis hands.

CAN YOU HANDLE ONE OF THESE NEW JOBS?

Scores of new jobs are being offered in the Tribune's Help Wanted columns today. Can you handle them? You are far more likely to find the job you want when you read the Tribune because the Tribune prints more than twice as much Help Wanted and Employment Agency advertising as all other Chicago newspapers combined. Turn to the want ad section and the Help Wanted columns now.

OPA Exempts 25 Services from Ceilings

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13 (AP).—The government took the lid off the price of shoe shines today.

Further, beginning next Wednesday, the jeweler who fixes your watch can charge just as much as the traffic will bear—and Price Administrator Leon Henderson won't have a word to say about it.

If you board dogs or do horseshoeing or make a specialty of getting rid of termites, price ceilings are off too.

These were among 25 minor services specifically exempted by the Office of Price Administration today on the ground that they had "little relation to the cost of living."

Revise Rules for Others.

In addition to announcing the exemptions, OPA issued revised regulations controling the price of 61 important groups of services, ranging from domestic laundries to stevedoring, which annually cost the nation about 5 billion dollars.

Among the more important services covered by the new regulations are repair and rental of automobiles, bicycles, business machinery, store and kitchen equipment; development and printing of photographs; such consumer services as shoe repairing, dry cleaning, hat blocking and cleaning, picture framing, repairs to radios and knife sharpening; such agricultural services as repair of farm machinery, commission selling, grinding, mixing, bagging, fumigating and sampling of grain on a custom basis; and such industrial services as car loading, rental of transportation equipment, sand-blasting and steam cleaning of buildings, and services of custom house brokers.

All of the 61 services formerly were controled by specific service price ceilings, or by the general maximum price regulation prescribing use of the highest prices charged in March, 1942.

Ceiling Base Still March.

The revised regulation requires firms offering the 61 services to fix their rates by using the same pricing methods they used in March. If no pricing method used in that month fits the service now offered, the sellers must determine a maximum price by using the highest price charged or the highest offering price for the same service supplied in March, or the highest for a similar service supplied.

If none of these is applicable, the seller is permitted to establish his price according to those charged by competitors, or use the same pricing method which he used in supplying any other service last March. In the latter instance, OPA must approve the price finally established.

At the same time, Henderson disclosed that price regulations were being drafted covering certain forms of printing, and services involved in the repair, construction and maintenance of buildings.

REPORT ANNUITY CONTRACTS PASS 2 MILLION MARK

The Institute of Life Insurance reported yesterday that the number of annuity contracts passed the two million mark for the first time in 1941, with a total of $663,500,000 in annual income represented by 2,016,600 contracts.

The institute said that annuities are being purchased in increasing volume on an annual payment basis in contrast to the prevalent practice in the past of a single lump payment. A total of 109,400 contracts is fully paid, with income of $51,500,000 to begin in the future, while premiums are being paid on 490,300 individual contracts, representing future income of $294,800,000.

WPB SAYS ARMY PLANS TO DEFER COPPER MINERS

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13 (AP).—The WPB reported today that Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of selective service, intended to have deferred from military service all persons engaged in copper mining "who are found by local boards to be essential to copper production."

Domestic production in July could have been 5,000 tons higher if sufficient labor had been available, the WPB said.

Members of the copper industry advisory board told Harry O. King, chief of the WPB copper branch, that selective service had taken as high as 20 per cent of the labor force in some mines.

WORKERS JOIN JOSLYN BATTLE ON PENSION TAX

Ask Change in New Revenue Bill.

BY LELAND FORRESTER.

A thousand employés with a stake in one of the most widely known profit sharing plans in Chicagoland industry—that of the Joslyn Manufacturing and Supply company—yesterday entered the spreading fight for a revision of certain provisions of the pending tax bill. Following up a similar protest filed by the company, the employés, it was learned, have signed petitions which will be submitted to the senate finance committee in Washington, D. C., asking removal of the proposed limit on the amount which a company may contribute tax free to a profit sharing and pension fund. The limit would be 5 per cent of the compensation of employés eligible for participation in the fund.

Meanwhile industrial companies and banks were attempting to determine how their individual profit sharing or pension systems would be affected by the bill.

Expect Some Revision.

Inquiry disclosed a widespread belief among business officials that the sections of the bill against which much opposition has developed will be eliminated or tempered by the senate when it acts on the pending house bill. The senate committee appointed a special subcommittee to study industry's objections after the full committee heard tesimony July 31.

The Joslyn company, maker of telephone line equipment and other products, has had its employés profit sharing and saving fund in effect since 1919. In normal times its contribution to the fund—from 10 to 12½ per cent of net earnings—has ranged as high as 20 per cent of the employés' wages or salaries. Employés contribute 5 per cent of their pay to the fund, and the company's contribution is limited to four times an employé's contribution. The employé does not receive his share of the fund until he reaches the age of 60. In 1939 a warehouse employé retired and received a pension fund "nest egg" of $31,300.

Held Curb on Incentive.

One of the objections which business executives have raised against the 5 per cent tax free limit on company contributions is that it would curb employé incentive.

Several executives expressed that view yesterday, declaring that if employés know the tax bill provisions are going to restrict contributions by the company, they will not see any point in giving to their work the extra devotion that helps increase company earnings.

An official of Sears, Roebuck & Co. said that such a curb on incentive would be the principal unfavorable effect which the proposed bill would have on Sears' profit sharing plan. Last year Sears gave 7½ per cent of operating earnings [before taxes and dividends] to the plan. Most of the Sears' employés who have been with the company a year participate.

Banks Have Joint Plan.

Banks reported that employé participation in their pension systems is extensive—ranging mostly between 90 and 100 per cent. In some banks participation is compulsory for all regular employés.

Harry Hausman, secretary of the Illinois Bankers' association, said that about five years ago the association started a pension plan for officers and employés of banks too small to join group plans offered by insurance companies. Under the association's plan, any member bank can buy annuities for its employés and officers thru the association sponsored Illinois Bankers' Foundation, from an insurance company. The employé contributes 5 per cent of his pay, and the bank a similar amount. Hausman said the pending bill would not affect the plan, except possibly to discourage purchase of annuities covering past services.

WPB Lifts Restrictions on Civilian Use of Mohair

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13 (AP).—The WPB today authorized unrestricted civilian use of mohair, the hair of the Angora goat and of orange mineral [lead oxide] in printing inks.

WHISKY PLANTS TO SUPPLY MUCH RUBBER ALCOHOL

Nation's Store of Liquor Reported Large.

Whisky distilleries, which are being converted rapidly to war production, will provide alcohol for one-fifth of the nation's synthetic rubber quota, W. L. Lyons Brown, vice president of Brown-Forman Distillers corporation of Louisville, said yesterday.

The industry's changeover will be accomplished early this fall, he said, and its entire resources will be devoted to the manufacture of alcohol for war uses.

Alcohol Widely Used.

In addition to the allotment for synthetic rubber, he said, distillers' grain alcohol will be used in the manufacture of smokeless powder, military antitoxins, medicines, pharmaceuticals, explosive stabilizers, anti-freeze fluid, plastics, detonating agents, de-icing fluids for aircraft, and other war essentials.

Brown argued the importance of grain alcohol in the synthetic rubber program, asserting that it costs less to build a synthetic rubber plant using grain alcohol than one using petroleum. Grain alcohol plants, he said, can be built in less than six months.

No Whisky Shortage Expected.

Discussing the whisky supply outlook, Brown said there is no likelihood of any immediate shortage because it takes four or more years for good whisky to reach maturity.

"Our problem right now, of course, is one of making present inventories last not only for the duration, but over the period until whisky can again be made and aged properly before being marketed. At present we have the largest whisky inventory in our corporation's 72 year history," he said.

DUQUESNE LIGHT 3½S.

Please give me what information you have on Duquesne Light company 3½ per cent first mortgage bonds. Is this company a subsidiary of another company?—T. L.

Answer: Duquesne Light company 3½ per cent first mortgage bonds are outstanding in the amount of 70 million dollars and were issued under a refunding program in June, 1935. The company is located in Pittsburgh, Pa.

The bonds are secured by a first mortgage lien on all company owned fixed property. The issue is not secured by a lien on property operated as a part of the company's system under lease from the Monongahela Light and Power company, but the company's interest in the lease is subject to lien.

The 3½s are redeemable at the option of the company, as a whole or in part, at any time on 60 days' notice currently at 104½ and interest, and at decreasing premiums in subsequent years. The bonds are listed on the New York Stock exchange. Interest payments have been met regularly.

PRICE RANGE.

Answer: The stock ranged from 11 to 16½ last year on the New York Stock exchange.

ELECTROLUX.

What is the capitalization of Electrolux corporation of New York? Is the company now producing war materials?—J. S.

Answer: Sole capitalization of Electrolux corporation at the end of 1941 was 1,237,500 shares of $1 par capital stock outstanding. Company facilities were increased and new equipment installed last year for the manufacture of war materials.

DAY by DAY on the FARM by BEN MARKLAND

Weaning Time on Farm.

Aug. 13, 1942.

THE new flockmaster on the Wheaton farm has two weaning operations on his daily schedule these days. One is to separate the spring lambs from their ewes. The other involves 68 ducks which have to be convinced that the farm ponds provide better waterfowl quarters than the barnyard.

The ducks [56 mallards and 12 Muscovys] had to be put in jail to prevent them from overruling the flockmaster's orders that they were to be weaned away from the barnyard. They have been well satisfied with their living quarters and their meals, and as far as they're concerned the pond could offer no improvements. Like pigeons, ducks will stay any place where they are assured of sufficient feed.

Stick Close to Food.

Knowing that previous generations of barnyard mallards and Muscovys made return hikes to their old homestead instead of staying on the pond in the woods, this time the men incarcerated the ducks in the swan quarters for a day and made sure there was plenty of grain food for them. The next day they let them out of their jail, but kept them penned in a small area on the shore of the pond. After two days of abundant feasts in this yard, the ducks were ready for release on the pond.

The weaning of the lambs was not so complicated as the process required for the ducks, but it certainly was noisier. When we sat on the barnyard fence and looked thru the big sheepbarn door we almost needed a pair of earmuffs to block out the din made by the bawling ewes. Then lambs, now quartered in a separate part of the barn, were being herded out to an adjoining field to graze, and when the ewes saw their offspring leaving the barn they put on the best concert of wailing and moaning heard on the farm this season.

The only other barnyard development this week involved the turkeys. This spring the turkey eggs were gathered and sent to a hatchery, and when the poults were brought to the farm they were placed in the wire pen. Now almost full grown, their feet never had touched ground until their release in the barnyard this week.

Turkeys Learn Rapidly.

It didn't take the turkeys long to discover that there are other foods besides ground corn and turkey mash. They hadn't been in the yard an hour until they started pecking away at the turf and grabbing an occasional insect. Now that they are getting some natural foods the flockmaster gradually is cutting down their ration of grain. The flock has been getting around 35 pounds of grain and mash each day, and that quota already has been cut to 20 pounds.

AIRCRAFT

This shop training plant has enrolled 3,323 men so far this year. Why?

BECAUSE

[2] Our step-by-step course prepares our students in 8 weeks' time.
[3] Our graduates are in demand and are receiving top pay in the jobs we have secured for them.
[4] Our graduates are employed by every large aircraft plant in the U. S.
[5] We cannot fill the demand for our graduates.

Day or Evening Training

More than 1,000 students now being trained in our modern, splendidly equipped training shops, the largest of their kind in this country.

Call, write or phone for free questionnaire to determine your qualifications for this training. No obligation.

of Getting YOUR LOAN
from 'PERSONAL'

1. Loans made to employed men and women whether single or married.
2. Business women and those working in defense plants borrow here "on your own."
3. A special plan provides loans for defense workers and others on a new job or who have just moved into the community.
4. Between pay day loans for small amounts and short periods made as readily as other loans.
5. Loans made for purchase of tools, uniforms, car or home repairs, medical or dental attention, payment of old bills, etc.
6. Your account here establishes NATION-WIDE Cash Credit at any of more than 400 "Personal" offices.
7. Monthly payments arranged that you can comfortably afford.
8. Complete privacy. Loans made on signature, furniture, or auto. No wage assignments. Outsiders not involved.
9. Friendly considerate service. No waiting for a "Board" or committee to pass on your loan.

"We don't believe that folks should borrow unless a loan is the best solution to their problem. If it is, we want to serve them."

SMILIN' JACK—LET YOUR CONSCIENCE BE YOUR GUIDE
SWEET DREAMS—WE HAVE FINGER-PRINTS THAT PROVED YOU TRIED TO KILL JACK ONCE-- YOU'RE THE RAT THAT KILLED BROTHERLY AT MY DESK THINKING IT WAS ME, AREN'T YOU?
YOU WANTED TO BUMP ME OFF BECAUSE I EXPOSED YOUR COTTON DUSTIN' RACKET, DIDN'T YOU?
I WON'T TALK!
IT'S NO USE! WE'VE ABSOLUTELY NOTHING TO PROVE HE MURDERED BROTHERLY--
SAY! YOU HAVE AN AUTOMATIC PHONOGRAPH THAT CAN KEEP PLAYIN' TH' SAME RECORD OVER AND OVER--
HEY! WHAT ARE YOU BIRDS GONNA DO TO ME?
NOTHING! WE'RE GONNA LEAVE YOU ALONE--WE WANT YOUR CONSCIENCE TO GET ACQUAINTED WITH THIS FUNERAL MARCH THAT WON'T STOP PLAYING--
